The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2184, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred ninety-four) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," as amended, by changing certain routes and adding certain new routes.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, during this session there have been three important events for the Republican party of Pennsylvania. The first was when the gentleman from Pike County won in Pike County in a special election; the second was when the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Winner, overwhelmingly defeated the Democratic candidate, and last and third is when through the efforts of the gentleman from Montgomery, Johnnie Longaker, the gentleman from Schuylkill County, Mr. Linderman, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds and the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Bernhard sent the Democrats down to a humiliating and disastrous defeat, and if ever I was proud of the Republican members of the House, it was today as I watched them lick you Democrats.

I want to close by saying that we will lick you at golf, we will lick you at basketball or any other game you want to play.

STATEMENT BY MR. HALUSKA

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, I am surely happy to hear that the Republicans are once more happy. We gave them plenty of breaks. I have been informed by one of our clerks that he got a nice piece of cash for the umpiring that he did. I hope they are happy now, because this coming fall there will be a reverse.

STATEMENT BY MR. DENT

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I only want to call the attention of the so-called humiliated Democrats that we lost this afternoon through an error and I am pretty sure that is the way they won the other two times.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. SOWERS. RESOLUTION No. 156.

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1935.

A resolution providing for a method to advise the House of Representatives as to public sentiment on the question of financing Government functions by a State Lottery.

Whereas taxation has become extremely burdensome and new sources of taxation are almost impossible to find, and

Whereas taxation on real estate for school and general purposes has become intolerable, and

Whereas unusual methods must be used to raise the money needed to finance the ever increasing [illegible] of Government, such as Blind Pensions,

Rehabilitation,
Mothers Assistance,
Old Age Assistance,
Disability Assistance,
Funeral Assistance,
Unemployment Assistance, etc., and

Whereas the expense of maintaining the aforesaid Governmental functions should have a broad base, and

Whereas it is the duty of all of the recipients of the bounties of all such Governmental functions to participate in the burden of their maintainance according to their best ability, and

Whereas one of the unusual but profitable methods of raising money to finance Governmental activities is that of a State Lottery,

Whereas the use of this method seems to be controversial by reason of the aggressiveness of what is generally supposed to be a small minority of the people, and

Whereas the assembled Representatives of the people are in doubt as to the opinion of the public generally, and it is only right and proper that they should be devised as to the true sentiment of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives assembled that the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee appoint a sub-committee of five members of that Committee an advisory election in twenty-five of the Representative election districts of the State, which districts are to be chosen by lot, by the said Chairman, by means of mailing a postal card and a reply card to the duly qualified electors of said Districts appearing upon the registry of poll books of said Districts for the November election of 1934, and authorizing such sub-committee to adopt a method for the mailing and the counting and tabulating of the return cards, and reporting results to the House as soon as possible, and an item for the expense of conducting such advisory election shall be included in the general appropriation bill.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker I ask unanimous consent to call up at this time House Bill No. 1418, Printer's No. 1154 on page 17 of to-day's calendar, bills on second reading.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the calling up of the bill at this time. Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Section 7 The Department of Highways the Water and Power Resources Board and the Board of Fish Commissioners shall have power to acquire by gift or lease suitable lands for slack water dams to be constructed under the provisions of this act to conserve the water supply of the State and to provide recreational and fishing areas

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this is a perfectly good bill and I am confident that all of the members in the House want to vote for it, but the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Furman, has asked me to place it on the postponed calendar to give him time to study it. I don't know whether five days will be enough time to study, but I so move.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1772, Printer's No. 930, on page 21 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed..

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. BLUMBERG.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1772, entitled:

An Act to amend sections ten twelve fifteen and eighteen of and to add section thirteen to the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred thirty-seven) entitled "An act affecting marital relations prescribing grounds and regulating proceedings for divorce and the annulment of bigamous marriages and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" prescribing additional grounds for divorce and providing for the annulment of additional void marriages requiring the court to appoint a committee for insane respondents and providing that children born after a supposed marriage shall be deemed to be born in wedlock even though the marriage is annulled.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I rise to oppose the passage of this bill for one very good fundamental reason. This bill provides additional grounds for divorce in Pennsylvania, and if you look over the bill, you will find every present ground for divorce requires some fault or delinquency on the part of the respondent or the defendant. Now, the ground for divorce which the sponsor of this bill would add to the Pennsylvania law is highly argumentative. The very words that the gentleman uses in this proposed ground will move you to tears if dwelt on long enough. The ground is where the respondent is hopelessly and incurably insane. Now, if this bill became a law that would be the only grounds for divorce which does not require fault upon the part of the person from whom the divorce is obtained. Now, it might be argued that this bill takes care of some cases which are very sad, for which the present law provides no relief, and I can very easily see that the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of this bill, can recite cases to you which might very easily move you to support this bill, but I say the recitation of those cases is no stronger than an argument that would remove from the grammar school curriculum the rules of multiplication just because a few students find it hard to comprehend them. I have heard bills described as fallacious, I have heard used the editorial iniquitous, but my objection to this bill without any embellishment is that it s just plain cruel, and I ask you gentlemen to vote "no."

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while it was extremely difficult in this sector to hear the remarks of my most distinguished and intelligent colleague from Philadelphia, I gathered that his sole argument was that if hopeless and incurable insanity were added as a ground for divorce in the divorce code of Pennsylvania, that that would be the only ground that did not require fault upon the part of the respondent.

Now, my intelligent colleague is in error. If he will read the bill, he will notice that at the present time, under the law, the first cause is, under 1-A, that "at the time of the contract was and still is naturally and incurably impotent or incapable of procreation."

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the cause which I propose may be a deficiency of the intellect, while the cause which is now in the act is a deficiency of the physical body; neither requires fault on the part of the respondent and the effects of both are equally cruel upon the part of the spouse who can find no redress under the law. The question of insanity with regard to marriage has arisen an untold number of times in the courts and uniformly the court has granted redress where the sole question involved was property rights, but unfortunately on account of the law has been unable to grant redress in cases which are much more important to the litigant, to wit: his personal life. The Court has commonly said that marriage based on insanity was void at inception and property rights therefore will not suffer. The Courts have said repeatedly in a number of cases that they are powerless, under the present state of the law, to grant personal relief.

I do not have any intention of attempting to move the House to tears as my esteemed colleague said, by recounting to you the numerous cases of hardship and untold misery that spouses suffer as the result of failing to get present relief under the law

This to me is a step in the right direction. It is in trend with modern thought. It is not an attempt to loosen the divorce laws of the state, but rather to supply a needed deficiency.

The act has adequate safeguards. It provides that before a divorce can be granted on this ground that the Court will appoint a committee to protect the rights of the respondent. It provides further for the payment of alimony for the balance of the life of the insane spouse, and a fund must be supplied to protect the insane spouse, and that this sum will be paid for the balance of his or her life.

It also makes a provision that if any children should be born of such marriage that such children would be considered legitimate.

For those reasons gentlemen of the House, I ask you to vote for the bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to elaborate perhaps on the objection which the sponsor of the bill directed at me. I apparently was not fundamental enough in stating my objection, since the gentleman stated tha I was inaccurate in that that would not be the only ground for divorce which would not require fault on the part of the respondent.

I thought that it was rather obvious that I was referring to a ground for divorce for conduct which arose or a condition which arose after the marriage was consummated. Of course, as the gentleman said, if the party to the marriage is insane at the time the marriage has been contracted, there is no marriage, so to restate my objection the proposed ground for divorce would be the only ground which arises out of conduct or out of a condition after the marriage is contracted, in which case no delinquency or fault on the part of the respondent is required.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I too wish to oppose House Bill No. 1772, because I don't believe there is any necessity at the present time or at any other time for making insanity a ground for divorce in the Commonwealth. I believe that when a marriage is entered into, that when nothing occurs on the part of either party during that marriage to make a divorce necessary, then we should not say that because during the course of that marriage one party happens to become insane, that they can become a public charge and that a divorce can be granted by a Judge. And so I ask the members of this House, both the Democratic and Republican members to say that a bill of this kind will not be passed in Pennsylvania, that a bill of this kind will not be passed in this House, and I ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE BILL NO. 1865 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1865, Printer's No. 611, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 171), entitled "An act providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers Orphans' Industrial School the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriations for such purpose as erection and equipment, of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriation for such purposes as erection and equipment, and the maintenance of the children admitted therein; placing the care of the same in the commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers Orphans' Industrial School and the Soldiers' Orphans Schools, extending the time for the discharge of children from said school.

which was recalled from the Governor and laid upon the table be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Section 2. That section eight of said act, as amended by the act approved the seventeenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and five (P. L. 44), is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 26, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears the second time in said line, the following: "Pennsylvania"

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 1, by striking out with light-faced brackets the word "Industrial"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. BERNARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that is before you now, House Bill No. 1865 was passed several weeks ago; it is the Soldiers' Orphans' Home Bill that I talked on. It was passed by this House and the Senate and placed in the hands of the Attorney General, who found certain flaws in it that made it necessary to have it brought back into this House, and corrected and that is all there is to it.

Commencement exercises at the school take place the first part of next month, and if this bill does not pass at this time the pupils will have to leave the Home at that time, whereas if the bill is passed now the pupils may remain for another year.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker. I move that this bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1044, Printer's No. 811, on page 40, of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. REYNOLDS.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1044, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Phamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-five) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties" granting licenses by the Board to certain persons having had at least ten years' practical experience as embalmer or undertake under certain conditions

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain its purpose.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you now is House Bill 1044, with my name as its sponsor.

When I originally sponsored this bill I had in mind to do away with educational examinations for undertakers. I have had a number of requests in my district, and they seem to feel that an undertaker should not require an educational test, that it didn't make much difference to a man who is dead whether the undertaker is a college graduate or not.

Since then I understand that the committee had a public hearing, without my knowledge, and the bill has been amended, which removes the purpose which I intended to clear up in this bill.

As it is now, he is required to have fifteen years of practical experience. That removes the object of the bill that I sponsored, as I have already stated.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Schwartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I shall be glad to accept the interrogation of my colleague from Philadelphia, under one condition, providing he does not in his interrogation ask me whether I am an undertaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pfaff, accept the condition?

Mr. PFAFF. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz believe that this bill will raise the standards of the undertaking business in the Commonwealth?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I should prefer that the gentleman from Philadelphia rather than interrogate me on the bill at the present time as it is before this House should ask to interrogate the gentlemen who amended the bill as it is before the House, because they know more about that than I do. I cannot recognize my own baby any more.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadlephia, Mr. Schwartz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, under the same conditions as I stated before, I will.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, go on record as saying that under the provisions of this bill it will not lower the educational requirements of the present law?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia want me to repeat the same answer that I made when he interrogated me and asked me that very same question that I already answered?

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I think the second interrogation has no relation to the first interrogation which I made.

Is it not a matter of fact that under the provisions of this bill it just temporarily suspends for a period of six months the educational requirements of the present law?

Mr. SCWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pfaff, that under the present bill as amended, it does do exactly what the gentleman from Philadelphia wants me to answer, but I have had nothing to do with those amendments.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that we should always support legislation that will raise the standard of any business or profession in this Commonwealth. I believe that if this bill is enacted into law it will lower the already high standards of the business of undertaking in this Commonwealth by suspending for a period of six months the educational requirements of the present law. This will permit certain persons to receive licenses for the business of undertaking in this Commonwealth who could not qualify under the educational requirements, and lower the safeguards to the life and health of the people of this Commonwealth which are provided in the present high class law. I believe that this bill deserves careful consideration of all the members of this House and in my humble opinion it is a step backward in legilsation and should be defeated.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been amended so that an undertaker or embalmer must have been in business fifteen years prior to this date, before he can come to the Board of Education or the Undertakers' Board and take a practical examination. The bill is only for a period of six months. There are a number of men who are capable, just as capable as the majority of undertakers are to conduct a funeral, and to perform embalming, but these men are kept out, because in their time it was not possible for them to take a four year high school course. I have in my time conducted probably five hundred funerals and I have never yet seen one instance where I or anyone else thought it necessary to be a four year high school graduate to conduct a funeral as an undertaker. A great many of them have never had this course.

I believe we should give them an opportunity.

I ask the House to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill which would suspend the educational requirements of the present law it would give the Board wide latitude in determining just what the practical experience would or should be.

I have high respect for the experience and for the judgment of legislation that may be beneficial to the people of this state by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, but in my humble opinion I still think it is a step backwards in legislation; it would permit certain persons to receive licenses for the business of undertaking that could not qualify under the present high standards of the law now in effect.

From the undertakers in my district and from the testimony given at the public hearing, I have heard no request by the undertakers of this state for the weakening of the present law.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this bill as designed now will allow any person who has worked for an undertaker, whether as a cab driver, dishwasher, porter, a cleaner of tools or anything else, to go before the State board.

I am very much surprised at my good friend from Berks saying that this bill would require a man to be in business ten years. If a man has been in business ten years, he has already a license and does not need to take an examination. You cannot be in the undertaking business in this State unless you have a license, and that is just what we want. We want qualified men to go into the undertaker business.

I have been here this session and have noticed that the barbers have asked that the qualifications be raised and we have raised them and today you must be a primary school graduate in order to go into the barber business. The plumbers came in and they wanted to raise their standard and we did it.

We also raised the standards of the real estate men. Today in the state of Pennsylvania the bar association have raised their qualifications so much that none but high class lawyers can get into the law business and that is what it should be.

Are we going to take a step backward and say to the people of the State of Pennsylvania, "You are getting too progressive and we are going to stop that," and are we going to say that we will take down the bars of the undertaking business—a professional business and say that anybody who has driven a car for ten years or a dishwater or a porter, for instance, can get a license.

I have followed this bill rather closely for the last three weeks, and I know that one of the main lobbyists here in connection with it was a man who has served a term in prison for practicing the undertaking business without a license. This is the type of man we want to keep out of the business.

I understand that there are a few undertakers' sons who during their younger years, when they should have been qualifying themselves, have been living a riotuous life and going about the country and did not qualify to have a high school education, they were caught and because they did not avail themselves of the opportunity, they come here now in the later part of their life and ask you to take down the bars of the undertaking profession and to give them a license for six months.

I claim that this is class legislation. If you are going to do it for six months, why not do it for all time. If you are going to let unqualified men come in for six why not open the doors for all time? If a man is qualified next month, he will be qualified in 1936.

I do not believe that a single member of this House can conscientiously say that this bill should be passed, We would take a step backward if we did so tonight, and after leaving this hall we should go and knock on the tomb of Thaddeus Stevens and say, "We are taking a step backward—a step that you tried not to take."

Nearly all the states have passed a similar law and have the same regulation, and because somebody in Berks county or somebody in Lackawanna county or in Philadelphia county or in some other county have a few men whose sons have not qualified should we take down the bars and let them in—those sons who have led a riotous life, who have not taken advantage of the opportunities for schooling offered to them.

I am not against any man in the undertaking business. I am an undertaker and I am proud of the fact, and I am proud of the fact that I have tried to raise the standards of the undertaking business or profession, and I would feel very badly if I had to go back to my constituents and say to them that the House of Representatives in 1935 were more backward than they were in 1931, and in 1895, when they passed a regulatory law that covers this particular business or profession.

I ask the fair-minded men in this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, if I understand this situation correctly there are in our State a number of people who have been working for licensed undertakers at a very humble wage. I sometimes wonder as the arguments are produced here just what we mean by an education. It does seem to me that when a man has fifteen years of practical experience, that the education simply ought to be the equal of any four year high school education, no matter where that high school be located.

If these men because of their previous positions under licensed undertakers did not feel that it was necessary for them to be licensed because of that practical experience, a real honest-to-God education, why not give them the privilege of going ahead and practicing the things they know? If they have fifteen years of practical experience, then what good is four year high school education going to be?

I wonder if we are not going to become so refined that we will need a screen much finer than there has ever ben made to bring about this added refinement in the matter.

I ask that you vote "no" on this bill to show that we are still on our feet and that we don't have our heads in the clouds.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call your attention to the provisions of this act on page two, line 18, which says, "Provided, however, that any person that has had at least ten years' continuous practical experience in the business or profession of undertaking or embalming prior to June 10, 1931—

Now, that says "practical experience in the business or profession of undertaking or embalming." I don't think that includes a cab driver or a man who cleans instruments. Furthermore, going to line 25, it says "And after having passed successfully a practical examination which the Board administered to all applicants."

Gentlemen, we have that same situation in men applying for the examination before becoming members of the bar, namely, a man is permitted to practice in a law office without ever having attended a law school, and if that man through his own ability is able to pass the examination which is administered to all applicants, he is entitled to practice before the courts of this Commonwealth and I think that any man who has engaged in practical experience in the business and can pass the examination that is required of all men, he is equally entitled to the benefits of our acts.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when the present high class law, high grade law, was enacted in the year 1931 there was a provision in there of six months, a period of grace to allow these various members or people that were working in the business of undertaking to receive a permit without qualifying under the high education requirement of the present law.

Now, we are again opening it up after a period of four years. If I understand the law, the high education requirements are really the backbone of the present law. It is designated specifically to safeguard the health and the life of the people of this Commonwealth, and we are merely again opening the door under the provisions of this bill. Those men who had this practical experience when this law was enated, had a period of six months to qualify under that particular law.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I fully agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, when he says that this is a step backward and I am surprized that an attorney, of all people, would stand up and argue that we should step back to the class of 1927 and lower the qualifications of the profession.

You know there has been a tendency in every line to raise the standards. I would like to point out just a couple of things,—it is not a personal matter at all. There is not a man in this district here who does not have somebody who might qualify under the act, but at the same time you want to bear in mind that you have a lot of licensed undertakers in this district who will not be satisfied with such legislation.

I would like to say that while there are some people in as my district, that there is also a lady in Philadelphia of the same name as mine that came to me for help as an attorney that I was unable to give, and yet I think we all would have a greater interest in a person having the same name as our own.

It is not a question that because a person is dead we we don't have to worry about it.

In 1927 an act was passed in this House and passed by the Senate and signed by the Governor, and carefully considered by all persons concerned and provided a period during which anyone could make application for a license. Under the existing law before this time anybody could become a licensed undertaker. It also provided that apprentices must register. This act here specifically says "who did not register, but anybody who has been serving an apprenticeship or has been serving in an undertaker's establishment in any capacity at all which would amount to an apprenticeship has been serving unlawfully and is subject to a fine under the act.

Are we in 1935 going to condone a crime that has existed since 1927? And that is exactly what you would do by this act.

Let us set aside any personal feeling. Let us back up the legislatures that have gone before us.

There is no legitimate reason for repealing an act of this kind. In 1927 they provided that after this period of time they would require one year of high school education; the following year two years, after that it would be three years and the fourth year it would be four years. The Legislaure thought it was necessary, and all the parties thought it was necessary in order to get their license.

This is class legislation if there ever was any class legislation to take care of some special person in a member's district. I don't think we should back an legislation of that character.

If you believe in this legislation, why restrict it to six months? Why not fix it for an indeterminate period? If they are good enough to give it in six months, why not give it at any time? Let us not go back to 1927 and upset a very good law.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as it seems the thing to be astonished, I also am astonished that my good friend who is an attorney has missed by point entirely. I assume it was the poor way in which I presented my argument and not due to any fault of my good friend.

The reason I argued for the bill is because the men pass the same practical examination which all applicants must pass. My statement is that any man that has the ability and is competent to pass an examination, is competent to pass in any profession.

I think I need only call to your attention the fact what we have experienced in the line of our own presidents. Abraham Lincoln studied his lessons himself and did not have the benefit of any high school or college education, and yet I believe we all agree that he made a good President, as good or better than many other presidents, who had far superior educational facilities. It is not the education as far as the man goes; it is the man himself. It is his ability.

Our constitution says that a man has free opportunity, and if the man has ability I say he should have the free opportunity of going into any business or profession, and not penalize that man simple because his parents may be too poor to send him to school where he should have gone.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2673, entitled

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-sixth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand three hundred seventy-four), entitled "An act defining public service companies; and providing for their regulation by prescribing and defining their duties and liabilities; prescribing, and limiting their powers, and regulating their incorporation, and, to a limited extent, regulating municipal corporations engaged or about to engage in the business of public service companies; creating and establishing a Public Service Commission for the regulation aforesaid; prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such Commission and its officers, including the exclusive power to regulate the construction, alteration, relocation, or abolition of the crossings of railroad corporations, street railway corporations, or other public service companies, and of public highways by the tracks or other facilities of said companies; providing for the ascertainment by the Commission of the expense and damages resulting from such construction, alteration, relocation, or abolition, and for the payment of such expense and damages, severally or proportionately, by the public service companies interested, the State, or municipal corporation concerned, and giving persons whose property is thereby taken, injured, or destroyed, authorizing to sue the Commonwealth for damages in such cases; providing for the terms, salaries, and compensation of the members of the commission its officers, counsel, and employes; prescribing and regulating the practice and procedure before such commission, and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders and determinations by the courts of common pleas; and giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals in certain cases, and of all injunctions, mandamus, or other appropriate proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the commission, and to restrain such orders, subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the violation of the orders of said commission; making it the duty of the Public Service Commission to enforce the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled 'An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes on railroads, by compeling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains.' by amending section nine thereof; repealing the act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven, which provided for the appointment of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission; and sections one and two of the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, entitled 'An act to enforce the provisions of the seventeenth article of the Constitution, relative to railroads and canals;' and an act, entitled 'To provide the maximum car service charges, including car storage charges, that railroad companies and corporations, or associations, may charge and collect on each car loading, and not unloaded within the free time for unloading cars, and fixing the free time that shall be allowed for unloading cars,' approved twenty-fourth day of May, Anno Domino one thousand nine hundred and seven; and the proviso of clause three and the provisos of clause seven of section thirty-four of the act, entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,' approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and all other legislation inconsistent with or supplied by this act," giving to the Public Service Commission the power and authority to vary, reform or revise, on a fair and equitable basis, contracts to which a public service company is a party and the subject-matter whereof concerns or affects a public right, benefit, privilege, duty or franchise; providing for a hearing and determination of the matter of a variance, reformation or revision of such contracts, and providing for the issuance and services of orders by the Public Service Commission varying, reforming or revising such contracts and the effective date of such orders.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 2673 is a bill which empowers the Public Service Commission to reform or revise on an equitable basis any contract to which the public service company is a party, the subject matter of which affects the public right. This bill would permit the Commission to look into and revise if necessary the contracts of public service companies made with so-called underliers.

This bill is one of the series of bills which is sponsored by the administration and I wil ask the members of the House to vote "aye" on this bill.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2682, entitled:

An Act providing for the formation of non-profit membership corporations to be known as electric membership corporations for the purpose of promoting and encouraging the fullest possible use of electric energy in the Commonwealth by making electric energy available to the inhabitants of the Commonwealth at the lowest cost consistent with sound economy and prudent management of the business of such corporations; providing for the rights, powers and duties of such corporations; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by such corporations; and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STANK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank, to explain in detail the provisions of this bill?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, this bill authorizes the formation of non-profit Electric Membership Corporations for the purpose of promoting and encouraging the fullest possible use of electric energy by making electric energy available to inhabitants of the State at the lowest cost consistent with sound economy and prudent management.

Three or more persons may apply to the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth for incorporation as a mutual company. It is specifically provided that each corporation shall serve only its members. A board of directors shall be the governing body of each corporation. The purpose of this part of the set-up for the Federal rural electrification program is set forth as follows:

"The corporate purpose of each corporation formed hereunder shall be to render service to its members only and no person shall become or remain a member unless such person shall use energy supplied by such corporation and shall have complied with the terms and conditions in respect to membership contained in the by-laws of such corporation."

The principal object of this bill is to make it possible for groups in rural areas to unite, borrow funds from the Federal government, and construct and operate their own distribution lines, contracting for their electric energy from private companies, in those cases where private companies fail to extend their own lines, or their charges are too high.

I therefore ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in understanding that this bill provides that these corporations may issue bonds?

Mr. STANK. The gentleman is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Northumberland, if these bonds are tax free?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, they are.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, are the corporations so formed subject to any regulation by the Public Service Commission or are they exempt from regulation by the Public Service Commission?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, they are subject to regulation by the Public Service Commission.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, where in the act does it so say?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, on page twenty-five.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr Speaker, there is no page twenty-five. My interrogation does not happen to be factitious. I want the gentleman to state where in the act it is provided that such corporations are subject to regulations by the Public Service Commission.

Mr. STANK. Mr Speaker, the corporation is not, but the activity in which they are engaged is regulated b ythe Public Service Commission.

Mr. WITKIN. Is it not a fact that under Section eleven, page seven, it is specifically provided that the corporation so formed is subject to only the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and thereby not subject to any regulation by the Public Service Commission?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, that is right, but the activity is

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, where in the act does it provide that the activity of this corporation is subject to any regulation by the Public Service Commission, I say to the gentleman from Northumberland, that I see nothing in the act.

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, it is covered in the general Public Service Company law.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the provision on page seven, section eleven, take this particular corporation out of the provisions subjecting electric companies to the Public Service Company Law ?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, the corporation is taken out, but the activity of it is not.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like further to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. STANK. Only one more question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, if my interrogation is limited I do not wish to interrogate the gentleman any further.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it becomes rather a serious proposition when a sponsor of a piece of legislation as important as this one is unable to give this House any information concerning the bill and refuses to permit himself to be interrogated concerning the provisions of the bill. I do not want to appear to be critical but where we are regulating and where we are passing legislation dealing with a change in the regulations of the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth, affecting persons engaged in the business of furnishing electricity of the citizenry of Pennsylvania, then I believe that the sponsor of the bill or some member of the party which is responsible for its introduction ought to be able to enlighten members of the House who seek to obtain some information so that they can intelligently vote upon this bill.

As I read the bill, it is most faulty and a bad bill, however, I am frank to say that I don't know sufficient of the purposes of this bill, and with the great number of bills in the calendar it is impossible for one to acquaint himself with the contents of all bills.

I would be glad to vote for this bill if it is a good one, but I think it is a bad one, not being sure, however, and the sponsor not being able to give us any light upon the bill, I, therefore, Mr. Speaker, move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar until such time as the gentleman who introduced the bill or someone on his behalf may properly answer the questions that are requested of him to be answered.

On the question,

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for and sixty-five members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-four members having voted in the negative the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether there is any member of the Democratic Party present who is able to explain the contents of this bill. They can pick anyone of the one hundred and sixteen.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the main purpose and intent of this bill is to authorize persons living at a distance where electric companies do not furnish power, to organize a corporation and make application for loans and thus build a line to their place, and buy the power from the companies that furnish it. I do not see anything in the bill that gives them the opportunity or the power to construct a plant, just to construct a system along highways, and that is the meat or the purpose of the bill, people living out in the rural sections away from the power lines where the company refuses to build a line to these people or charges an exhorbitant fee that they may form a corporation and build their own line. They can only serve members of the corporation.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman point out in the bill any place wherein what he has just told the House is set forth in the bill, to wit, that the purpose for which these corporations are formed was only to supply electricity to persons who live in outlying districts, where it cannot be supplied by the present electric supply companies.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, they cannot supply the outlying districts unless they are members of the corporation. The bill provides on page eight, section D, as follows:

"To render service and to acquire, own, operate, maintain and improve a system or systems." Also section F which reads as follows: "To construct or place any part or parts of a system or systems across, in or along any street or public highway."

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to be reading from page eight, section F?

Mr. RUTH. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in reading that section as follows: "to construct or place any part or parts of a system or systems across, in or along any street or public highways over lands which are now or may be the property of this Commonwealth"?

Do I understand the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, to state that when it says, "property of the Commonwealth," it is restricted to outlying districts where they cannot get electricity now?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, we have the Commonwealth in mind. It says, "it may be the property of the Commonwealth," that is, along state highways.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that the purpose of this bill is only to supply electricity to those persons in the outlying districts who can't get it now?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, no sir; I said it allows corporations to be formed to build a system by which electricity can be transmitted to their particular homes or places, and they buy their electricity from some corporation that furnishes it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, point out any provision that refers to farms?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I don't think it says anything as to a farm.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is it in the bill?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is. It is clearly understood. Anyone can understand it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I direct the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth's attention to page three, section three and ask whether there is any restriction in his opinion in that section limiting the formation of these corporations to any particular locality or to any particular group of persons who are not now receiving an electrical supply.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it does. The formation is authorized.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Berks therefore agree with me that his explanation made to this House that the meat of this bill and that the main purpose of this bill was to supply electric current to persons who are now unable to procure electric current, is incorrect?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that. I said that it is to authorize the building of lines or systems to their own farms or territory. That is the purpose.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, whether those corporations are subjected to any control of the Public Service Commission, under the terms of this bill?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I do not think under the terms of the bill, but under the terms of the Public Service Company Act.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman from Berks, agree with me that page seven, section eleven, takes this corporation out of the control of the Public Service Commission by stating that they are subject only, —lines twenty-three and twenty-four,—to the Constitution of the Commonwealth?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, the section referred to by the gentleman from Philadelphia, is as the gentleman from Philadelphia has stated.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, just one more question. We have a very long calendar to dispose of tonight.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the limitation as to the number of questions that may be asked of the gentleman from Berks, I do not desire to further iterrogate him.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a loyal rooter at the baseball game, my voice is bad but I am frank to say that I am astonished, astounded and amazed that the Democratic floor leader of this House has limited the number of questions that can be asked him, when you men on that side of the House introduce legislation that is against every principle of regulation. We have had the cry that the utility companies shall be subject to regulation. For years the people of the Commonwealth have been demanding that people or corporations who furnish light or heat, who are what is known as a public utility company, shall be subject to regulation and to the most rigid regulation possible. Here comes a bill that changes the entire system of public utility companies, and we who seek light seriously upon this subject, find that the Democratic Party is devoid of a single person on their side of the House, who will permit proper interrogation. If you will pardon my modesty I am the person who happens to have been chosen as the leader of the minority party. I have a right to ask questions and you ought to have the knowledge and you ought to have the decency to answer my questions, and if you don't know the answers —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JOHN H. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I object; the gentleman is not discussing the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if you don't know about the bill, then you ought to put it on the calendar —

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the provisions of the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I think that my argument is a proper argument upon this bill. I am seeking light and on account of my lack of knowledge concerning certain portions of this bill, I have asked someone on that side of the House to answer my questions, so that I may intelligently discuss this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that the bill is on the gentleman's desk and the gentleman can get information by reading the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to take issue with you respectfully and properly. I have looked at the bill and in my opinion it is so poorly drawn, so impossible of interpretation by reading the bill,—I may be stupid or dumb,—but I cannot by the reading of it alone understand its provisions and if either the Speaker of this House or the other members can, he can do more than I can. I seek light because when I don't know, I admit I don't know.

Members of the House, there are some facts that you do know. Some of the facts that you do know are these; That you are permitting corporations to be formed by three persons, who can go into any municipality in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, into any county that you or I belong to, and those three persons pick out fifteen or twenty people in a particular block and set up a Public Utility Company for the purpose of supplying electricity. This corporation becomes omnipotent, it becomes high and mighty. It is bound to no one. It is bound to no Public Service Commission. It is subject to no regulation. They can do as they please. Nobody in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can say "stop, you are charging too much". They can issue bonds and nobody can supervise these bond issues. These bonds can be sold to a deluded public and the people can be flim-flammed of their money, and nobody dare scrutinize the bonds. They are tax free. They do not pay a nickel to anybody. If you want that kind of legislation, you can vote for it, but I want to say to the members of the Democratic Party that it seems to me, and I say with all seriousness, that I think it is high time that you knew what you were voting for; it is high time that one of you ought to know the provisions of the bill, that some one of you ought to be able,—

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will confine himself to the bill. The gentleman is out of order in attempting to scold the members of this House. The gentleman will confine himself to discussing the provisions of the bill now before us.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the Speaker is now raising a point of order?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker rules that the gentleman is out of order unless he confines himself to the provisions of the bill now before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I realize at this particular moment that what I said before about being in the minority is correct. That fact has been brought home to me. I have endeavored to make what I considered a proper argument. I have endeavored to point out to you the fallaciousness of this bill. I have endeavored to point out that nobody has appeared on behalf of the Democrats of this House, who sponsored this legislation, to give us a logical, reasonable argument, why we should vote for this bill. I believe I am not violating the rule that the Chair just made when I say that it seems to me that when a bill of such importance is sponsored that we ought to be told why it is good, we ought to be told why we should vote "aye." I have heard no reason propounded as to why we should vote for it. I have given you reasons why you should not vote for it. These bills are a menace to the Community and I ask the members of this House, particularly my Republican friends, on this side of the House, to vote this bill down.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I recognize all that the minority leader has said. Still there is plenty of reason for voting for a bill of this kind in Pennsylvania. I come from a district, and I know there are others who come from districts similar to mine, where there have been cases time and again where men have been interested in having this service of the Public Utility. They have been interested in having electric light in their homes, light and power. They have been practically denied the use of light and power in their homes because utility companies have prevented them from bringing it into their homes usually due to the high rate, the high contsruction costs of power lines. I have in my own immediate section a case at the present time which has been going on for some years. There have been some twenty people who have been interested in electric light and power. They asked the company to build a line. They had been promised when the line was built and when the company was permitted to build that line, after three years they would be receiving their electric current at the same rate that everyone else got.

The three years have passed. Those people have been denied the privilege. Four years have passed. Still the men who have taken electric current from the company are paying nine and ten dollars a month when they are actually only using current amounting to two dollars per month. With conditions such as these existing throughout the state, our people in the territory have been interested in the use of electric power. Those interested have seen what has happened to those who have already taken it. They are interested in going alone. I think it is high time to give the man who wants the use of electric current a fair chance to get it. This bill gives a man out in the rural section the opportunity to joint with his fellow citizens in a corporation that will permit them to get electric current. If they can prove that they can save money, as against the rates that now exists and are now being charged by public utilities today, there is no reason why they should not have the opportunity of doing so. I admit all that was said by the minority floor leader about this bill. I ask the members of the House to vote for the bill. This bill has been put before us to give an opportunity to those who have not had a fair chance in the past.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is no particular reason why a non-profit corporation organized on a membership basis should be subject to regulation. This act very specifically defines the field in which these non-profit corporations can operate. If the distinguished minority floor leader will peruse the bill he will see that these non-profit corporations can only extend their activities into territory where profit making corporations have refused to serve, and if there are territories which profit making corporations have refused to serve, and there are citizens who desire to organize on a nonprofit basis, then certainly this Legislature should not deprive of them that opportunity.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that the gist of the bill is to be found in sub-section g, of section 11, on page 8. . If you will read the section carefully, you will find that it states, "to accept gifts or grants of money, property real or personal property personal municipality or Federal agency and to accept voluntary and uncompensated services."

The bill is intended to accept monies from the federal agencies which have been set up in Washington for those purposes, and you members know that before you can receive a grant from any federal agency in Washington, you surely must be right and you must be under proper regulation, otherwise you will not receive the money. I believe that the gist of the bill is to accept if possible, under the new provisions of the federal agency in Washington, monies which may properly come to Pennsylvania in those territories where those monies are most needed.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I woul like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria, where he finds in this bill that these corporations can only be organized in the territories where no public service company serves the people?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, on page 12, as follows: "In the event that such new territory includes part of the territory of another corporation or corporations then such certificate shall contain a statement to the effect that such other corporation or corporations have been requested in writing to construct the extensions which the corporation wishing to extend its terriory is ready and able to construct and that such other corporation or corporations are not ready and able so to do."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the very enlightening, long drawn out and laborious answer of the gentleman from Cambria seems to answer the question that has been concerning me. It does not say that the corporation may not enter that field. It merely says, "unless such other corporation or corporations shall commence construction of such extensions within thirty days after being requested so to do this shall be conclusive evidence" that there is no corporation serving within that field.

We passed a bill this evening that provided that the Public Service Commission could regulate the contracts or could investigate the contracts of public service companies. Now, the purpose of that was not to give us the right, the governmental right, to inquire into those contracts, but was based upon the fact that there might be some public interest which might be involved in the question of contracts entered into by any public service company and only upon that ground had we the right to legislate. The fault in this bill has been very ably brought out by my colleague of Philadelphia, when he said there is no control by the Public Service Commission over these companies, nor over the incorporation of these companies. If there is a public interest that may be involved in the question of contracts, there is also a public interest, especially where the rate payer is concerned in any utility, in the building of a corporation that needs no capital, and that is expected in some way to be able to go out and finance the building of its lines and its operations by the issuance of bonds. The action on the part of any group, any voluntary group, in my mind may set up one of the finest rackets that ever existed in Pennsylvania, by which a legalized blackmail may be imposed, and by the imposition of that blackmail may very readily affect all the rate payers in many communities. I do not doubt the purpose of this act was as stated by the gentleman from York, Mr. Moul. I do not doubt that the purpose was to take care of the rural districts and where they do not have electrification, and where it is hoped that a group of people in that community can get together and by their voluntary action create some corporation as is provided for under this act. But if the public utility already in existence cannot supply electricity to that group without excessive cost, and if it is necessary for that utility under the regulation of the Public Service Commission, and I might say to this House that there has been an order for years in the Public Service Commission, I have just forgotten the number,—in reference to rural electrification, and that there has been a study on the part of the utilities of Pennsylvania for a number of years of rural electrification. If these utilities cannot go into these communities, construct the lines and carry electricity to those communities, except, as the gentleman from York has stated, at excessive costs, and it takes them three years to recover, how in thunder under an act like this can any local group of people create a company that is going to secure, as I would take it, if you believe the visionary plan of this act,—how is it going to snatch from the air the juice and send it over the wires into the homes to supply electricity? Where are the people going to get the juice? They have either got to generate it themselvs,—and can they afford to set up the generating station in competition with the great utilities, that are now carrying it from the dams that have been created in Pennsylvania, or from the great generation stations at a price to equal those?

Are they going to be able to buy it from the utility and build its lines as cheaply as any organization that is already in the business? S, it seems to me, on that basis alone this act is purely visionary, and on the proposition that it allows the organization of these corporations without any restrain on the part of anybody, without going to the Public Service Commission and saying, "We want to organize a corporation to serve a certain community," without any consideration of the general public interest, is without any consideration of the rate payers who are already involved in those communities, leaving the door open to the greatest kind of a flim-flam scheme ever devolved in Pennsylvania under the enactment of the legislature. I think that this bill is vicious. I think that this bill is inconsiderate. I think that this bill is drawn in a manner that does not protect the public interests and does not properly set up the kind of organization that should be set up, and which you would want to represent the people in the rural communities.

Mr. ANDREWS. This bill is by way of being a gun behind the door. The probabilities are that when this bill becomes a law, it wont' be necessary to form the nonprofit corporations in order to serve outlying territories. If this bill becomes a law the public service companies of this Commonwealth will discover to their great surprise that they can move into those territories and still make a substantial profit. They are now devoting their attention to territories in which they are assured an excessive profit.

The gentleman from Delaware wants to know where the nonprofit corporations are going to get their juice. They are either going to get their juice from a corporation, a public service company now doing business, or they are going to get their juice from the national system of distribution, established under Federal auspices, with great generation stations linked up in a giant power system in the Tennessee Valley and other developments. That is a gun behind the door because Uncle Sam will never have to go into that experiment either, because once he shows he is willing to do it, the Public Service Corporations will render service I repeat, Mr. Speaker, that there are no grounds in experience or in law, that sanctions the idea that a non-profit corporation, a little group of neighbors engaged in serving themselves with electricity should be subject to regulation. This is a good bill and if enacted into law it will accomplish its purpose.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to answer the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner. Mr. Turner stated that it would not be possible for a corporation such as stated in this bill, to compete with the established business. He stated that it could not be done at any cheaper rate. One of the real difficulties to that high rate at the present time in our particular territory is the exhorbitant charges that are being made for the construction of those lines. For instance, in one particular case which we investigated, just recently, we found when we checked to find out what the original cost of that line was they told us that it cost us one hundred dollars to survey for the building of a line one-half a mile in length and they have actually certified to that in a copy to be presented to the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania. They have also certified to us that it cost them seven dollars to dig a hole into which to set a pole, —seven dollars for a hole. Practically anybody in our territory on a contract basis today, and it could have been done a few years ago, could do it for two dollars a hole and they would have had darn good pay. If you check over the list of costs as I have in my territor, in your territory, it will be a mighty easy proposition to see why it is necessary to charge the minimum of $7.00 to $10.00 a month, and promise them three years and then it will be all off, and at the end of the three year period tell them they didn't tell them any such thing in the first place, and it will have to continue forever.

Mr. JOHN A SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the rural people of Pennsylvania are not prone to take academic questions of law very seriously when it comes to question of public service policy.

For six years our particular community argued with the Public Service Commission to get rural electrification. We were given several excuses and were given several types of rates. We decided that probably the best way for us to get electricity in our community was to establish a Diesel power plant. We were prevented from establishing that Diesel power plant by the public service company exercising the right of franchies in our township by setting up one pole in the township.

A friend of mine who wanted to get an extension of power across his fields dickered for quite some time with the power company to have that extension granted and then when he decided to erect his own line, they placed all types of limitations on the type of pole he was going to use across his own field, and after holding him off for quite a long time, he decided to do the work for himself. He established his line across his own field at a cost of three hundred dollars. Before the public service company would take that line off his hands, they demanded that he represent the cost of it as being over six hundred dollars so that they could build up a substantial rate schedule.

A few weeks ago I drove into the upper part of the state and as I drove by the road side I saw considerable of a pond in a farmer's field. I was told by a guest on that trip that the farmers in that particular community had agreed to furnish their own power to the surrounding communities free of cost from a dam that had been built across a small stream there, and that when they attempted to carry the power across the fields, they were prevented from doing so by a franchise that had been granted by the Public Service Commission.

These academic questions of law do not appeal to us when we so desperately want this service in rural communities, and we certainly feel that this dog-in-the-manger policy exercised by the Public Service Commission is wrong and that this bill in a substantial step in the right direction.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to take the time of the House for a moment to call attention to the fact that since I last sat down I have read on page 12 the section to which the gentleman from Cambria called my attention. It does not answer my queestion, because it purely pertains to the question of the extension of territory and does not say that the company or corporation organized thereunder can not enter a field that is already being served.

I have no quarrel with rural members who want to secure electrification, I have no quarrel with any act that might set up in some way a method by which they could secure electrification, but this act does not set up that particular thing and it extends the proposed field of operation far too wide.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 301, as follows:

An Act to amend section nine of the act approved the thirty first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred eight) entitled "An act providing for the appointment promotion reduction removal and reinstatement of paid officers firemen and employes of fire departments and of fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in the bureaus of electricity in cities of the second and third class defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions for such purposes and fixing penalties" modifying the age restriction for applicants who are veterans

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section nine of the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred eight) entitled "An act providing for the appointment promotion reduction removal and reinstatement of paid officers firemen and employes of fire departments and of fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in the bureaus of electricity in cities of the second and third class defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions for such purposes and fixing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 All applicants for any position in the fire department and as fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in the bureau of electricity shall undergo a physical examination which shall be conducted under the supervision of a commission composed of doctors of medicine appointed for that purpose by the mayor said commission shall certify that an applicant is free from any bodily or metal defects deformity or diseases that might incapacitate him from the performance of the duties of the position desired before said applicant shall be permitted to take further examinations No application will be received if the person applying is less than twenty-one years of age or more than thirty-five years of age except honorably discharged soldiers sailors or marines who served with the Army or Navy of the United States during time of war not over forty-five years of age at the date of his application Provided however That in event any applicant has formerly served in the fire department or as a fire alarm operator or fire box inspector in the bureau of electricity of the city to which he makes application for a period of more than six months and no charges of misconduct or other misfeasance were made against such applicant within a period of two years next preceding the date of his application and is a resident of the city then such person shall be eligible for reinstatement in the discretion of the civil service commission even though such applicant shall be over the age of thirty-five years or over forty-five years of age if such applicant is an honorably discharged soldier sailor or marine who served in the Army or Navy of the United States during time of war Such applicant providing his former term of service so justifies may be reappointed to the fire department or as a fire alarm operator or fire box inspector in the bureau of electricity without examination other than a physical examination If such person is reinstated he shall be the lowest in rank in the department next above the probationers of the department

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill what change is made in the present act by this bill.

Mr. MOOMAW. The change that is made by this bill to the present act, Mr. Speaker, is to give a ten-year extensiion to ex-service men, who served in the Army or Navy during time of war, for any of these positions.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, what would that make the age limit?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, forty-five.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, could any veteran over forty-five secure a position?

Mr. MOOMAW. Not under the terms of this act, Mr. Speaker, except case of reinstatement and then it still must be a ten-year extension. Under the terms of the original act anyone who had formally been in the service, as explained on page three, can re-enter the service even if he is over thirty-five years of age. The provisions of this act as it applies to ex-service men would be the same with the exception that it gives him a ten-year extension.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, by that extension of ten years, do I understand the gentleman from Franklin to mean that a man forty-five years of age could be placed in the fire department, for instance?

Mr. MOOMAW. Providing he can pass the physical examination, yes: Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this measure or this amendment to the present act is to make it possible for a veteran of the World War to become a member of a fire department providing he can pass the physical examination.

Setting the age limit at forty-five is no different from what the age limit is in connection with the war service of the men during the World War, and I submit to you that if a man forty-four or forty-five years of age is physically able, providing he can pass a physical examination to become a member of the army or navy, to serve his country in a time of war, he is certainly physically able to serve in any fire department if he can pass the physical examination.

By setting the age limit at thirty-five they absolutely exclude all but possible about one hundredth of one per cent of those who have served in the World War, because the average age of the World War veteran is now approximately forty-two years.

I see nothing in this measure that will weaken the physical structure of any fire department and I would therefore, ask you members of this House, to support this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. STEWART asked and obtained unanimous consent to call out of order House Bill No. 1418, Printer's No. 1154, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1418, entitled:

An Act to amend sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certan costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" imposing an additional tax on ilquid fuels for a limited period of time providing for the distribution thereof and making an appropriaton

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commerically usuable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions and Deductions A permanent State tax of three cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth excepting liquid fuels delivered to the United States government on presentation of a duly authorized United States government exemption certificate or other evidence satisfactory to the department and such liquid fuels used or sold and delivered as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be collected by and paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any liquid fuels

In addition to such tax and additional emergency State tax of one cent a gallon or factional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth for the period beginning on the day this act becomes effective and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

Distributors shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the tax imposed by this act

The tax shall be payable upon liquid fuels sold and delivered to or used by the Commonwealth and every political subdivision thereof

Each distributor who shall promptly pay on or before the last day of a particular month the tax due for the preceding month shall be allowed in consideration of leakage spillage shrinkage evaporation and any expense to which he may be put in carrying out the provisions of this act a discount of two per centum on the aggregate amount of tax which is payable by the distributor for such preceding month The discount may be deducted by the distributor from the amount of tax payable for such month

Section 10 Disposition and Use of Tax (a) One-half cent per gallon of the permanent tax collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the liquid Fuels Tax Fund of the State Treasury and such moneys paid into said fund are hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose hereinafter set forth

On the questnon,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 6, lines 9 and 10, by striking out with dark-faced brackets the words "credited to the General Fund" and inserting in lieu thereof: paid into the Motor License Fund and shall be used only to enable the Commonwealth to take over for maintenance and repair the roads in townships of the second class, to aid counties, cities, boroughs and townships of the first class in the maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways and to reduce the burden of taxation on real estate.'

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, This bill was submitted March sixth and has had safe keeing until last week when it was brought out of Committee.

Originally the bill for one cent gas tax was credited to the Motor License Fund and was to be used only to enable the Commonwealth to take over for maintenance and repair the roads intownships of the second class, to aid counties, cities, boroughs and townships of the first class in the maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways and to reduce the burden of taxation on real estate.

The political parties pledged themselves that taxes on real estate would be reduced. If this bill had not been amended it would have assisted greatly in carrying out that pledge. The large majority of those who use gasoline insist that the gas tax should apply on the highways.

This bill is for two years only, and the Committee has so changed the bill that my name, as sponor, is all that is left so far as the revenue is concerned. The first year is credited to relief and the second year to the General Fund.

The amendment that I have offered is to change the revenue for the second year to apply as originally written. With me it is a fifty-fifty proposition, and if the members of this House feel that my request is a just one I will ask them to approve the amendments. I will not expect you to do like the man who applied to Judge of the Court for a license to sell rabbit bologna. The Judge heard that he was putting horse flesh in his bologna and called him to task, telling him that he heard he was putting horse flesh in his bologna. The man said, "Judge, I am, but I am only going fifty-fifty." How is that, replied the Judge. "One rabbit and one horse."

I cannot see why the tax should not apply to roads and thus serve a double purpose by building roads to bring the farmer out of the mud and giving work to those who are on relief.

I ask you to vote for this amendment.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, we have already passed a bill providing for the next two years in cities and in boroughs. This bill is one of the compromise bills and has been approved in the compromise. It is to be amended, one year for relief and one year for the General Fund and I ask the members to vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 3, line 19, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the word "thirty-seven" and insert in lieu thereof "thirty-six"

Amend sec. 1, page 6, lines 7, 8, 9 and 10, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the words "and all such tax paid into the State Treasury on and after June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six shall be credited to the General Fund"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hesitate to take up your time at this late hour, but I do feel that these amendments should receive careful consideration.

This proposed tax on one cent per gallon on gasoline again brings up the question of diversion of Motor Funds for purposes other than the construction and maintenance of highways.

Several weeks' ago I called to the attention of the members of the House what the probable effect would be if monies were diverted from the Motor Fund.

This bill provides a one cent gas tax for a period of two years. The revenues derived during the first year is earmarked for unemployment relief purposes. The revenue derived during the second year is to be paid into the State Treasury and credited to the General Fund. The Amendment proposed will eliminate the tax for the second year entirely so that the bill will provide for a one cent tax for but one year to be used for unemployment relief purposes. There can be no question but that a tax on gasoline placed into the General Fund is recognized as diversion. It is generally admitted, and we believe so interpreted by the Federal authorities, that a tax on gasoline used for unemployment relief will be interpreted as diversion of funds.

Funds available from the recently enacted Federal Relief bill will give Pennsylvania $23,950,000. for highways. For the elimination of grade crossings, $17,703,000. In addition, the regular Federal aid will be $11,000,000; giving a total revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Federal Government of $52,668,000. The expenditure of these funds will be controlled by the provisions of the Hayden-Cartwright Bill. It is the opinion of men in a position to know that a penalty of one-third of the total amount will be imposed on any State which diverts monies from the Motor Fund. This would mean a loss of $17,000,000 if this bill is enacted.

From the same source we have information to the effect that unless the $9,700,000, already loaned from the Motor Fund, is not repaid, we stand to lose another $3,230,000. The Federal Bureau of Public Roads has officially announced that States which comply with all of the legal requirements of the Hayden-Cartwright Bill will probably receive bonuses as much as twenty per cent of the original allotment. This would give to Pennsylvania another $10,000,000.

It thus appears that if the Legislature diverts Motor Funds they are subject to a penalty of $30,703,000 or a total loss to the Highway Construction Industry of $59,000,000.

Information received from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways,—a construction program of approximately $185,000,000 has been formulated. Of this amount $24,000,000 is to be used for the elimination of railroad grade crossings, and $3,000,000 for the elimination of dangerous highway intersections.

The Department of Highways has given the information that plans are prepared for the construction and reconstruction of highways, costing $109,000,000. Also that there is immediate necessity for the replacement of weak and narrow bridges, amounting to $19,000,000.

It, therefore, appears to me, Ladies and Gentlemen of this House, that we cannot afford to divert one dollar from the Motor Fund for any other purpose than the construction and maintenance of highways. However, that question can be further determined when the bill comes up for final passage, but, at this time, I ask you to support this amendment so that, at least we will have taken one step toward the conservation of the Motor Fund.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not a diversion of Motor Funds. Under the Hayden-Cartwright act, a certain date was set prior to this date, and any state that diverts from their motor fund, the license taxes or registration fees would be punished. This is not a diversion. It is a new tax for relief purposes only and it is not a diversion. I ask the members to vote down the amendment.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just briefly amplifying the remarks made by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, I wish to call the attention of the members of the House that when the original gasoline tax act was passed here, they stated it was to be for an emergency purpose. The gentleman from Berks has just finished stating that the monies to be derived from the present bill would be used for unemployment relief purposes. However, they have defined under the act, as it is now before you, a one year period to be used for unemployment relief. That simply means that if we pass the bill in its present form, without taking out the amendment which allows the second year tax proceeds to be used for the General Fund, we are telling the motorists of the State of Pennsylvania that some time in the future the Legislature in its power may decide that the Motor License Fund shall be used to run the State government and that it shall not be used for highway purposes alone. We are taking a step in the wrong direction if we do not amend the present act as submitted to the members of the House and eliminate the second year clause providing that the fund be used for general purposes and deposited in the General Fund.

I urge you to support this amendment

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The Speaker. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 4, by striking out with dark-faced brackets the word "and"

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after the word "ten" the following: "and seventeen"

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, lines 26, 27 and 28, by striking out with light-faced brackets all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof: "The tax imposed by this section shall be payable by the distributor, but shall be borne by the last purchaser, and the payment by the distributor shall be deemed to have been for the account of such purchaser. However, the intent of this act is to place the ultimate burden resulting from such tax, so far as possible on persons who use liquid fuels for purposes other than agricultural and domestic purposes on farms, and to that end provisions for refunds are made hereinafter where the tax has been paid by a distributor on liquid fuels used on farms for agricultural and domestic purposes."

Amend Sec. 1, page 6, by inserting between lines 10 and 11 the following:

Section 17. Refunds.—The Board of Finance and Revenue may refund to distributors taxes, penalties and interest paid by them on liquid fuels delivered to the United States government or paid as the result of an error of law or of fact or of both law and fact. Claims for [refund] such refunds shall be made under the procedure prescribed by The Fiscal Code.

Any person who shall buy liquid fuels on which the tax imposed by this act shall have been paid, and shall consume the same for agricultural or domestic purposes on a farm, shall be entitled to a refund of the amount of such tax. All such claims for refund shall be made by affidavit in such form and containing such information, and be presented within such time, as the Board of Finance and Revenue, by rules and regulations, shall prescribe, and the claimant shall satisfy the board that he has borne the tax and that the liquid fuels have been consumed by him for agricultural or domestic purposes on a farm. The board may require such further information or proof as it shall deem necessary. Any person making any false or fraudulent affidavit for the purpose of a refund of the tax, shall be guilty of perjury.

All refunds of moneys allowed hereunder shall be paid from the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund in amounts equal to the original distribution and payment of such moneys into said funds.

As much of the moneys from time to time in the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of making refunds, as herein authorized. Estimates of the amounts to be expended from these funds for refunds from time to time by the board, shall be submitted to the Governor of his approval or disapproval as in the case of other appropriations to administrative departments, boards and commissions, and it shall be unlawful for the Auditor General to honor any requisition of the Board of Finance and Revenue for the expenditure of moneys hereunder in excess of the estimates approvd by the Governor.

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2. This act shall become effective the first day of the month succeeding its final enactment.

An Act to amend sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporated surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" imposing an additional tax on liquid fuels for a limited period of time providing for the distribution thereof and making an appropriation

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1418 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1418, Printer's No. 1154, be made a special order of business on final passage on Wednesday, May 22, 1935, at 11:30 a. m.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2853, Printer's No. 1075, on page 22, of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. RUTH

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2853, entitled:

An Act imposing a state tax upon checks drafts assignments and other written evidences for the payment and transfer of money honored by banks by payment or by receipt for deposit imposing duties and liabilities on banks bank and trust companies trust companies private banks savings funds savings institutions savings banks and national banking associations conferring powers and immposing duties on certain State officers and departments making an appropriation and imposing penalties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE BILL NO. 2853 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 2853, Printer's No. 1075, be made a special order of business on final passage on Wednesday, May 22, 1935, at 11.45 A. M.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 301

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 301, Printer's No. 1110, entitled on page 25, of today's calendar, passed finally this evening be reconsidered.

An Act to amend section nine of the act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1108), entitled "An act providing for the appointment, promotion, reduction, removal and reinstatement of paid officers, firemen and employes of fire departments and of fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in the bureaus of electricity in cities of the second and third class; dening the powers and duties of civil service commissions for such purposes; and fixing penalties," modifying the age restriction for applicants who are veterans.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Beaver Mrfl Caputo, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the affirmative

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAW. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw, since this bill passed earlier in the evening by a vote of I believe approximately one hundred and fifty to fifteen, the purpose of his motion for a reconsideration of this measure?

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, there was so much confusion in the House that I don't believe the bill has proper consideration.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman from Allegheny know that I as the sponsor of the bill was interrogated by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, after which I talked on the bill and that no one else opposed the measure. Was not the attention of the House called to the various provisions of the bill?

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear all of the discussion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agreed to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for and one hundred and three members having voted in the affirmative and thirty-six members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MOOMAW. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill, would not a man be eligible even though he had passed forty-five years of age?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman "no."

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, on page 3, line seven does it not say, "even though such applicants shall be over the age of thirty-five years or over forty-five years of age".

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, that is only for the reinstatement of someone who has previously served as a member of a fire department or as a fire alarm operator.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, for a period of how long?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, for a period of at least six months; or more than six months.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that if a man had six months service, even though he be past sixty years of age, he could still be reinstated?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny I would say that this amendment does not in any way change the provision of the act as it existed before this bill was prepared, and I might say in direct answer, that anyone, whether or not a member, or whether or not a veteran could come back into the service, even though he was seventy years of age.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, does not this bill pertain to second and third class cities?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, it does.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, whether he comes from second or third class city?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, I would say that I do not.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I realize the intentions of the gentleman from Franklin, I do not believe that he is familiar with the conditions in second class cities, pertaining to the service regulations for firemen, and I believe that this bill, while its intentions may be good, would be harmful to such cities. I believe that they should know best the regulations which they require which will give the people of that city service for which they pay and for that reason I ask the members to vote "no" on this bill.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was not agreed to,

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think there are several very injurious matters in this bill that have not as yet been taken out. I believe Mr. O'Keefe touched on the matter pertaining to second and third class cities. If I am not mistaken, our pension fund system in some of those cities would be very hard hit if a man at this age of life were permitted to get back into the fire department. Another point, that we realize that the fire department is a very strenuous place, and it requires young men, young men who are very very strong and healthy, and a man getting in above the age of forty-five would not elevate the standards of that department very much.

Coming to the third point on this bill, the sponsor of this bill gives the soldier much leeway. There is today, in some of our cities our rating gives them a fifteen per cent increase in their examination markings and before they start off. The moment they say they are soldiers or sailors we increase their standards 15 per cent, and at this time I don't think we should elevate the age limit. After all the world war did end in 1917; that is eighteen years ago, and we cannot go through life giving to the soldiers and the sailors.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TUMELTY. The gentleman from Allegheny made a statement that they give fifteen per cent exemption in civil service. Where?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, in Pittsburgh, for example, the second class city.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask is this fifteen per cent given to a man who has been disabled in the war?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, yes I am fairly sure that this is given to anyone that is either a soldier or a sailor.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, whether such a condition exists in Pittsburgh or not, I do not know, but if it does I think it is the only city in the world where it does. There is five per cent and ten per cent if he is hit with a bullet but I don't think he should make the statement that all get fifteen per cent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill only tries to raise the age limit at which a man seeking employment in a favored field can get it. Not long ago I was laughed at and scoffed at by some of the very men who are up here now defending a thirty-five year age limit when I said that persons over the age of fifty might be considered as probable cases to be retired. They laughed at the idea, and yet they come in here and say that a man over thirty-five years of age cannot serve in a fire company. The same is true in the factories, the same is true in the mills, at the age of forty, at the age of thirty-eight, or thirty-seven or thirty-six, they will tell you you are too old. You come here as members of the Legislature and exclude anyone over the age of thirty-five from a fire company. There are fire companies that are kept by public funds, and persons who are physically fit,—and I defy any man to say that there isn't some man over the age of thirty-five in Pennsylvania that is physically fit to be a fireman. I would hate to think that there are not some men over the age of forty-five who could be firemen. The only bad thing about the bill is that we restrict it to soldiers and sailors and marines, and so forth.

Any person over the age of forty-five who passes an examination should be able to be a fireman.

This bill passed fairly and squarely a while ago. A group caucussed or met together somehow and got together for a vote.

Now, you gentlemen of convictions, stand by your convictions; vote the way you did the first time and do not be stampeded by any foolishness.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1935 No. 66

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1935.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

New mercies come to us from Thy hand, O God, with each new day. And as each night falls we are thankful for the sense of divine protection thrown about us during our hours of slumber. Of Thy power and goodness "day unto day uttereth speech and night unto night showeth knowledge." As we advance in years may we also advance in faith and loyalty to Thee.

Not only do we trust Thee for eternity, but also for time. The use we make of the days allotted to us in this life fixes our destiny for eternity and the life to come.

Lead these men, O God, to so employ the days they spend here in legislative activity that they and the citizenship they serve may be blest and uplifted. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BAUMER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act to variously amend the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth, and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, boards, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivision, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," as amended; further regulating refunds; further regulating the deposits of State moneys and the security therefor; and providing additional penalties for late filing of certain reports.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the committees having all made their reports I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PRESIDENT when this Senate convened almost five months ago, the eyes of the public were upon us to see what course we would pursue to bring about a proper adjustment of the many problems left to us by the collapse of the industrial and political structures.

Non-partisan men and women of sound minds who are scrupulously prudent in the pronouncement of judgment are unanimous in the opinions that the collapse was brought about by the stupid, unpatriotic and predatory leadership of industrial and political leaders of the nation in all branches of the government—legislative, executive and judicial.

There can be no doubt that the times and the environment dictate the industrial and political standards of nations. History relates that when the times are calm and the environment fat, the industrial morals of men and communities falter and deteriorate.

But when the times are turbulent and the environment lean the moral irresponsibility of men to the common industries and politics of the land becomes a proper subject for public scrutiny and correction.

Industrial and political moral responsibility is not found in trees, or rocks or rambling brooks.

It is an intangible essence that flavors the deeds of men with good or evil. Wherever man may ply his earthly deeds, will the times and the environment that grace his mortal senses forever set the standards of his morals.

Whether in the home, on the street, in the shop or on the floor of this Senate, shall our industrial and political moral responsibility be to God or to Mammon?

Mr. President, the stupid, unpatriotic and predatory industrial and political leaders of the last score years have almost made it axiomatic that men must make greed and lust an essence of their deeds.

It is indeed calamitous to the industrial and political regeneracy of our Commonwealth for members of this Senate to defiantly snub the premptory public demand that we purge from this Capitol Hill—the industrial and political influences of leaders that brought about the crisis the people are even at this hour exerting their utmost energies to overcome.

Mr. President it was sovereign will of the people that drove the hirelings of those leaders from the Executive Mansion and Administrative Offices of this Commonwealth on Nov. 6 last. It was the sovereign will of the people that drove them and Grundyism from the chamber and committee room of the House of Representatives. And Mr. President, it is the sovereign will of those same people that now stands battling with that monster on the floor of this Senate.

Now and then the monster throws his voice and viciously spurs his hirelings here and there to bring to final passage bills and resolutions that gratify the monster's greed upon the ruins of our industrial and political moral responsibility. Brave and courageous men tramp the floor of this Senate chamber ready to pierce the monster's head with righteous retribution. But vain are their efforts, for the monster has escaped the floor of this Senate and now rests securely guarded within the walls of committee rooms.

There he lurks and gloats while the hirelings tend the moats. There he holds in abortive grip many a bill and resolution introduced by brave members of this Senate or forwarded here by the loyal House of Representatives.

There he holds all the bills and resolutions that contain the essence of moral responsibility we constitutionally owe to the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, the three tyrants, Judas, Nero and Benedict Arnold, all had their defenders, and we should not be alarmed today to hear the cunning, tactful tongue of statesmen raise a stately, saintly psalm to this heartless, brutal monster and his hirelings in all the branches of our government.

Paraphrasing Cato, that great Roman statesman—and ere this Commonwealth shall again behold the figure of moral responsibility on the floors of its legislative halls let the password of patriots be "Delendo undyism est."

Mr. President, we can no longer tolerate the blocking of the many controversial bills and resolutions that are now in the clutches of committees of this Senate. In their hands they hold measures such as the

Chain Store Bill,
Workmen's Compensation Bill,
Full Crew Bill,
Miners' Certificates Bill,
Train Limit Bill,
Coal and Iron Police Bill,
Checkweighmen Bill,

Bill against privately paid deputy sheriffs, and many other bills that should have been reported to this Senate many weeks ago.

Let there now be notice, Mr. President, that unless these highly controversial bills are promptly reported favorably or unfavorably by the Committees that hold them, the moral responsibilities due the people of this Commonwealth will require that the Committees be discharged from their further consideration. Let us trust that the Chairmen and members of those Committees will not find it arduous to discharge their moral responsibility to their colleagues on the floor of this Senate by reporting these bills without further delay.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am very much intrigued by the speech by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante. I would like to make one criticism, however, and that is, I have never yet heard anyone defend the memory of Nero. I think that ought to be stricken from the speech.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it appears to me that we have been following so persistently some of Nero's tactics that I think his name is appropriate at this time, because we have been fiddling a whole lot of time away while many things are burning right now.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 150 (House Bill No. 147), on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new or revised Constitution by convention and its adoption or rejection by the people providing for the nomination of delegates to the convention and for their election and for a vote of the electors on the question of calling such a convention and making an appropriation

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I understand we are now proceeding to act on Senate Bill No. 150 (House Bill No. 147), which is before us on second reading. I desire to speak about this bill.

Speaking on the subject of Constitutional Revision, I may say I do not speak with the direct authority of any group or body of citizens. It is my belief, however, that I am expressing the sentiments of a decided majority of our people, who have too long remained quiet under the propaganda of vociferous minorities. In more conservative times, I might perhaps be called a liberal, but a study of history has convinced me that the radical tendencies of today, if not curbed or controlled by proper leadership, can only result finally in the wildest orgies in finance and government, and in the eventual destruction of the liberties of the people. It seems to me, therefore, the duty of some one to sound a warning, feeble though it may be, and suggest more contemplation of the logical results of our actions.

It has been assumed by some that it is necessary to arrange for a Constitutional Convention in order to carry out the platform pledges of the major parties. I am surprised that any advocate of the so-called "New Deal" would refer to platform pledges, in view of the action of the leader of that party not only in disregarding the platform which he promised to support, but in violating his solemn pledges for sound government, sound money and economy.

If it be argued that the Republican platform calls for immediate revision of the Constitution, which it does not, I may say that in my district, that plank, if considered at all, was considered unfavorably by my supporters, who knew my views thereon.

Indeed the Constitutional planks in the party platforms had no bearing whatever on the results of the election last fall. Republican candidates generally did not emphasize the subject and I am sure that was not the platform on which the Democrats were elected.

When in the seventh and eighth centuries after Christ the Arabs and Turks and Moors pressed upon Europe, their cry was that Mohammed was the prophet of Allah and that they fought in his name. So the Democratic platforms in Pennsylvania was "Roosevelt is our genial president and he has specially selected us for the particular offices which we seek." As the Mohammedans won in the name of Allah and with the sword of Mohammed, so the Democrats won in the name of Roosevelt and by the most lavish expenditure of public monies that we have ever seen.

There is some agitation for a new Constitution, it is true, but it has always been thus since the adoption of our present one in 1874. In 1919, the Legislature went so far as to pass an act authorizing the Governor to appoint a committee to draft a proposed new Constitution to submit to a convention to be called. The committee labored for about a year, but its work was in vain, for while we elected delegates to the proposed convention, at the same time the majority of voters refused to sanction such convention. Some of the ideas of the committee were afterwards added to our present Constitution by amendment, some have perhaps become obsolete; but, as Pennsylvania continued to prosper under its old fundamental law, so it is not presently necessary that a new Constitution be adopted.

If there are certain changes which are desirable in our present Constitution, they can be made more certainly by the passage of amendments at this session of the Legislature and in 1937 and the same can be submitted to the people in 1938. This method should be pursued at any rate for we are not sure that the people will not reject a Convention for the purpose of drastically changing their Charter.

But it is said we must immediately enlarge the borrowing power of our State. It has been proposed to limit this power to $50,000,000. It seems to me a useless thing to try to limit the power of a Constitutional Convention over the subject matter of the Constitution to be proposed by it. The bringing into being of a Constitutional Convention is a revolutionary proceeding, and such convention when constituted becomes a law unto itself, subject only to the right of the people to approve or reject its final work.

And what avail will a borrowing capacity of $50,000,000 for relief be! New York has already borrowed $130,000,000 for that purpose and must now provide $15,000,000 annually for debt service on that sum. As the relief workers are planning to make relief a permanent thing, if funds are provided for that purpose, $500,000,000 will not prove too great a Constitutional limit to the State's borrowing powers if we would satisfy their demands. Fortunately, Pennsylvania has had a so-called "antiquated" Constitution. It has been old fashioned enough in this respect to keep the State still financially solvent.

If any argument were needed to prove the wisdom of the framers of our present Constitution in limiting the power of the Legislature to borrow money, one need only look at the vast orgy of spending of the Federal government. When President Roosevelt was campaigning for office he repeatedly decried the deficit of the National government, and he said at Albany on July 30, 1932, "Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet continuing deficits. Stop the deficits." Roosevelt underestimated the great financial stability of the National government built up by the careful management of the prior Republican administrations. He is now about to start on the expenditure of $5,000,000,000. If manufactured into dollar bills $5,000,000,000 would go around the world, at the Equator, about four times. The expenditure of this sum will undoubtedly exhaust all the credit which the successive administrations since the Civil War have built up. Then, of course, will come inflation and chaos. Pennsylvania should certainly not encourage such financing.

But it is said that the Federal Government may cut off appropriations for relief in Pennsylvania. It would, of course, be disastrous if this should happen immediately, since a vast bureaucratic system has been built up under Federal regulations, and since the National Administration is taking vast sums in taxes from Pennsylvania for relief in other states. Since, likewise, the National Government has helped to destroy our foreign market; has caused a rise in the prices of food by limiting the acreage of crops, by destroying hogs and cattle, and by the passage of laws in violation of our National Constitution and in destruction of business.

We must, however, provide against the very thing suggested. Federal relief cannot be maintained always. Business conditions will not permanently improve under Federal methods. The end must come in time. Federal spending may re-elect Roosevelt, but it will also in the end wreck private business, destroy the independence of the States and pave the way for a dictatorship.

Let Pennsylvania prepare for the eventual, not by borrowing money, but by putting relief on a solid basis. Take Lancaster County for instance, the garden spot of the United States. Does any one doubt that, if a wall were erected around that County, keeping out food supplies, all people in the County would receive sufficient food to keep from starving. If we would cease talking about the more abundant life and provide in a business way for simple and substantial living then might we make reasonable appropriations, which would maintain our unemployed without undue burdens upon the already overtaxed.

And this is not the time to change, by Convention method, our basic Constitution.

I have been disturbed by the attitude of the State Administration toward the whole subject of Constitutional powers and Constitutional revision.

The Governor becomes impatient because the Senate does not follow obediently all his suggestions on various subjects. If the duty of the Legislature would be to ratify merely the Executive's desires as has been done by the legislative branch in Italy or as Congress has done for Roosevelt, it would be a vain thing to continue this division of the government. The Legislature, however, is a coordinate arm of the government under the present Constitution. A Convention might change this and give all the power to the executive, but the government formed under such plan would not be a republican form of government.

The Governor likewise feels that the Senate should follow his desires because he says that State at the last election gave him a certain mandate. This again shows an entirely wrong conception of our plan of government. The framers of the Constitution in their wisdom gave a longer term to Senators in order that this branch of the Legislature might act as a break upon unwise legislation. What the people want today they will discard tomorrow.

A holdover Senate is intended to allow the people an opportunity to reflect on the advisability of enacting into law some of the things which at first seem good but which in time frequently prove detrimental. To try to coerce the Legislature against its better judgment and against the principles upon which the members conceive they were elected is in violation both of the spirit and letter of our Constitution.

The greatest fact in the history of the 19th Century was the rise and development of the United States. At the beginning of that century it was a feeble State facing on the Atlantic seaboard starting a new experiment in democracy. At the close of that century it had crossed the continent, taken an outlying empire in Alaska, had even reached clear across the Pacific, and become a World Power. That development was made possible largely through the stability given to its government by a written Constitution upheld and regarded by the people as almost sacred. During that period of a century our government was almost the only one in the world that was not changed or overthrown by violence. Ours is said to be the oldest flag.

The Constitution was a compact between the government and the people whereby the people supported the government but in turn were protected against the government—and a tradition of stability, of trust, and of independence, had grown up.

So the State Constitutions followed the Federal Constitution and made for security and permanence. Judge Jeremiah S. Black, a native of my county, one time Justice and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, later Attorney General and Secretary of State under President Buchanan, while occupying the Supreme bench in Pennsylvania, in referring to the majority opinion of the Court from which he dissented and which he said completely reversed a well known policy of law, declared derisively that if changes were to be so lightly made a Mexican Constitution would be a long-lived thing as compared to rules of law in Pennsylvania.

What would this great jurist who held our own State and National Constitutions in such high regard think of a bill which proposed in a short summer to re-write completely our State Constitution by a convention called without popular authority and which proposed to have such Constitution submitted to the people for approval after only a possible ten days study; and all in a time of political unrest and under the great stress of economic difficulties. The Ruth bill should be called the Ruth-less plan for destroying the principles underlying democratic government.

If I thought the people of Pennsylvania earnestly desired a new Constitution or that they would be allowed to express their unbiased opinion in a fair and free election uninfluenced by the vast expenditure of public monies so lavishly poured forth I would certainly vote to submit this question to their decision, but a proper determination at this time is well nigh impossible.

The attitude of the "New Dealers" at Washington in disregarding the Constitutional provisions for protection of the property and personal liberty of the individual citizens gives pause to any one interested in our Country's welfare when the subject of Constitutional revision arises.

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, a prominent Democrat, in referring to the gold seizure says:

> "Our Constitution provides no citizen's property shall be taken except by due process of law and for just compensation rendered.
> "The citizen forced to surrender his gold dollars was paid in paper representing 49 per cent of the gold taken from him and the government, with hypocritical and smiling countenance, boasts that it made two billion eight hundred million dollars by the transaction.
> "What the government took it took by force. What the government made in profits it made by force The citizen, therefore, was despoiled by force; that is to say, was robbed by his own government."

But the seizure of gold was only one of the many acts of petty tyranny which are gradually bringing us nearer and nearer to the time when as individuals and States we will be helpless under the domination of the Executive at Washington.

The "Brain-Trusters" at Washington declare their purpose to be a redistribution of the wealth of the country. Mr. Hopkins says that this is a fight between those who have and those who have not. If, however, we take half of what George has and give it to John, each does not retain the same amount, for when it becomes necessary to make another distribution, we must take part of what George has left as John will have already dissipated what was given to him. This is so simple a truth that I cannot easily believe that the brain-trusters do not discern it. I can more readily think that they do see it and know that thus the sooner will chaos result and there will come the dictatorship in which they hope to have a prominent part.

As a reason for a new Constitution, I have frequently heard persons advocating some new or fancy idea of reform, declaring that Pennsylvania is behind the other states of the Union. Those who thus speak disparagingly of our Commonwealth usually have some ulterior motive in view.

Statistics may be adjusted to prove almost anything but I do not find our citizens going elsewhere because the state fails to provide for education, for the health of its people, or because living conditions are worse or there is less happiness here than in other states. So the United States is compared with Russia to our disadvantage. Communistic theories run riot. But Emma Goldman, the arch-communist has fled from Russia in horror at the excesses committed by its government.

And Bob Ripley (of Believe-it-or-not fame) after referring to the conditions in Russia under which millions starved to death says: "Yes, I've mingled with the people of 178 different countries of the world in my travels and I know that despite the depression, which is world wide, the United States still has more prosperity, more freedom, more tolerance, and more happiness than any other nation in the world."

What I am trying to do is to show that our American institutions and methods have not failed despite all the propaganda to the contrary and that we should not permit any chance for any tampering with our basic principles of government.

Honorable William R. Pattagall, Chief Justice of the Supreeme Judicial Court of Maine, a prominent democrat of that State said:

> "The American people have grown so accustomed to the enjoyment of civil . . . liberty, so used to living their own lives in their own way, to being protected in their property rights, to looking upon government and law as a protective force rather than as an imposition of the will of others on them, that just as > [illegible] forget the value of the air they breathe, the water they drink, so have they ceased to regard the great privileges of American citizenship in their true light . . . The danger of today is not the loss of liberty by use of force. Rather it lies in a supine surrender of the rights of freedom to a seductive program of paternalism, gradually changing the form of our government from a representative republic to a bureaucratic State, mildly despotic in action, dangerously experimental, in which human rights and property rights cease to rest upon the firm foundation of established law and come to depend upon the whim of the temporary majority.

and—

> "When the judiciary strive to find reason for upholding laws enacted at the behest of noisy minorities; when the plain and simple language of Federal and State Constitution is given new and strange meaning in order to meet assumed existing emergencies; when the sovereignty of the individual States is disregarded; when men are denied the right to buy and sell the products of their labor in the open market place, fixing the prices of the goods in which they deal by bargain with their fellows; when the farmer is forbidden to sow and reap on the land he owns according to his own best judgment; when every detail of the daily business life of the citizeen is ordered by officials, not of his choosing; when written agreements cease to have a binding force, even upon government itself—the Nation which the Civil War was fought to preserve will have ceased to be . . . . "

Judge Offutt of Maryland has raised the finger of warning with these words:

> "If the American people prefer socialism to democracy, or collectivism to individualism, or a government of men to a written constitution, a few judges and an ancient document will never stand in the way. The American Constitution derives its force and its influence from the sanction and approval of the American people. When that is withdrawn it fails."

The Sun-Telegraph of Pittsburgh, referring to a recent book by Mr. Tugwell, quotes from the book as follows: "'For many years,' says Tugwell (page 541), 'the technical task of devising plans for regulating our complex economic interests was too difficult to attempt. But today we know that this is no longer true, for Russia has shown that planning is practicable.'" And the paper comments, "What do the free people of America think of that statement of Tugwell's?"

The article goes on to quote further from this book, and says: "This Tugwell, on another page, speaks of the difficulty in attaining the 'experimental habit of mind.' He explains it as due to 'the UNREASONING, almost HYSTERICAL ATTACHMENT of certain Americans TO THE CONSTITUTION.'"

Is it any wonder that I hesitate to submit to a convention the subject of the revision of our Constitution when men in such high authority express such views? They would even take away from us our Bill of Rights.

Therefore, let us give up Constitution-making until we thoroughly regrasp the true principles upon which America was founded, and which made and have kept Pennsylvania the Keystone of the Nation. Let us re-dedicate ourselves, Democrats and Republicans, to the task of saving our nation from Facism and Communism alike. This can only be done by protecting inviolate the basic principles of our fundamental laws both from attacks of government and of individuals or groups. One of the best methods of protecting these principles is to deny the radicals of our State an opportunity to destroy them.

And so, at a time when the air is poisoned with the propaganda of radical [illegible] are corrupted by the vast out-pouring of relief and doles, on this subject of Constitutional Revision, Mr. President, I shall vote "no".

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 150 (House Bill No. 147), entitled:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new or revised Cnstitution by convention and its adoption or rejection by the people providing for the nomination of delegates to the convention and for their election and for a vote of the electors on the question of calling such a convention and making an appropriation

Section 18 It shall be the duty of the convention subject to the Constitution of the United States of America to draft prepare and propose a new or revised Canstitution for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The convention in the proposed constitution shall not authorize the future creation of indebtedness for any purposes other than those enumerated in article nine section four of the existing Constitution of the Commonwealth as originally adopted by the people on December sixteenth one thousand eight hundred seventy-three unless the General Assembly shall at the time the indebtedness is authorized be required to enact legislation estimated to produce sufficient revenue to pay the interest on such indebtedness and provide for the retirement thereof at maturity. The indebtedness authorized to be created for the purpose of supplying casual deficiencies in revenue shall never together with any existing indebtedness created for such purpose exceed in the aggregate at any one time fifty million dollars.

If the convention shall not observe the limitations imposed by this section any taxpayer may proceed by bill in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County to restrain the submission to the electors of the proposed Constitution and for this purpose jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. The convention may be a majority vote submit the proposed new or revised Constitution to the qualified voters of the Commonwealth for their adoption or rejection at the spring primary election in the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six or at the general election in the year one thosand nine hundred thirty-six as the convention may designate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, page 2, line 8, by striking out the words "in which the number of this act;" also page 2, line 9, by striking out all of said line; also page 2, line 11, by striking out the words "in accordance with and"; also page 2, line 12, 13 and 14, by striking out all of said lines; also page 2, line 15, by striking out the words "session of the Legislature"; also section 18, page 11, line 12, by striking out the words "The convention"; also page 11, lines 13 to 28, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also page 12, lines 1 to 4, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also page 12, line 5, by striking out the words "Dauphin County".

Mr. RICE. Mr. President. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the matter before the Senate is the Constitution Revision Bill introduced in the House and passed there, and which has been in the Senate Committee for upwards of two months. It is now on second reading in the Senate.

I am very glad to hear, from the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, that he is in favor of submitting this question of Constitutional Revision in a clear and explicit manner, so that the public may vote on whether they are for a Constitutional Convention or whether they are against it.

Now, both political parties, the Democratic Party and the Republican Party, last year declared themselves unequivocally for a Constitutional Convention. All of the conditions leading up to that warranted the parties in so declaring; and the conduct of the Legislature up to this time in this session warrants us in believing that there is real reason in Pennsylvania for a revision. In this Senate alone yesterday we acted upon three separate resolutions to amend the present Consitution. There are nine additional resolutions pending in the House, at this time, to amend this Constitution.

The records show that to put a vote upon one resolution in Pennsylvania costs the State $25,000.00. The cost, therefore, for the twelve propositions we have before the Legislature at the present time will pretty nearly be equal to the cost of a Convention to revise the Constitution.

I am offering an amendment to the early part of this bill, which provides a question in this form: "Shall a Constitutional Convention be called in accordance with, and subject to, the limitations contained in this Act?" I am offering an amendment to this proposition, so that the voter may vote "yes" or "no" on the question of a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether the amendments he now proposes merely strike out the limitations provided in this bill (Printer's No. 869) and submit to the people the question, solely, "Shall there be a Constitutional Convention called?"

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, that is all.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is that the sole purpose of the amendments?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. Presideent, that is part. I will offer another amendment to submit the question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senate to vote down these amendments, and I would like, for just a moment, to call the Senate's attention to what this means. Under the bill as drafted he question submitted to the people is this, "Shall a Constitutional Convention be called in accordance with, and subject to, the limitations contained in the Act?"

Now, on page 11 of the Act I want to call the Senate's attention to what those limitations are: "The Convention in the proposed Constitution shall not authorize the future creation of indebtedness for any purposes other than those enumerated in article nine, section four, of the existing Constitution of the Commonwealth, as originally adopted by the people on December sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred seventy-three, unless the General Assembly shall at the time the indebtedness is authorized be required to enact legislation estimated to produce sufficient revenue to pay the interest on such indebtedness and provide for the retirement thereof at maturity."

now, Mr. President, that limitation mereely says that, when this Convention convenes, if they provide for additional borrowing power by the State of Pennsylvania the Constitution shall require the Legislature to enact tax laws sufficient at the time of the creation of that indebtedness to pay off the indebtedness when it is due. In other words, that limitation would require that when the Legislature creates an indebtedness of this Commonwealth they must provide the revenues to pay it. It would prevent, Mr. President, the spectacle we are having in Washington now of doling out money for any purpose that for the moment seems justifiable, without thought as to how it is going to be paid back, without regard to who is going to pay it, with no thought of the future whatever; and I say, Mr. President, that if we are to have any orderly creation of makes no sense any brakes on wild spending in this country, you are only going to get it by requiring that when that indebtedness is created there are taxes levied to pay it back; and that is the purpose of that limitation.

It does not say you cannot borrow money for any purpose whatsoever, but it does say that if money is borrowed you must levy taxes to pay it back; and I submit, Mr. President, that if any such limitation were in our Federal Constitution today we would not have the spectacle that we have now of the creation, during four years, of indebtedness more than we had during wartime, with no thought or no regard of how that is going to be paid back.

Now, the additional limitation which is contained in this bill, and which this amendment would eliminate, provides that any indebtedness authorized to be created for the purpose of supplying casual deficiencies in revenue shall never, together with any indebtedness created for such purposes, exceed in the aggregate, at any one time, $50,000,000.00.

Now, there seems to have been some misapprehension as to what that limitation means. It means merely this, Mr. President, I submit: That at no time shall the Legislature—or shall our Constitution authorize the creation of indebtedness for casual, ordinary expenses of government in excess of $50,000,000.00

Now, our present Constitution provides a limitation, for that same purpose, of only $1,000,000.00. It does not say that indebtedness cannot be created for any other purpose exceeding $50,000,000.00, but it does say that sound business judgment requires that the current expenses of the government shall be paid out of current revenues, that we shall balance our budget; and it says that only to the extent of $50,000,000.00 shall we ever be permitted to borrow money to balance our budget for the ordinary expenses of the government.

Now, this provision which they seek to strike out also contains a clause that "If the Convention shall not observe the limitations imposed by this section any taxpayer may proceed, by bill in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County to restrain the submission to the electors of the proposed Constitution and for this purpose jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County." In other words, it sets up the machinery to prevent the Constitutional Convention, if called, from exceeding that limitation.

Now, this limitation does not consider wiping out all our courts; it does not consider the wiping out of our Senate, making a unicameral system; it does not contemplate doing anything the New Deal suggests; it is all up to this Convention. But it does say that if they borrow money they must provide the taxes to pay it back; and I ask the Senate, Mr. President, to vote down these amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply want to advise the Senate that what the Senator says comes much nearer home. We voted an appropriation of $50,000,000.00 for the Soldiers' Bonus and made no provision for paying it back. If you will look in the budget you will find $15,000,000.00 for that purpose.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have great respect for the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, because I have been informed of his legal learning, and that he is a very capable attorney-at-law, and that he is familiar with the laws and the Constitution of these United States; but I would ask, under what Constitutional theory does the Senator from Tioga justify the restrictions and limitations, imposed upon the Constitutional Convention, contemplated in the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to answer that to the best of my ability. It perhaps involves a declaration of the fundamental theory of the adoption of a Constitution. I take it that all authority, and all powers of government, ultimately come from the people. The theory of this restriction is this: If the people go to the polls in September, as provided in this Act, and say, in answer to this question: "Shall a Constitutional Convention be called in accordance with, and subject to, the limitations contained in this Act?"—and the people, who are the sovereign power, walk into those polls and vote "yes", the people have said the Constitutional Convention shall be called, but they shall be limited as provided in this Act. In other words, the limitation then becomes a limitation placed upon this Convention by the people, who hold the sovereign power, and who are the ones that in the last analysis create the Constitution and the Constitutional Convention.

Therefore I say, Mr. President, that, from all fundamental considerations, the people, who hold this fundamental power, have the right—and will use it, under this Act—to place any limitation they please on this Constitutional Convention. If they do no want the Convention called with this limitation, they can vote "no".

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, assuming that the citizens of this Commonwealth desire a Constitutional Convention without a limitation, does the bill as proposed by the Senator from Tioga permit the people to exercise that sovereign power?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it only permits the people to vote on a Constitutional Convention with the borrowing power limited as I have just read.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, by what authority does this Assembly undertake to dictate to the sovereign people of Pennsylvania what nature of a Constitution they shall have?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we do not attempt to dictate to the people in any respect whatever; but we say to them, "we are giving you an opportunity to say whether you want a new Constitution subject to these limitations." If they do not want it subject to those limitations, they can vote "no".

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, we have talked here this morning of dictators and of Russia and of every other kind of undemocratic government, and here, at this time, we are trying to jam down the throats of the people of this Commonwealth that very principle; we are going to take from them the right to give a Constiuional Convention unlimited power to write a Constitution as the people might want it; we are going to put a question to them that they are either going to take a Constitution such as the gentleman from Tioga and his cohorts wish to give them or they will take no Constitution at all; and if that isn't dictatorship in the highest degree, Mr. President, I don't understand the word "dictatorship" in the English language.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I just want to say that it does not come with very good grace from those who advocated the calling of a Constitutional Convention without asking the people whether they wanted it at all or not.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in order that the minds of the Senators may not be confused on the issue here in regard to limitations, I want to call attention to the fact that the striking out of this limitation clause only says that we are going to give the people a chance to vote definately on whether they want a Convention. That is, as one issue, not a limited issue or a complete issue; the Convention will have the power, in the Constitution which they create, to set any limitation which the Convention may desire, and then the people, on the basis of that, will have an opportunity to exercise their franchise as to whether they are willing to accept a Constitution with whatever limitation the Convention may set; or, in case the Convention may not set a limitation, the people will have the right to refuse that Constitution because it does not set a limit.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I am very much inclined to see the reasonable aspect of the remarks of Senator Cavalcante. We have heard a good deal about dictatorship here this morning, and yet I repeat that for the Senate of Pennsylvania to attempt to dictate to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the frame of government that they should have, is of itself the highest sort of dictatorial manipulation of legislative machinery. We see right here in this Ruth Bill, as it has been butchered up by the Committee on Constituitonal Changes that the people of this State, under the terms of this bill, as it now appears on the calendar, have no right to say what frame of government they shall have, except such as is dictated by the Senate of Pennsylvania, and we have constitutionally and governmentally the situation under the provisions of this bill where the 'tail is wagging the dog". Of course, this is not the real reason that provisions of this kind are put in this bill as it exists today. I do not believe that it is so much the idea of the members of this Committee which has reported out this bill nor the people who offer these amendements. I would hesitate to think that they would set themselves up as a dictatorship for the people of this State. I rather prefer to think of these provisions of the bill as simply calculated to so befuddle the issue in connection with the revision of this Constitution that the people of this State at large cannot understand what they are voting on, and that the framers of these amendments thereby hope to have the Constitution as a whole, or the calling of the Convention defeated by these master strategists of the art of confusion, because I have never seen that so well demonstrated as it has been in the provisions of these amendments.

Now let us look at this question of the borrowing capacity of the State. What has the borrowing capacity of the State of Pennsylvania to do with the calling of a Constitutional Convention? The people of this State have the right in the Constitutional Convention after calling, to say what borrowing capacity, if any, they want, this State government to have. Maybe the people of this State, after the Convention convenes, if it ever does convene, will not want the State to have any borrowing capacity. Then do we have to be dictated to by this Committee and say we must have a current borrowing capacity of fifty million dollars? It is not a question that the borrowing capacity of this State that is important at this time. The question before the people is, shall we have a Constitutional Convention? The distinguished gentleman who heads this Committee on Constitutional Changes knows as well as I do that the Supreme Court of this State has never dared to say that the Legislature could limit in any respect what a Constitutional Convention could do with respect to the provisions of such a Constitution as might be reported out of this Convention. This is one of those attempts again to confuse the minds of the people of the State of Pennsylvania on these issues.

Now this question of capital borrowing capacity. Can the most estute lawyers in this Senate say whether under the provisions of these amendments the State of Pennsylvania would have any Constitutional borrowing capacity for capital purposes apart from the alleged limitation for current purposes? No, it cannot from thee terms of this bill. Another demonstration of the art of confusion, and why is it done? So that if anything should come out of this Constitution not in conformity with the will of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, any taxpayer could step into the Courts of Dauphin County and again confuse the issue, or can do it before the Convention even convenes under these circumstances, or, while the Convention is in Session, and hold up the whole works and confuse the issue, so that ultimately all attempts at revision might be destroyed by the demonstration of this masterful art of confusion.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I say to you what we have got to make our minds to do on this is, do we want to call a Constitutional Convention? If we do, let us call a Constitutional Convention. If we do not, if we want to revise this Constitution ourselves, when we are ready to adjourn this Session of the Senate, let us resolve ourselves into a Constitutional Convention, if we want to do the revising and not leave it up to the people of this State. If we want to do the revising, why don't we come out in the open and say to the people of the State of Pennsylvania, "here is a Constitution such as we would give you", instead of trying to hide behind these subterfuges to kill it? Again I say, Mr. President, to confuse the minds of the people, and that is another issue.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask just one question, whether or not the Ruth Bill, the Democratic Administration bill, when it came to this body, provided any way in which the people could express themselves as to whether or not they wanted a Convention?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe whether he said that the Ruth Bill provided a way in which the people could express themselves on this important subject.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I disagree with the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, and I ask him to explain how and where in the bill it provided any way in which the people of this State could vote on this subject.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not think I understand the question.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will repeat the question:

When the Democratic Bill, the Administration Bill, came to this body, after passing the House, whether or not it provided in that bill any way in which the people of this State could express themselves as to whether or not they wanted a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I recall the bill now. I think the bill originally provided how the Convention should be called, and provided that the Constitution, if adopted by the Convention, should be submitted to the people at the end.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the question has not been answered. I still ask the question as to whether or not the people had a right to vote on the question in the original Ruth bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I am advised they had the right to vote on that at the same time they elected delegates.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is not correct, and I would like the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman to read that part of the bill which gives the people the right to vote.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it seems to me that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, has more information on the original bill as drawn and submitted to the House than I have.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I did say that the people of Pennsylvania, under the original Ruth bill, would not have the right to vote on this question.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it is not material to me, and I think it is not material to the Senate, what was contained in this bill when it started in the House; we are dealing with the bill as it is today. I am offering amendments to this bill so that the public in Pennsylvania may vote 'yes' or 'no' on the question whether they shall have a Constitutional Convention, and it does not matter to me what it contained in the past. We amend these bills one way or another, both in the House and in the Senate, and what I do say is the public voted on this question a year ago. The two big parties in Pennsylvania declared for a Constitutional Convention, not with restrictions, and, as this bill is before the Senate now, there is nothing to present to the public so that they can vote "yes" or "no" on this question. There has never been a Constitutional Convention held in Pennsylvania from 1776 down to the present when any such question as this has ever been submitted to the people. As was said by the Senator from Centre, this undoubtedly is an attempt to confuse the voters so that they will vote this proposition down. It is not fair; it is not fair to the men and women who are for a Constitutional Convention. It contains three propositions. If a man is for a restriction of less than fifty million dollars, he must vote 'no', yet he may be for a Constitutional Convention; and, if another man is for a limitation of greater than fifty million dollars, he must vote 'no', though he may be for a Constitutional Convention.

I say these people are not for a Constitutional Convention of any character, and this is a design to kill this bill, if not in the Senate, it is designed to kill it before the public. We are taking it in our hands and doing here the things that the public should have the right to do. They have the right to build up the fundamental law of this State and we promised to give them that chance in this bill. It does not do it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am one of those who believe that the Senate is a deliberative body, and on a question of such importance as this I am not in favor of shutting off debate. I think the subject matter is one of the most vitally important to the interest of the public, and any time you start fooling with the laws, we are bound to endanger the structure, and for that reason I should like to ask the Senator from Monroe a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Monroe whether he is in favor of the suggestion that a Constitutional Convention shall limit the borrowing capacity of the Governor in the Constitution?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, that would be my personal view, if I expressed an opinion. I am for a Constitutional Convention free and untrammeled, so that the public may say 'yes' or 'no', whether they want this revision of the Constitution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, again I repeat the question, whether the Senator from Monroe thinks that any Constitutional Convention at all should limit the borrowing capacity, or whether the borrowing capacity of the State should be limited without regard to whether or not the State is able to pay back.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, if I were elected as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention, I then would be able to answer that question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Monroe answer it now, or give his personal opinion on the matter?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not think it is very material to me whether you have borrowing capacity or not, that is not the question involved.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, so far as a can see, the important question has not yet been answered on this floor. There has been a great deal of discussion and charges made about camouflage and subterfuge. I, as a member of this Senate, in order to be able to vote intelligently on the suggested amendment, I think I am entitled to a definite answer on the purpose and the reason back of the suggested amendments. Therefore, I am going to express my views if I cannot get the answers from these members.

I say that no State should give unlimited power to borrow money which has governed itself and gone along for a period of sixty years, as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has, through emergencies almost as great as we are passing through now, without a borrowing capacity. We have gotten along up until three or four years ago with a borrowing capacity limited to one million of dollars. If the objection to this Constitutional Convention with the suggestive restrictions upon it is that it is illegal, then my answer to that is that the people elected to the Convention can disregard it and there will not be any trouble. If these people say that we have no right to question the authority of the people when they do convene, then they need have no concern over this limitation. If they contend that the Convention should be limited and that it is right and proper that when borrowing be done by the State as well as business, that the State should govern its affairs just as any sane businessman will, that he will not borrow money without any idea of how he is going to pay it, then the limitation is a good one.

If my friends fear that the issue might be confused, again I say to them, that they are admitting that they have an inferior complex, because I think with their position in Pennsylvania today, they can easily go out and tell the people to vote for this Constitution, "these fellows who put this limitation in did not know anything about Constitutional Law, you vote for the Convention, and at the Convention you do whatever you want. You are the power."

If it is criticism of our method, then I say that this bill shows on its face that we are not disregarding the rights of the people and that the people who framed this bill disregarded the rights, because after all, whether a Constitutional Convention is wanted or not depends on what the people say about it, not what the Legislature, nor the individual who draws the bill for any particular member say about it. This bill, when in its original form, directed that an election should be held for the purpose of electing delegates to a Constitutional Convention, the date of which is fixed in the bill, and there is nothing in this bill which ever gave the people, in its original form, the right to say whether they wanted the Constitutional Convention or not. I do not know whether the people want a Constitutional Convention. I have not had any agitation in my district on it, nobody has approached me to say they want me to vote for or against a Constitutional Convention. I have heard the candidates for the two political parties discuss it, but I have not heard any people getting worked up about it. I admit, however, personally, that there is reason for a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of enabling us to borrow money to meet an emergency. I have said that before, and I maintain that position, but I have also said before, and still maintain, that there should be no borrowing by a State unless there is a provision made for repaying the borrowed money. It is easy to borrow money and easy to give away the money that we borrow, but the difficult proposition is to know how you are going to pay it back. Nobody is objecting to the borrowing, but when it comes to paying back, the real question arises. It seems to me the safe and sane manner of legislating when we authorize or suggest that a Convention be called, that we say to these people that when you are amending the Charter in this one particular phrase, "you remember our experience, we could get along without borrowing for seventy years, now, if we got through those emergencies, we want the people to know how they are going to pay the money back, so that when they vote on borrowing, they will be voting on the paying back at the same time."

I make the suggestion now, that if the people who are going to vote for this Convention are not intelligent enough to understand the provisions of this Act, then I am afraid to trust them with a Convention, and with the Constitution of this great State. I have faith in the people, faith enough to know that those who are asked to vote on this Constitutional question will understand that they are asked to vote only in one way, that the representatives whom they send shall not only use the vernacular phrase 'haywire' and not simply upset their form of government upon which they have come to rely, and I say to my friends that this is a time not to call names or to talk about subterfuge, but to discuss openly and frankly what is the real objection to this bill in the form in which we have it. We are going to have a Constitutional Convention if the people want it, it does not make any difference whether the Democrats want it, or the Republicans do not want it, the question is, whether the people want it, and when they want it, to say to these delegates, as we say here, "restrict the borrowing power." I have looked around the various States in dealing with this subject, and I find our sister State, New York, when they authorized borrowing, limited it, my recollection is, that State of New York limits the borrowing capacity to one-half of the regular anticipated revenue. They saw fit to limit the borrowing capacity, because from their experience and the experience of other States they found it is unwise to allow unlimited borrowing, and I see no reason why there should be a single objection to the bill in its present form, on that one question, because in my mind I have confidence in the understanding of the people who are being asked to vote on it.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I still believe that a great many of the arguments that are made in favor of the provisisions in the bill as it now stands are beside the issue on Constitutional Revision. The Senator from Philadelphia who has just spoken, Mr. Shapiro, has stated that the people of this State have gotten along for seventy years without borrowing. Mr. President, that is not a fact. The people of this State in the past seventeen years have borrowed hundred of millions of dollars, and that indebtedness is the indebtedness, or a large part of it, is still the indebtedness of this State today, and that indebtedness was borrowed under the terms of the present Constitution by a vote of the people. Now, if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, believes that the people should borrow, why should he not likewise believe that the people should have the say as to what the borrowing capacity of the State should be, and not this Senate, or the Committee which reframed this bill, or any other particular group of persons? I think perhaps that we lose sight of the real purpose of a Constitutional Convention. I think everyone in this Senate will agree with me that apart from such restrictions as are imposed in the Federal Constitution, if we had no form of organic law in this State, that our State government would be substantially unlimited in borrowing under the sovereign character of a State. Secondly, when we call a Constitutional Convention, the only reason that a Constitutional Convention can be called or gathered is to restrict the powers of the government. Of course, one might say that it is to create a frame of government; naturally it is so. I doubt seriously whether any group in the State of Pennsylvania really feels that a change should be made in our frame of government, but outside of that, the only purpose that a Constitutional Convention could be called for under any circumstances, is to limit the operation of that frame of government. Naturally when we call a Constitutional Convention, or when a Constitutional Convention gathers, it is for the purpose of limiting the powers of such frame of government as may be created by that gathering.

Now the amendments to this bill are only calculated for one purpose. Let us get that clear in our minds, and that is, to call a Convention to revise the Constitution. We will call together a body to limit the powers of the frame of government that that body created or continued. That is all these amendments do. They simply strike out the attempted limitations upon the powers of that body, and I say again, that when we tie up in a measure of this kind a limitation of this sort, we only again create confusion for the people, for the Convention, when called, for ourselves, for our Courts, for the interpretation by counsel and parties interested, and for everybody who is affected by any organic form of law which may be adopted by the people of this State, and I ask the members of this Senate to vote for the adoption of these amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am glad my friend brought up the question of borrowing one hundred million dollars. I said that up until three years ago, the Commonwealth had not borrowed any money, except more than one hundred million dollars, which it borrowed from the Highway Fund. If my friend will look at the Act, he will find that it specifically provides for the repayment of that money out of the Motor Fund, and that is the only safe and sane way to borrow money, and that is why the people voted for one hundred million dollars. I say that we have a Soldiers' Bonus that is giving us the trouble we have today, because none of the Senators had the courage of their convictions, I say, to see to it that there shall be no borrowing until we would have a fund set up to pay it back. It is because of the stress brou to bear upon the Senate by those who were particularly interested in that bill, and because the members of this Senate frankly were afraid to meet that issue, that I contend that this Charter being reframed, should have a limitation in it to protect us from our own weakness. Look at the budget of the Governor today and you will find that is the amount of the increased indebtedness, and there is no money to pay it, because when we borrowed the money for the Soldiers' Bonus, we were not business men enough and did not have the courage of our convictions to stand on the floor of the Senate and say "no", there is to be no borrowing until we know where the money is coming from to pay it back. Today we are confronted with borrowing money for a payment of relief emergency and borrowing money to pay for a funded debt that we created, and it is a very unbusinesslike manner, that is why I say I am glad my friend brought that up. Those two are the illustrations that convinced me that the only way to handle the situation is to put in the Constitution that protection against stress or pressure that we do not have the courage of our conviction to withstand.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion, I just want to make one observation. When this great agitation for a new Constitution started in this Commonwealth, many of us were very much afraid of the motive back of it, and the real motive back of it was to tap the great resources of this Commonwealth to give them money to spend, and if they saw fit, without regard to how it was to be paid back. The feeling with which our friends on the other side fight this sound limitation, it is only, it seems to me, pretty convincing proof that our fears were justified. When they stand here and, vociferously as they do, object to a limitation which merely makes them find the money to pay the debt back when they create it, it is pretty good evidence that our fears were justified.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, it seems to me that we have overlooked the possible end to which this limitation may go. It not only affects the limitation on borrowing power which the Convention may set up but it goes further, or may go further. The Convention may set up a different form of amending the new Constitution than we now have for amending our present Constitution, and if it does, is that question of the limitation of borrowing power still going to affect those amendments? Or are they going to protect the right to provide for a changed method of amending? Under this Act can a taxpayer come back and say that the new Constitution provides for a method of amending which may take only two or three years instead of four or five, and that because of that there is a possibility that at some time in the future this provision will be broken? And can they, because of that change, say that this provision of this Act has been violated?

I say we have a great many things to consider, not only on the question of whether a Constitutional Convention shall be called but on the question of the future amending of the Constitution. I think this Senate is facing an issue; I believe that a Convention to change the Constitution of Pennsylvania would place a restriction on the borrowing power, and possibly, in view of the experience we have had, go so far as to not only place that restriction as to the amount we shall be allowed to borrow but also the restriction that we must find the funds to repay it. But I believe that should be left to the intelligence of the Convention—of the delegates selected by the people of Pennsylvania, and not set up in advance, which would serve only to confuse the issue as to whether we shall or shall not have a Convention.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I see nothing wrong with the amendment the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, has offered. It puts the clean-cut question up to the people as to whether or not they want a Convention. If the people want a Convention, then they elect the delegates; and they will surely elect delegates that will do the thing that is right; and even if the delegates do not do what the people want them to do, the people, Senator Harris, in the final analysis, have the right to review or reject what the delegates do; and I think that is a nice system of procedure. The people, in the first place, decide whether they want a Convention; then, in the next step, they elect the delegates; and then, in the final analysis, they decide whether what the delegates have done is in accordance with their wishes or not.

So the whole thing, my friends, is up to the people; and I have always been a Democrat for the sole and only reason that I believe in the sovereign power of the people. I am willing in this case to leave the whole question to the decision of the people; and I favor Senator Huffman's amendments.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, yes sir.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if the people of this Commonwealth desire to call a Convention without any restrictions or limitations upon their functions, does the bill now under consideration, without the amendments, permit such a Convention?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, yes. I am taking the Democratic view of it—that the provision is illegal; all they have to do is, vote for the Convention and disregard the restriction.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Then, Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, being a highly reputed and well learned ——

Mr. SHAPIRO. Well learned, Mr. President, —but the reputation is bad.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Member of the legal profession of this Commonwealth, upon what theory, upon what principle of common sense, upon what principle of reason should we then include in this bill a matter that, he will agree with us, is of doubtful legality?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr President, I am trying to fathom the involved portion of the question of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante. I should say, common sense has very little to do with the reason, if I had been listening with any ear to the discussion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am asking, as to my contention that the people who must vote upon this Constitutional Convention shall vote upon whether they shall have a Constitutional Convention with limitations or no Convention at all—as to the opinion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my answer is that I do not think the Democrats have a monopoly on intelligence any more than the Republicans do; and when this question comes before the people—to vote upon, it is the expression of the Legislature, to say to them, "We would like to have an answer to a question we are putting to you." After all, my thought is that the Legislature initiates the calling of a Convention, and the Legislature has the right to say to the people, "We ask you this question." And when we get an answer to it, we will know what the people want; and if the people say they do not want this kind of a Convention, we will let the Democrats come here and try to coerce us into giving them another kind of a Convention.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is all right, but if they are going to try to jam down the throats of the people of this Commonwealth a Constitution to their liking, and if the people vote it down, then we can give them the kind of a Constitutional Convention that the people of this Commonwealth, under representative constitutional government, have the right to demand right now, at this very moment, upon the floor of this Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is that a question?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am afraid that if it were the gentleman from Philadelphia would not understand it any way, because he does not understand any language that means the proper invocation of the sovereign will of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I confess, frankly—I do not want to get into personalities, but I want to make a confession—I do not understand any language that comes from Fayette County.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the only language that my friend from Philadelphia understands probably is the language that has the nomenclature of Mr. A. W. Mellon attached to it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, he is my uncle.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Rupp,
Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Sones,
Huffman,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Miller,	Roberts,	(Centre)

NAYS—31

Aron,	Gelder,	McClure,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Norton,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Bennett,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Buckman,	Homsher,	Prince,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Howell,	Reed,	Trainer,
Clark,	Hunsicker,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Coyne,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, page 2, by inserting between lines 18 and 19 the following paragraph: "Below such question shall appear the words "voters favoring the holding of a constitutional convention will mark a cross (x) to the right of the word 'Yes'. Those opposing the holding of a convention will mark a cross (x) to the right of the word 'No'.": also page 3, line 1, by inserting after the word "question" the following: "otherwise a separate ballot containing such question shall be supplied each voter"; also page 3, line 10, by inserting after the word "effect the following: "and thereafter the convention shall be constituted and convened as hereinafter provided in this act"; also section 4, page 4, line 1, by inserting after the word "shall" the following: "be a qualified elector of this Commonwealth and shall"; also page 4, line 3, by striking out the words "qualified elector" and inserting in lieu thereof: "resident."

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, kindly explain to the Senate the purpose of these amendments?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this substitutes certain language so that you may vote "yes" or "no." It is a part of the amendment affecting the first portion of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Monroe mean that the amendment goes with the one just previously offered?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether, in view of the defeat of the previous amendments by the Senate, there is any purpose of adopting the amendment just offered.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, no.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senate to vote "no" on this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. RICE and were taken as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Rupp,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

The nineteenth to twenty-fourth sections inclusive of the bill were read as follows:

Section 19 Such Constitution as may be proposed by the constitutional convention shall be engrossed and signed by the President and Secretary of the convention and shall if possible be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the tenth day of March if it is to be submitted at the spring primary in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and not later than the fifteenth day of September if it is to be submitted at the general election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records of his office He shall cause the proposed Constitution to be published in three newspapers of general circulation as defined by the Newspaper Advertising Act of May sixteenth one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 784) in every county of the Commonwealth wherein such number of newspapers may be published three times before the date of the election at which the proposed Constitution is to be submitted to the electors The newspapers selected in each county shall be those having the largest bona fide circulation He shall also publish the same in convenient form for distribution and shall send a copy thereof to every elector of the Commonwealth making application therefor

Section 20 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall prepare the proposed Constitution on a special ballot to be designated as "Constitution Ballot" for submission to the voters of the Commonwealth in such form and with such instructions as will enable each voter to indicate by a "yes" or "no" vote his approval or rejection of the proposed Constitution as a whole Such ballots shall be bound into books of convenient numbers with stubs and the ballot and the stub shall bear the name of the county in which the ballot is to be used The stubs shall be numbered consecutively beginning with the number one in each county Each ballot shall have at the upper right-hand corner of the back of the ballot a diagonal perforated printed line and upon the corner of the ballot and included within such line shall be printed the same number as appears on the stub to which the ballot is attached Such number so printed on the ballot shall be removed by the voter in the manner provided by the election laws for removal of such numbers before the ballot is deposited in the ballot box

Section 21 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause to be printed a sufficient number of official "Constitution Ballots" for all the voters of this Commonwealth and at least ten days before the election at which such proposed Constitution is submitted shall distribute the same to the county commissioners of the several counties of the Commonwealth The county commissioners shall at the time distribution is made of the usual ballots for such election distribute the constitution ballots to each of the several voting precincts in their respective counties in sufficient quantities to provide such ballots for the voters of each respective county

Section 22 A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed Constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed Constitution if approved by a majority of electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed Constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six if voted on at the spring primary in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven if voted on at the general election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed Constitution shall be counted canvassed and returned by election officers and return boards as provided by law in the case of votes cast on proposed amendments to the Constitution and shall be certified by the prothonotary of each and every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from such certificate it shall appear that the proposed Constitution shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 23 The sum of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the General Fund of the State Treasury for the payment of the compensation of members of the constitutional convention and the compensation of the officers and assistants of the convention for the payment of all the expenses lawfully incurred by the Commonwealth and for the payment of postage telegraph telephone advertising printing and express charges and all incidental and miscellaneous expenses lawfully incurred by the convention or its officers or the Secretary of the Commonwealth to carry out the provisions of this act All payments from this appropriation shall be made on the warrant of the Auditor General upon requisition of the President of the convention or of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be

Section 24 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 2, page 3, line 12, by striking out the word "fifty" and inserting in lieu thereof: "one hundred two"; also page 3, line 13, by striking out the word "one" and inserting in lieu thereof: "three"; also page 3, line 14, by striking out the word "senatorial" and inserting in lieu thereof: "congressional"; also page 3, line 14, by striking out the word "twenty" and inserting in lieu thereof: "twenty-seven"; also section 3, page 3, line 17 to 27, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also section 4, page 4, line 1, by striking out the figure "4" and inserting in lieu thereof: "3"; also page 4, line 8, by striking out the word "senatorial" and inserting in lieu thereof: "congressional"; also section 5, page 4, line 10, by striking out the figure "5" and inserting in lieu thereof: "4"; also page 4, line 12, by striking out the words "in the manner hereinafter set"; also page 4, line 13, by striking out the word "forth" and inserting in lieu thereof: "at the fall primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five"; also page 4, line 13, by striking out the words "one candidate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two candidates"; also page 4, line 14, by striking out the word "senatorial" and inserting in lieu thereof: "congressional"; also page 4, line 15, by striking out the word "delegate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "delegates"; also page 4, line 15, by striking out the word "ten" and inserting in lieu thereof: "eighteen"; also page 4, line 17, by striking out the words "Such political parties shall nominate their candi-"; also page 4, lines 18 to 29, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also page 5, lines 1 to 17, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following new paragraphs:

"Nomination petitions for district delegates shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of representative in Congress, and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the congressional district within which the respective candidates shall reside. Nomination petitions for delegates-at-large shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of United States Senator, and shall be signed by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least ten counties of the Commonwealth.

"In nominating the delegates for each congressional district, each elector shall be entitled to vote for not more than two of the candidates for delegates from the district, and the two candidates of each party receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared nominated. In nominating the delegates-at-large, each elector shall be entitled to vote for not more than eighteen of the candidates for nomination as delegates from the Commonwealth at large, and the eighteen candidates of each party receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared nominated.

"The votes cast at the said primary election for the nomination of district delegates and delegates-at-large shall be counted, canvassed, returned, tabulated and certified in a manner provided by law in the case of votes for candidates for nomination at primary elections for the office of Representative in Congress or United States Senator, as the case may be.

"Nominations for district delegates and delegates-at-large, made as herein provided, shall be in full force and effect in the event that the electors at the said primary election shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convenion, but in the event that the electors at such primary election shall not authorize the holding of a constitutional convention, the nominations for delegates made at said primary election shall be void and of no force or effect whatsoever"; also section 6, page 5, line 18, by striking out the figure "6" and inserting in lieu thereof: "5"; also page 5, line 26, by striking out the words "Senate of Pennsylvania except that such"; also page 5, line 27, by striking out all of said line; also page 5, line 28, by striking out the words "period of time hereinafter provided in this act" and inserting in lieu thereof: "House of Representatives of the United States"; also page 6, line 1, by striking out the words "one candidate"; also page 6, line 2, by striking out the words "for district delegate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two candidates for district delegates"; also page 6, line 3, by striking out the word "ten" and inserting in lieu thereof: "eighteen"; also section 7, page 6, lines 4 to 18, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also section 8, page 6, line 19, by striking out the figure "8" and inserting in lieu thereof: "6"; also page 6, line 19, by striking out the words "whose name" and inserting in lieu thereof: "who"; also page 6, line 19, by striking out the word "presented" and inserting in lieu thereof: "nominated"; also page 6, line 24, by striking out the words "at least twenty-two"; also page 6, line 25, by striking out the words "days previous to the day of"; also page 6, line 25, by striking out the words "said municipal"; also page 6, line 26, by striking out the word "election" and inserting in lieu thereof: "within the time and in the manner provided by law for the withdrawal of candidates nominated at fall primary elections"; also section 9, page 6, line 28, by striking out the word "9" and inserting in lieu thereof: "7"; also page 6, line 29, by striking out the figure "fourteen" and inserting in lieu thereof: "thirty"; also page 7, line 2, by striking out the words "and the sheriff"; also page 7, line 4, by striking out the word "duplicate"; also page 7, line 5, by striking out the word "whose"; also page 7, line 6, by striking out all of said line; also page 7, line 7, by striking out the words "with him" and inserting in lieu thereof: "nominated"; also page 7, line 7, by striking out the words "and have"; also page 7, line 8, by striking out the words "not been found"; also page 7, line 8, by striking out the words "or declared to be invalid"; also section 10, page 7, line 12, by striking out the figure "10" and inserting in lieu thereof: "8"; also page 7, line 20, by striking out the word "delegate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "delegates"; also page 7, line 24, by striking out the word "Delegate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "Delegates"; also page 8, line 2, by striking out the word "the" where it appears before the word "candidate" and inserting in lieu thereof: "each"; also page 8, by inserting between lines 24 and 25 the following new section: "Section 9 In choosing the delegates for each congressional district, each elector shall be entitled to vote for not more than two of the candidates for delegates from a district, and the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. as it may determine"; also section 20, page 13, line 21, by striking out the bracket before the word "or"; also page 13, line 23, by striking out the bracket after the word "separately"; also section 21, page 14, line 14, by striking out the word "is" and inserting in lieu thereof: "or any parts thereof are"; also section 22, page 14, line 24, by striking out the bracket before the word "or"; also section 22, page 14, line 25, by striking out the bracket after the word "separately"; also page 14, line 26, by striking out the bracket before the word "and"; also page 14, line 27, by inserting after the word "parts" the word: "thereof"; also page 14, line 27, by striking out the word "thereof"; also page 15, line 7, by striking out the bracket before the word "and"; also page 15, line 8, by striking out the bracket after the word "separately"; also page 15, line 16, by striking out the bracket at the beginning of the line, before the word "or"; also page 15, line 16, by striking out the bracket after the word "separately".

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The President. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether these amendments change the districts from Senatorial to Congressional.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, they do.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Monroe whether that is all these amendments do.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Monroe explain why then, on page three, this provision is in the amendment? "Nominations for district delegates and delegates-at-large, made as herein provided, shall be in full force and effect in the event that the electors at the said primary election shall authorize the holding of a Constitutional Convention."

If the delegates are not to be elected in November, as this Act provides, what is the purpose of having that provision in these amendments now offered?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not think I get the Senator's question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in the bill as now drawn, the question of calling a Constitutional Convention is submitted to the electors at the September primaries. If the people vote in favor of a Constitutional Convention, delegates are then nominated as provided in the Act, and they are elected at the Fall November election, Why, then, do these amendments do what the Senator very properly says they do, is there a necessity for this provision, namely, that "nominations for district delegates shall be in full force and effect in the event that the electors at said primaries shall authorize the holding of a convention, but in the event that the electors at such primary election shall not authorize the holding of a Constitutional Convention, the nomination for delegates made at said primary election shall be void and of no force or effect whatsoever."

There would not be any delegates nominated if the people had not previously voted for a Convention. Now, the second set of amendments, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, if they did not provide for the submitting of the work of this Convention piecemeal to the people, as the original Ruth bill provided.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, as I understand it, it provides that they may be submitted either way, piecemeal or in whole.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate vote down the amendments offered.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the bill as it is before the Senate this morning provides for the election of one delegate in every Senatorial District. The amendment provides that there be three delegates elected in every Congressional District. The obvious reason for that is that since they had the right to vote for the two, that the minority in the State shall have representation. If there be but one man elected in a district, it follows, of course, that the minority has no representation in that district. A majority might be elected by fifty and a fraction per cent. and the minority, therefore, would have no representation. If, however, the amendments were adopted, there would be three candidates in the district, with the right to vote for two and in that event the minority would have an opportunity to express itself in the Convention.

It has another feature about it. The Senatorial districts are unevenly divided as to population, and, it seems to me, manifestly unfair, that we elect the delegates from the Senatorial districts. Some of the Senatorial districts in Pennsylvania at the present time, several of them, have upwards of 300,000 population; at least one of them has more than 400,000 population; at least two of the districts have less than 100,000 population. There has been a more recent districting in the Congressional districts than have been in Senatorial districts, and, therefore, from that angle, it seems to me that it is fairer to the voters.

There is one other item. Under the bill as it is before the Senate, there are twenty delegates-at-large to be elected, ten to be nominated by each party. Under the proposed amendment there will be twenty-seven delegates elected, with the right to the voter to vote for but eighteen, again giving the minority in Pennsylvania representation in the Convention.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I understand from the explanation that these amendments are seem to reinstate the provision of the Ruth bill. Under the provisions of the Ruth bill there were one hundred and two district delegates and twenty-seven delegates-at-large. Under the provisions of the bill as now amended and now before the Senate, there are twenty delegates-at-large and one from each Senatorial District, making a total convention of seventy. It was considered by the Committee that a Convention of seventy was much preferable to the larger Convention provided for under the Ruth bill. In addition to that, a considerable study was made and it was ascertained that there were a number of delegates provided under the Ruth bill, in practically no districts of the State could the voting machine be used on account of the large number of candidates whose names would appear. In Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, it was pointed out, it would add tremendous expense, and in many counties of the State the expense to the taxpayers would be great. The Committee thought a Convention of seventy was large enough for a deliberative body such as this.

I want to call the attention of the Senate again to the fact that this bill as amended by this Committee, provides for twenty delegates at large, ten to be voted for with the result that ten nominated by the Democratic State Committee will undoubtedly be elected, as well as the ten nominated by the Republican State Committee, that each Senatorial District elected one. The complexion of the Convention will be determined by the outcome of the Senatorial contest. Now, perhaps, the Senator from Monroe does not know that when the Senate decided on the Senatorial districts—when the Committee decided on it—it was only after consulting many of the Democratic and Republican members, and many of the Democratic, as well as the Republican members preferred the Senatorial districts. It made a well-rounded Convention, and that is why that was chosen.

I, therefore, ask the Senate to vote down the amendments.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, as a citizen of Pennsylvania, apart from my official capacity, I am very much opposed to placing in the hands of Harvey Taylor, the Republican State Chairman, the right to name one-seventh of the personnel of a Constitutional Convention. I do not think that the provisions of this bill, as it stands now, are in any sense representative with respect to the election of the delegates-at-large and only smally representative concerning the election of district delegates. I have here the numbers of the residents of the different congressional and senatorial districts in our State, and I just want to read you the first seven of each:

Senatorial District No. 1	270,668
Senatorial District No. 2	121,263
Senatorial District No. 3	95,843
Senatorial District No. 4	411,558
Senatorial District No. 5	141,873
Senatorial District No. 6	359,359
Senatorial District No. 7	198,327

You can see, Mr. President, that the Fourth Senatorial District of this State has practically five times as many people as the Third Senatorial District. Now let us compare those figures with the first seven congressional districts of the State.

Congressional District No. 1	286,462
Congressional District No. 2	247,068
Congressional District No. 3	298,539
Congressional District No. 4	274,376
Congressional District No. 5	269,564
Congressional District No. 7	283,310

The same comparative average carries all throughout the thirty-four congressional districts, and the same disparity of representation is carried out practically throughout the fifty senatorial districts; and I say to you, Mr. President, that by adopting this bill in its present form, calling for the election of delegates from senatorial districts, you will substantially disfranchise almost half the people of the State of Pennsylvania, when you put them into comparison with other senatorial districts

I think one of the safeguards of the government of this State, and one of the safeguards of the government of the United States, is minority representation; and that is something that this bill, as it appears on this calendar today, absolutely lax with respect to the election of district delegates; we are completely ignoring the vast portion of the population who will be represented by a minority in connection with these constitutional problems.

And so I say to you again, Mr. President, that this is only a demonstration, a part of the general scheme not only to confuse the people of Pennsylvania in their vote on Constitutional Revision, or the calling of a Constitutional Convention, but it is a deliberate attempt to take out of the hands of a large portion of the population of this State the right to have a voice in this Constitutional Convention.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask, if he objects to Mr. Taylor's picking out one-seventh of the delegates, whether he wants them to be selected by Mr. David Lawrence.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the question of the Senator from Tioga County, which as a matter of fact, Mr. President, I was hoping he would ask me, I am just as much opposed to the Democratic State Chairman picking one-seventh of the members of this Constitutional Convention as I am to the Republican State Chairman picking out a seventh of the members of this Constitutional Convention. This problem of representation in the Convention as well as these other problems connected with representation, is a problem for the people and not a problem for either party, not a problem for the Chairman of any committee, and not a problem even for this Senate as a whole; it is a people's problem.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Centre know that the method of the selection of delegates is the method provided under the original Ruth Bill by the Democratic Caucus and this Democratic Administration?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not think that these public problems should be compared to any suggestions of any caucus, as far as that goes, whether it is a Democratic caucus or a Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator answer the question, if he will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President. I frankly say, I do not know that it is.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I state that the method of selecting delegates is precisely the method in the original Ruth Bill, for which this Administration has been clamoring ever since this session started.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, I will say that if that method is wrong that method should be eliminated from this scheme. If we believe it is wrong, we should eliminate it.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I desire to correct the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, on the question of the Senate representing such a wide difference as compared to the Congressmen. In our County, Luzerne, as you know, Mr. President, our Congressman represents approximately 450,000 people, and that county is divided between my colleague, Senator Harvey, and myself, as representatives here in the Senate.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, this argument today is a fine argument for reapportionment. I am going to vote for the election of delegates by Congressional districts, because the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides for the reapportionment every ten years. This was done in the case of the Congressional districts, but the provisions of the Constitution, which I contend are mandatory, were ignored in the case of the Senatorial districts. My district has a population of 350,000. My friend Senator Buckman has 90,000. So I think the fairest way is the election of delegates by Congressional districts.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think the question here has been raised as to the reasons in the original Ruth Bill for the original picking of delegates by action of the political committees. I might say, in answer to that, that one of the reasons at that time, for that suggestion, was that at that time we contemplated a special election, and we did not want two of them—one in the Primary and one for the General Election. The reason for that has ceased to exist, and with it, I think, we should discard the idea originating with the idea of the special election.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Sones,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Rice,	(Centre)
Harris,	Miller,	Roberts,	Trainer,

Buckman,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Chapman,	Howell,	Reed,	(Westmoreland)
Clark,	Hunsicker,	(Dauphin)
Coyne,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 19, page 12, line 28, by striking out the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof "two;" also page 13, line 2, by striking out the word "every" and inserting in lieu thereof "each;" also page 13, line 7, by striking out the wrod "three" and inserting in lieu thereof "two;" also page 13, line 9, by striking out the word "The" at the end of the line; also page 13, line 10, by striking out all of said line; also page 13, line 11, by striking out the words "the largest bona fide circulation"

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, if the purpose of these amendments is not to take out the provision about the newspapers selected in each county, especially those having the largest bona fide circulation.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendment is to reduce, first, the number of newspapers used from three to two, and to eliminate those having the largest circulation.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senate to vote down these amendments. These amendments were inserted so that the people would fully understand the situation before they voted on it. It is the standard provision for advertising that has been enacted in our law when advertising is required. The provision with reference to the selection of those newspapers having the largest bona fide circulation was inserted for the purpose of seeing that bona fide newspapers had this advertising and not "mushroom" papers that had grown overnight to do Democratic advertising, and I, therefore, ask that these amendments be voted down.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not know what the Senator from Tioga means by "mushroom" newspapers. We all know that the Constitution provides that a newspaper shall receive this advertising. It does not say "mushroom" newspapers.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it merely provides that it shall be the newspapers having the largest bona fide circulation in each county.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether under that amendment the cost will be reduced.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes, that is the purpose.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, does the Senator from Monroe, know how much?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, no, I do not.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Rupp,
Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Sones,
Huffman,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Miller,	Roberts,	(Centre)

NAYS—31

Aron,	Graff,	McClure,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Gelder,	Norton,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Bennett,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Buckman,	Homsher,	Prince,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Howell,	Reed,	Trainer,
Clark,	Hunsicker,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Coyne,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim
Ealy,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the sections?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I have one more amendment to offer. This provides for a reduction of the appropriation from one million dollars to three hundred and fifty thousand dollars to hold the proposed convention.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we have no objection.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 23, page 15, line 25, by striking out the words and figures "One Million Dollars ($1,000,-"; also page 15, line 26, by striking out the figures "000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,-000.00)"; also page 15, line 28, by striking out the word "compensation" and inserting in lieu thereof: "expenses"; also page 16, line 2, by striking out the words "for the payment of all the"; also page 16, line 3, by striking out the words "expenses lawfully incurred by the Commonwealth"; also page 16, line 8, by striking out the word "to"; also page 16, line 9, by striking out the word "carry" and inserting in lieu thereof: "in carrying."

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe what is the purpose of the other amendments here, other than the reduction in the appropriation from one million to three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the other amendments accompanying this amendment—what is the purpose of striking out of lines two and three the words for the payment of all the "expenses lawfully incurred by the Commonwealth?"

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not know whether I can answer in detail. These amendments were prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau. The substance of the amendment is that we do not think it is necessary to spend a million dollars for holding this Convention.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to explain that I have here amendments reducing the appropriation as put in the bill by the Democratic Administration, one million dollars, which would have been the expense had there been a special election. Through an error this was not reduced and it should be reduced. If that is the only purpose of the amendment offered by the Senator from Monroe, it is merely carrying out what I intended to do myself in the way of amendments to be offered here at this time. If the amendments do what he says they do, and I think they will, I think it is correct, and I suggest that the amendments be adopted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to amend section 7, page 6, line 15, by striking out the word "obligations" and insert in lieu thereof: "objections."

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Aron,	Ealy,	McClure,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Gelder,	Norton,	Shapiro,
Baumer,	Graff,	Owlett,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Pierson,	Staudenmeier,

Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Rupp,
Huffman,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Sones,
Kahle,	Miller,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Lanius,			(Centre)

So the question was determined in the affrmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new or revised Constitution by convention and its adoption or rejection by the people providing for the nomination of delegates to the convention and for their election and for a vote of the electors on the question of calling such a convention and making an appropriation.

On the queston,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to amend title, page 1, line 7 of title by inserting after the word "convention" the following: "with limited powers, conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County."

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Aron,	Ealy,	McClure,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Gelder,	Norton,	Shapiro,
Baumer,	Graff,	Owlett,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Pierson,	Staudenmeier,

NAYS—16

Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Rupp,
Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Sones,
Huffman,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Miller,	Roberts,	(Centre)
Lanius,		Rodgers,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL NO. 22

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 22, Messrs. Hoopes, O'Keefe and Eroe.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order on third reading and final passage on House Bill No. 1418, fixed for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1418, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 149), entitled "An act imposing State tax, payable by those herein defined as distributors, on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth, which are ordinarily, practically, and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power; providing for the collection and lien of the tax, and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof; requiring such distributors to secure permits, to file corporate surety bonds and reports, and to retain certain records; imposing duties on retail dealers, common carriers, county commissioners, and such distributors, providing for rewards; imposing certain costs on counties; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; providing for refunds; imposing penalties; and making an appropriation," imposing an additional tax on liquid fuels for a limited period of time providing for the distribution thereof and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, in discussing the provisions of this bill last night the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, made the statement that this was not a diversion of the Motor Fund. I would like to ask the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, upon what grounds and by what authority that statement was made.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I would answer that question by saying that this is a new tax; a one cent increase on gasoline for the purpose of unemployment relief, and is the bill that is to take the place of the two cent gas tax bill which we sent over to the Senate and which was defeated there. When they couldn't get the necessary two-thirds to suspend the rule to bring the bill back, they asked us to bring this bill out and amend it, so that it would take care of that part of the program. It is in the nature of a compromise. It is not a diversion of the Motor Fund, because it is an additional one cent tax on gas for relief.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have made further investigation since last night and the information has come to me from sources which I believe are entirely reliable and who ought to know and they insist this will be considered a diversion of the Motor Fund.

It is a tax on gasoline, and I want to say to the members of the House that I am not opposing this bill, because it is an increase in the tax on gasoline.

We thoroughly realize that the price of gasoline is fixed arbitrarily by the oil companies. A few days ago or a few weeks ago a bill in the Senate to increase the tax for the second year, designating it for the General meantime the oil companies without any particular reason that I have been able to find out put a one cent tax on their product. It is not a question so far as the cost of gasoline is concerned, but Mr. Speaker, I am afraid that this tax on gasoline even though it is to be used for relief purposes, and especially when it goes into the general fund, the second year, will be interpreted as a diversion of Motor Funds.

I am in perfect sympathy with the policy of raising money for relief, but I am afraid that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the program of the Highway Department is going to be greatly interfered with if we pass this bill as it is now.

I presented last night an amendment asking that the tax for the second year, designating it for the General Fund be stricken out, and I think this House should have done that, so that no chances would be taken so far as the second year is concerned. We might have had some argument so far as the one cent tax for one year for relief is concerned, but I am agraid of this situation so far as the highway program is concerned. That is the reason I am opposed to the bill as it now stands.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nas were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majorit required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for consurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" and desire to file my reasons.

In voting in the affirmative for this bill I am motivated by the emergency of the situation and the fact that it was one of the compromise tax measures which the Senate leaders, the House leaders and the Governor have agreed upon.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" and desire to file my reasons.

I understand that the majority in the Senate, which is controlled by my party, has agreed to this tax. I do not feel that I can justifiably oppose many other taxes on grounds of sound principle and then refuse to cast my vote in favor of the necessary tax bills to give our state government the funds it must have to operate—especially when a compromise agreement in an amount greatly reduced through the efforts of the Republican party has been reached.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" and desire to file my reasons.

I vote "aye" on this Bill, because no substitute to raise relief funds has been presented.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" and desire to file my reasons.

The original bill was introduced by me, but the bill has been changed in its entire purpose, hence I am voting against the bill.

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" and desire to file my reasons.

My reasons for voting "no" on House Bill No. 1418, Printer's No. 1154, are that it is an unnecessary tax measure in view of the fact that in the Democratic Committees of the House (i. e. with Democratic Chairman), I have at present two Bills, (No. 244 and No. 137), providing an estimated income of $28,000,000 per biennium, and I do not think it necessary to make any new taxes until the above are acted on and made possible. No. 244 provides for a graded reduction of all higher state salaries and No. 137 provides $22,000,000 from a flat income tax.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" and desire to file my reasons.

I am voting "no" because I oppose the diversion of Motor Funds from other than road work.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Hermansen, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is a bill on the Governor's desk that requires correction. The Governor is leaving town immediately and the time for the bill expires on Sunday. Therefore, I would like to ask permission to introduce at this time a resolution recalling the bill.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 181 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. HERMANSEN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1935.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 181, Printer's No. 1033, entitled "An act to amend section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled 'An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth' as amended permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna river to the Wyoming-Luzerne County line," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1935.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 609, Printer's No. 276, entitled:

An Act authorizing the taking of oaths and affidavits by certain employes of the Department of Military Affairs for limited purposes be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order on third reading and final passage on House Bill No. 2853, fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2853, entitled:

An Act imposing a state tax upon checks drafts assignments and other written evidences for the payment and transfer of money honored by banks by payment or by receipt for deposit imposing duties and liabilitieson banks bank and trust companies trust companies private banks savings funds savings institutions savings banks and national banking associations conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments making an appropriation and imposing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if any amendments have been added to this bill?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, there have not.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this bill was up before, I offered some objections from the standpoint of the small depositor in a bank. If there is any bill that has been presented to this House during this session that does nothing else but sock the poor, it is this bill, because the housewife who pays her monthly bills, her gas and her electric light and her other bills has to pay two cents on each and every check issued against her small account, while the large corporations who draw their checks payable against their own treasuries pay nothing but two cents on one thousand, five thousand, or ten thousand dollar checks which come in in that particular form drawn against their own treasurer and cannot be construed under this bill as a draft.

Therefore, I would ask the members of this House either to vote this bill down or have amendments offered to take care of the small depositor in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the argument of the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, I will just read a part of the conversation or debate in the Conference Committee held in the Governor's reception room, consisting of seven members of each party of each House, where Mr. Witkin says that it does not sock the poor man because the poor man does not issue checks and I believe in that statement one hundred per cent.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I am very complimented that I finally have the gentleman from Berks agreeing with me on something, and when he is able to quote and say on this bill that he is in accord with me on a particular matter, then it is quite an innovation to this House.

With respect to what I said and with respect to this tax, I want to say that I do not retract the conversation that I had at that conference, which was being stenographically taken, and I want to say that I knew this was being stenographically taken when this statement was made. I do not intend now to debate this tax bill. There are arguments for it and there are arguments against it. As far as I am concerned, I am opposed to it despite the statement I made at the Conference and I shall vote "no" on this bill.

The Republican Caucus in this House did not take any definite action against this bill. The membership of the Republican party will vote as they see fit. I merely want to say in conclusion that there is merit in my opinion to the argument of the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, and I am not so conceited that I believe that any statement that I made should be cited for the benefit of this House in order to determine whether the answer I gave is correct or incorrect. I have been right and I have been wrong, but as far as the Democrats of this House are concerned, I think I have been right oftener than I have been wrong, and the only time I have been wrong has been on the vote.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I answer to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, may I inform the members of this House that at least seventy-five per cent of all the checking accounts in all the country banks in the state of Pennsylvania average less than five hundred dollars. The gentleman's statement is wrong—absolutely wrong. This bill will absolutely sock the poor depositor in the banks, not the big fellow.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons.

Under ordinary conditions I would unalterably opposed to a tax as proposed by the provisions of House Bill No. 2853, Printer's No. 1075, however, in view of the fact that the Governor of the Commonwealth was forced to accept this measure as a compromise measure offered by the Republican Senate in conferences held for the purpose of arriving at an agreement regarding the tax program of the Commonwealth, I am obliged to vote in favor of the bill in order that I may, as a member of the Democratic Caucus assist the Governor in the performance of his agreement.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" and desire to file my reasons.

Although I am opposed to this measure in principle, I am voting favorably on it, for the reason that it was one of the measures agreed upon by the Democratic Administration with the Republican Senate, to their proposal of this tax measure, as a compromise in solving the current tax problem.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons.

Being engaged in the banking business, I find that voting for this bill will affect my position at the bank, that I am now serving. But since the additional tax must be raised to feed the needy, I am willing to sacrifice my banking interests to provide for the needy of our Commonwealth.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file reasons.

In addition to my reasons for supporting the preceding bill. I wish to record that I understand the valid objections of my friend, Mr. Gates, can and will be taken care of by amendment in the Senate if necessary.

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "no" and file my reasons.

My reasons for voting "no" on House Bill 2853 are the same as those just filed for voting against House Bill No. 1418.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 815

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 21, 1935.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 815, Printer's No. 1152, entitled, "An act to amend sections two hundred seven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. GEORGE H. EARLE.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 752.

An Act requiring persons applying for or receiving relief to furnish under affidavit certain information and to sign a bond conditioned on the truthfulness of his statements and the lack of fraud or misrepresentation empowering certain persons to administer oaths and prescribing penalties.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence fo the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

HOUSE BILL No. 953.

To further amend the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty-four) entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and propery for charitable religious benevolent humane and patriotic purposes" by providing that certificates of registration may not be issued to individuals and providing for the refund of fees where certificates of registration are refused.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, last line, by inserting after the word "refused" the words "withdrawn or not proceeded with."

Amend Section 4, page 6, line 6, by striking out after the word "registration" the words "is refused" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "has been applied for but the application is thereafter withdrawn or not proceeded with"; also in line 10, by inserting after the word "appropriated" the words "but nothing herein contained shall authorize a refund where an application for registration has been refused".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. BERNHARD, from the Committee on Railroads and Railways, reported as committed House Resolution No. 147.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. MOOMAW, returned from the Committee on State Government with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special, House Bill No. 2031, entitled:

An Act providing for the administration of employment relief through the State Emergency Relief Board and District Chapters of the American Red Cross and abolishing existing local relief boards and agencies; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the audit of accounts by the Auditor General; and providing penalties.

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

RESOLUTION

Mr. HERMANSEN offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the reading of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I object, and I would like to state the reason for my objection. It is because we have a rule that provides that resolutions shall take the same course as bills. By reading these resolutions we are defeating the purpose of that rule. It is wasting the time of this House. We have a heavy calendar and every member of this House wishes to get away. The resolution should be referred to a committee, printed and reported from the Committee. That is the reason I am objecting.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

RESOLUTIONS

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. SOWERS offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk for the information of the House as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1935.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That this session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, Friday June 14, 1935, at twelve o'clock noon.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION No. 137

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 137, Printer's No. 866.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1935

Whereas, the Board of City Trusts of the City of Philadelphia controls the management, investment, reinvestment, disposition, and distribution of property of great value and large amounts of money in which the general public of that city has an interest; and

Whereas, the Board of City Trusts is not subject to any adequate legislation controlling its activities or any supervision or audit by any public officer with regard to the keeping of its accounts, books, and records; and

Whereas, it is desirable that legislation be enacted properly to provide for the supervision, auditing, and control of the said board; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make an investigation of the books, records, management, and operation of the Board of City Trusts to the extent that may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this resolution and for the information of the House of Representatives; and

Resolved, That the committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives of this Session as early as possible; and

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. Witkin. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 1, numbered line 1, by inserting after the word "Resolved" the following: "if the Senate concur)"

Amend page 1, numbered line 2, by striking out after the word "sentatives" the following: "is hereby authorized to"

Amend page 1, numbered line 2, by striking out after the word Appoint the following: "a committee of"

Amend page 1, numbered line 3, by inserting after the word "Representatives" the following: "and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint five Senators to serve as a committee"

Amend page 2, numbered line 2, by striking out the following: "House of Representatives" and inserting in lieu thereof "Legislature"

Amend page 2, line 4, by striking out after the word The the following: "House of Representatives" and inserting in lieu thereof "Legislature"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield the floor to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will, although I didn't know I was going to be interrogated. Mr. Speaker, just twenty questions.

Mr. BURKE. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, kindly explain the amendments?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the amendment merely provides instead of this being a House investigation, that it be a joint investigation by an equal number of representatives appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate as well as an equal number of representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, is there anything in the amendment which changes the appointing power of the Committee? Do I understand that the Speaker of the House under this amendment would appoint the Committee.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean in the House?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, no there is no change. The Speaker appoints the five men in the House and the President Pro Tempore appoints the five men in the Senate. There is no change that the gentleman may have anticipated in the bill.

May I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, are these amendments satisfactory?

Mr. BURKE. Why, Mr. Speaker, they are satisfactory to me, yes.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I am amazed.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for an opportunity of speaking on this question because I had assumed from the answer of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, that the amendment was satisfactory, and I notice that after that, the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato, whispered to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, and now I assume they are not satisfactory, and therefore, have been unintentionally put in the position where I did not debate the matter of the amendments, because of the fact that I thought they were in accord. I now ask permission to talk upon these amendments.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato, permit herself to be interrogated?

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

The SPEAKER. The lady from Philadelphia, Miss Brancato, yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, are these amendments still satisfactory to the gentleman?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I am not the sponsor of the resolution and I did not have an opportunity to look at the amendments before they were introduced. I realize now that the session is getting so late that perhaps if the resolution went through the House and went into the Senate, it might be lost in the shuffle and the great good that might be accomplished by this investigation might be defeated because of the great volume of business in the Senate.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, if I assure the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, that this resolution will pass and come out in the Senate Monday night, and if not, I will not oppose such a resolution as this for a House investigation will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, be satisfied with the amendment?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I have full confidence in the integrity of the gentleman but I cannot see where the gentleman can bind the Senate to do anything that he is agreeable to, because yesterday we witnessed a bill which was part of the agreement on the tax program, and the gentleman in conference spoke in favor of such a tax, but we found out that there is no absolute agreement between the House and the Senate on such matters. In view of that, I don't believe I could consent to the gentleman's willingness to have the matter rushed through the Senate.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't think the gentleman quite understood me or his explanation would not have been as it was. I said if this resolution does not pass as amended in the Senate Monday night,,—in other words if they do not concur in it, I will agree that on Tuesday we pass this resolution and report it without amendments providing only for a House investigation. In other words, if on Monday night your fears are not allayed that this resolution will pass the Senate, and if it has not passed the Senate on Monday night, then I will agree to only a House investigation. Is that satisfactory to the gentleman?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the lateness of the day, I could not assume the responsibility of saying it is satisfactory to me.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the House will agree with me that my amazement was not in error.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you have here something that I think for once,—and I say that rather seriously,—you are going to agree with me, even insofar as Democrats are concerned. The Board of City Trust is an organization that extends over the length and bredth throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I am not going to discuss at this particular moment the question of the need or the necessity of the investigation. If the thing is all right, then they need fear no investigation and I agree that perhaps an investigation would not hurt, but members of the House, here is a Board of City Trust that under the law is responsible and is a creature of the Legislature,—in other words the Board of City Trust was created by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania under the act of the thirtieth day of June, eighteen sixty-nine. The Board of City Trust is responsible under the law, not to the House, not to the Senate, but to the Legislature.

Do you men think that under those circumstances, barring all politics because there are Democrats and Republicans on the Board of City Trust,—do you men think this House wants to be the investigating Committee of an organization that is created by the Legislature; that is responsible to the Legislature; and under the act makes its reports to the Legislature? I read to you from the act of the thirtieth day of June, eighteen sixty-nine, Section four, —I am reading beginning the middle of it, "and to make an annual report thereof—" an annual report of its affairs —"to the council of the city and to the Board of Estimates and the Board of Appointment—" that happens to be the Common Pleas Courts of Pennsylvania— "and to the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania."

Now, members of this House, I do not blame the sponsor of this bill for having presented a paper that is handed to it, incorrectly setting forth that there is no proper supervision of the Board of City Trusts. The "whereas" clause says that it is subject to no supervision. Why, certainly it is. The act that created them.

All I want is this: I want the President of the Senate to be able to appoint five Senators and the Speaker of the House to appoint five members of the House so that the body that created this Board of City Trusts will investigate it; so that the authority to whom they are responsible will investigate it. Can I ask for anything fairer? Is it fair, or isn't it?

Furthermore, I want to say to you: if you endeavor to investigate the Board of City Trusts without some little appropriation it is the same as sending a little boy on a man's errand. Its business is so manifold that you would not be able to get to first base or near it. Cordier couldn't get to first base except on an error, it would take a thousand errors to get you to first base on this resolution.

I want to say to the membership of this House that if the Senate appoints a committee and you want to make an investigation, then you will have to get a small appropriation to permit you to make this investigation. I don't know whether it needs investigating or not, but members of the House, I give you my word that I have no more interest in the Board of City Trust than any comparison you choose to make. I don't know anything about it, except I do know that it is a responsible organization and I know that it is the power of the Senate and the House that created it. I say that an investigation ought to be by both Houses and I believe that the first answer by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, clearly indicates the fairness of his own mind, because at that moment he expressed his own mind and he changed his mind, as I would if I were in his position perhaps—or perhaps not—because of some other reason, but on this own judgment he answered the question in the affirmative.

I beg of you in fairness to the Board of City Trust, in fairness to this Legislature to vote for this amendment and to forget party lines, if you will, because I don't believe it is a party measure.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, many strange and surprising things are happening these days. There is one thing which is surprising to me and that is the great interest that has been exhibited by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, in the proposed investigation of the Board of City Trusts. From 1925 until the present day, which happens to be the tenure of the gentleman from Philadelphia in this House, he has never sponsored or caused to be sponsored any resolution—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman must confine his remarks to the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair states that he permitted the gentleman from Philadelphia a very wide latitude in discussing both the resolution and the amendment to the resolution, and the Chair will permit the same latitude to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the great latitude that you have always afforded the members of this House in discussing bills and other measures. I realize that the gentleman from Philadelphia is technical in his objection and technically he is correct, therefore, I will not accept the gracious offer of the Chair that has been extended to me.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the personnel of the Senate changes, at least half of it changes every two years, whereas the entire personnel of the House changes every year, and I think the membership of this House is in its personnel very close to the people and very close to the current thought in this State, and for that reason I believe that this investigation initiated this year for the first time should be confined to the members of this House so far as the personnel of the Committee goes, and I ask to defeat the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SOWERS and Mr. KANE and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 1, numbered line 3, by inserting after the word REPRESENTATIVES the following: "at least one of whom shall be a Republican recommended to the Speaker by the Republican Steering Committee of this House and the balance of whom shall be those recommended by the Democratic Steering Committee of this House"

Amend page 1, numbered line 3, by striking out after the word REPRESENTATIVES and before the word DUTY the word "WHOSE" and substituting in lieu thereof the word "The"

Amend page 1, numbered line 4, striking out the word "IT" and substituting in lieu thereof, before the word SHALL the following: "of the committee"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

This is the first session that I have served in this House and the amendment as submitted to me is an innovation.

I realize that under the rules of the House the members of committees are appointed by the Speaker with the qualification that they can be appointed otherwise if so ordered by the House. Now, the gentleman's amendment is the qualified part of the rule of the House upon the appointment of committees. I have heard many committees appointed by the Chair during this session and not once have I heard invoked that qualification of the rule, by which the appointing power is qualified. I submit to the members of this House that such an amendment is an affront to the Speaker. I say that the gentleman from Philadelphia impugnes the integrity of the Speaker when he so invokes that qualification of the rule.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wanted to avoid introducing these amendments, I wanted to avoid the statement that I am about to make, and so I thought the best way to avoid unpleasantness, the best way to avoid exposures was to have the Senate appoint their committee which, together with the Committee of the House, would represent a by-partisan committee to investigate the Board of City Trusts, and so to avoid all that, I offered the amendments you have just received.

I grant you that it is somewhat of an innovation, but it is not unprecedented, because only very recently His Excellency, the Governor made suggestions that would have placed representatives upon committees not appointed by the Speaker—of course, on a matter not of this kind.

Now, why did I do this? Why did I try to curb the power of the Speaker? Well, I will tell you.

The Speaker in the appointment of committees has been and I will say very frankly in my opinion, fair insofar as the Republican members of the Committees were always during this session recommended and the recommendation accepted—recommended by the Republican membership of this House, but there has been an exception made in this instance and the Republican recommendation that one member, and that is all that it asks, all that it can recommend, has been rejected. Why? I will tell you why. Because this investigation is being started and controlled, insofar as it is possible to be controlled, to be able to be effected, by a Deputy Attorney General from the city of Philadelphia who has office —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please confine himself to the amendments?

MOTION TO EXPUNGE

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the last remark of the gentleman be expunged from the record.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that that motion be deferred until I have conclude.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia defer his motion until the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, has concluded.

Mr. BURKE. I will not, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The question then, is on the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, make a statement as to what he wishes to have expunged?

Mr. Burke. Mr. Speaker, I wish to have expunged the statement to the effect that the resolution was initiated by one of the deputy attorneys general.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is a motion to expunge debatable?

The SPEAKER. The motion is debatable.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if the Chair had specifically ruled that the remarks made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the minority leader, were out of order there might be a parliamentary justification for the motion to expunge, but a motion to expunge from the record a statement that has not been specifically declared unparliamentary is without proper status in any legislative body. If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, desires to raise the point of—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks will state his point of order.

Mr. HOOPES. The Speaker had no right to recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, for the purpose of making a motion, for the reason that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, had the floor. Therefore, the motion is out of order and any debate on it is also out of order at this time.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, will state his point of order.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, referring to the remark which was the subject of my motion, I ask that the Chair direct the gentleman from Philadelphia to confine himself to the amendments before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, will confine himself to the amendments before the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I not have the right to state to this House the necessity and the reason for the introduction of these amendments?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman can state the necessity and the reason, but cannot bring outside parties into the discussion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, suppose outside parties are one of the reasons. Can I state that?

The SPEAKER. It is out of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, then, that any reference made by a member of this House concerning any one not a member of this House during a debate is out of order and that the Speaker now so rules?

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the statement referring to a deputy attorney general is out of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Speaker whether the reason for that ruling is because the statement happens to refer to a deputy attorney general or does it permit me to bring in persons who are not deputy attorneys general?

The SPEAKER. The question now before the House, the Chair rules, is on the amendments to the resolution and not who drew the amendments.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to violate the ruling of the Speaker. The ruling of the Speaker, however, is not clear to me. I want to know whether or not, specifically, I have the right in explaining my reasons for the introduction of these amendments and in explaining my reasons as to why I want the members to vote "aye" on them. May I explain that back of this resolution and back of the opposition to the amendments is a plot to endeavor to name a committee so that it will not contain any representation on the part of the Republican membership of this House? Do I have that right or don't I?

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman from Philadelphia must confine his remarks either to the merits or the demerits of the amendments offered by him to this resolution.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I shall try to comply with the ruling of hte Chair, which to me is not quite clear.

As I was stating before, the reason that I offered these amendments was that I believe such an investigation ought to be non-partisan, at least to the extent that we on the Republican side of the House ought to have one member, we ought to have a member from the Republican party, not a member of the Republican party who, to use the common vernacular, turncoated and has voted consistently with the Democratic party. In other words, we want a Republican who has steadfastly stayed a Republican. We don't want any deals to be made. We don't want persons inside or, if you will, outside of this House, to deal with turncoat Republicans so that they can get on this committee—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, will state his point of order.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman apparently is anticipating the personnel of the Committee. I do not think he is speaking on the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the merits or the demerits of the amendments. The Committee has not yet been appointed.

Mr. WITKIN. I know that, Mr. Speaker, and that is what I am worrying about. I am not speaking of the committee but of whom the committee is going to be composed.

I am telling the members why I want to relieve the Speaker of this House of a most embarrassing situation. This is not an affront to the Speaker, this is a relief to the Speaker, it is the greatest relief that the Speaker can and ought to have, and you members ought to give it to him.

I was saying when I was properly or improperly interrupted that I did not want outsiders or insiders, not the Speaker, not anyone authorized to act for the Speaker, nor anyone connected with the Speaker to say—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is discussing the Speaker and not the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. The Speaker is not sensitive.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, as I was saying before I was interrupted, I do not want persons who are unauthorized to speak for the Speaker, to say to John Jones or Mary Ann or some other person "We are going to put you on this investigating committee. You have been us though you have been a Republican." All I wanted—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, will state his point of order.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is discussing matters that are not even collateral to the resolution or to the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will confine himself to the amendments before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to be perfectly frank with you by saying that the Republican that I would have recommended would be myself. I would have requested the Republican caucus to select me to be on that committee. I wanted to get on it, I wanted to protect persons entitled to protection, and I would have prosecuted any persons entitled to prosecution, as my record for investigations during all the years I have been here shows, but I couldn't get on that committee.

I wanted to take five Republicans from whom we could select one to go on that committee. Anything fairer than that?

All I wanted was that when this investigation took place it would not be an inquisition, that somebody would be able to raise his voice on behalf of righteousness, as he saw fit. Members of the House, is there anything wrong in that? Doesn't your sense of fair dealing; doesn't your sense of fair play, doesn't your sense of decency and honor tell you that the minority, with its eighty members, ought to have the right to have one man out of five on a committee and that we ought to have the right not to have that man dictated to by outsiders?

If I am wrong then you will say so by your vote. Condemn me, if you will, but members of this House, that is all I wanted then and that is all I want now. Is there anything fairer than that? I did not want to get into this matter, I did not want any throat-ache and that is why I prefaced these amendments with the other amendments, because if the Senate could have appointed one Republican that would have satified me. I wanted to avoid this, but I couldn't sit idly by and watch an endeavor to appoint such a committee. I do not say it would be successful.

I am not casting any reflections or aspersions upon the Speaker that he would so do. I have more confidence in him than that, but I wanted to relieve him of the pressure, and when I say "pressure" I don't mean ordinary pressure; I mean high salesmanship pressure, to have him do something that in haste he might not want to do.

Members of this House, I close by saying this to you: I do not like to point out individuals, I don't like to refer to men who I consider even at this moment my friends, but when a political matter arises, whether he be friend or foe, I must stand with my party, and I must do what I think is to the best interests of my party.

Regretfully, I want to say to you that I was forced into position. I am going to ask you to vote for the amendments.

If the Speaker of this House even at this moment stated to him it is an affront, I would be the first to withdraw the amendments. I would not affront the presiding officer of any body whether he be friend or foe politically. It is not an affront to him to offer amendments, that I deem proper. The rules of this House say I have a right to do so. The rules of this House provide for contingencies such as this. The rules of this House provide for such a condition if it should arise, the proposition that a member can be appointed otherwise.

I ask the members of this House to vote for these amendments.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in view of the gracious concession that the gentleman from Philadelphia has made, that he wanted to be the one Republican member to be appointed on this committee, I am just wondering whether he would be eligible to vote on the question of the amendments, because he would have a personal interest in the amendments if they were passed.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Md. Ominsky, the Chair would state that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin has a right to vote on the question the same as any other member.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that this resolution was initiated by a deputy attorney general be expunged from the record.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield until we have disposed of the resolution. The Chair will then recognize him?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been a member of this body for many years and was a member when the Democratic party was in the minority here. Repeatedly, while I was a minority member, committees were appointed to await upon the Governor, to escort the Senate to the House and for various other functions and time and time again the minority party at that time was not represented on any committees whatsoever or in any manner, and I submit that we have in this present session been very gracious, very considerate of the minority side. I believe that the minority will attest to the integrity, to the honesty, to the fairness, and to the uprightness of the present Speaker and I ask you to vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. WHITE and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend as follows line 3, before the word "members" by striking out the word "five" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "nine"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the resolution and the amendments, which are now before you, provide for the House to investigate. This House will probably only remain in session some three or four weeks longer at the most. The job that is sought to be accomplished by the resolution can never be accomplished in that short space of time by merely five members of a Commitee. If we are to investigate, let us investigate. The mere presentation of this resolution is passing a great reflection upon the Board of City Trusts, and Girard College, and the various institutions that it guides and controls.

If we are to investigate, let us have the men necessary and needful to investigate. No five persons could ever conduct such an investigation in two or three weeks; in fact I think that nine persons could not conduct such an investigation in such a short time. Furthermore, just recall to your own minds the decision in the famous Catlan case where the House of Representatives passed an investigating resolution, that appointed a Senate Committee and only a Senate Committee, and the courts of this Commonwealth ruled that a committee appointed by one House only could not function.

I ask you men if you want to go along and have a real investigation, a real investigation by the House and by the Senate by a committee competent to do it, to report at a later session of the Legislature, so that the job can be properly done—to do the best job that it is possible to do, then increase the membership of the committee from five to nine.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The Speaker declared the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, sixty-seven members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and seven in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make the statement that I am in favor of the resolution and vote "aye".

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE WITHDRAWN

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to expunge the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, from the record.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. JOHN J. DOWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that permission be granted the Committee on Military Affairs to meet for a short time in the conference room during the session of the House.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION No. 144

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 144, Printer's No. 1119.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatves, May 6, 1935.

Whereas, The public press again considers as news the latest campaign of our well-known ex-resident Grover C. Bergdoll to secure for himself certain funds sequestered by the Federal Government; and

Whereas, With his customary courage he seeks, from a safe haven in his adopted land behind a screen of women and children, to becloud the memory of our Nation with sickly sentimentality; and

Whereas, Even the thought of a reconsideration of his degrading case is a taunt to our honored dead, to the flag he betrayed, and to the country which heaped munificence upon him through no effort on his part; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania believe the concensus of opinion of the citizens of this great Commonwealth whom he disgraced to be steadfastly and unalterably opposed to any amnesty or pardon being granted to Grover C. Bergdoll at this or any future time; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Attorney General of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt theresolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Education reported as committed, House Bill No. 689, entitled:

An Act authorizing the insurance of deposits of the funds of school districts with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or other similar agency; and prohibiting requiring further security for amounts so insured.

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Education reported as committed, House Bill No. 2795 (Senate Bill No. 890), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by exempting in certain cases the security required of depositories for school funds.

Mr. ACHTERMAN, from the Committee on State Government reported with a negative recommendation, House Bill No. 116, entitled:

An Act providing for, limiting and regulating the suspension, removal, dismissal and demotion of certain employes of the Commonwealth; creating a Personnel Commission; defining its powers and duties; providing for appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County; and making an appropriation.

RESOLUTION

Mr. CARSON offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1935.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania offer to the Hon. Walter S. Pytko, a member of the Senate of the General Assembly its heartfelt condolence because of the death on May the eighteenth of his father, a leader of the stalwart race that gave to America General Pulaski, and one whom his community can ill afford to lose, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of this body to Senator Pytko.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it had been my intention to rise to a question of personal privilege affecting the dignity and honor of this House, the remarks being based upon utterances made by Relief Administrator Johnson. Owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that there is so much business, I will not ask the privilege of the floor this afternoon but I would like to be recognized next Monday evening on this subject.

RESOLUTION

Mr. KANE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1935.

Resolved, That Resolution No. 103, Serial No. 130, Printer's No. 417, be amended so that paragraph number six shall read as follows:

"Resolved, That said committee make its report to the House of Representatives at the [present] next session of Legislature; and be it further"

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. KANE. On account of having asked for unanimous concent the consideration of this amendment at this time, I would like to explain to the House, in view of the fact that the committee is operating on its own funds without the use of an appropriation of any kind at the present time, it will be impossible for us to render our final report by the time the Legislature is now expecting to adjourn.

It has been indicated that there will probably be a special session of the Legislature because of matters pertaining to tax matters, relief, and so forth, so the extension of this resolution to the next session of the Legislature would not involve an undue delay.

As Chairman of that committee, I will say to the members of this House that we will endeavor, nevertheless, to present to the present Legislature a preliminary report. I would like to have you support this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was aodpted.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The Chair would like to state that we will have a session at four o'clock. It is the intention of the Chair, if possible, to complete the work of this week at the afternoon session. The members will please be in their seats promptly at four o'clock. If the members will cooperate with the Chair, I am sure that we can adjourn tonight at an early hour, so that those members who wish to go home tonight can do so.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Committee on Judiciary Special will meet immediately after this morning's session in room 326.

The Committee on Judiciary General will hold a public hearing on House Bill No. 2278 at 2:00 P. M. today in the House Caucus Room.

The Committee on Public Utilities will hold a hearing on House Bill No. 2043 at 3:00 P. M. in room 521.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 4:00 P. M. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 4:00 P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION OF HOUSE

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Law and Order be granted permission to meet during the session of the House, between 4:00 and 4:30.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BARBER. HOUSE BILL No. 2895.

An Act imposing a State tax, payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and special wine permittees on wines used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth; prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue, and those using or engaged in the sale, at retail or wholesale, or wines taxable hereunder; and prescribing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HERMANSEN. RESOLUTION No. 157.

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1935.

Whereas, The Luzerne County Unemployed League Inc., an organization of unemployed and employed citizens of Luzerne County, are deeply concerned about the present inadequacy of relief distribution and the manner in which the relief is administered in Luzerne County; and

Whereas, From time to time, the unemployed have tried to assist in the solving of the local economic problems, and to find ways and means to ease the suffering amongst the people, and to a small degree have been successful, but have attained no considerable results; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the relief administration of Luzerne County, supported by the Assistant State Administrator is now subjecting the relief clients to relief cuts, loss of clothing and shoe vouchers, and to loss of Federal surplus commodities that are contributed by the Federal Government, and subjected to a monopoly of relief coal distribution; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the people of the county on relief cannot secure placements on the relief staff, and that the unemployed applicants for these positions are not being considered outside of being given an examination; and

Whereas, Requests have been made from time to time for the removal of various executives, and in a few instances, such requests have been successful, but it is alleged that the fact remains that political influences in the background protect others from removal: and

Whereas, Under the past administration, the General Assembly appointed legislative committees to investigate the operations of the entire State relief setup, but it is believed without tangible results; and

Whereas, It seems to be the feeling of said league that favoritism, politics and inefficiency have brought about the continuance of this unfortunate situation; and

Whereas, It is the belief of the great body of citizens of said county that the matter can only be corrected if properly brought to the attention of the General Assembly, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to thoroughly and impartially investigate the activities and personnel of the Luzerne County Emergency Relief Board and all phases of relief activities in said county, whether State or National, including the so-called re-employment service and the office known as the "Placement Office" in Wilkes-Barre, as well as any other governmental agencies in said county dealing with relief, with a view of ascertaining whether or not the allegations set forth in the preamble of this resolution are true, and to make report to the House of Representatives at the earliest possible date.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer any such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents, as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee, or to produce any papers, books, records, or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved, That said committee shall have the further right and authority to issue a requisition to any Luzerne County relief board, bureau or agency, for such stenographic help or service as it may deem necessary under the circumstances, in the taking of testimony and the conduct of hearings, and such other services as may be necessary.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

By Mr. SOWERS, (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 158.

In the House of Representatives, May 22nd, 1935.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That this session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, Friday, June 14, 1935, at twelve o'clock noon.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WEISS, RESOLUTION No. 159.

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1935.

Whereas, Crime is so prevalent in this and other States as to constitute a serious menace to life and property; and

Whereas, Many studies have been made and improvements suggested in the criminal laws and methods of their administration; and

Whereas, Our police systems are to a great extent modeled on antiquated methods of management and operation, and are in this modern age inadequate to cope with complex conditions; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint five members of the House of Representatives, who shall constitute a legislative committee and whose duty it shall be to study and investigate the police methods and practices of this Commonwealth and its various political subdivisions, and means and methods for the improvement of the same in order to provide a more efficient aid to the administration of justice.

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives at the next session of the General Assembly with such recommendations as it deems of importance for consideration by the General Assembly.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching, matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1935.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 181, Printer's No. 1033, entitled "An act to amend section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled 'An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth' as amended permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna River to the Wyoming-Luzerne County line," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No 237 as follows:

An Act to provide unemployment relief in the present emergency provide for funds for old age assistance providing for and legalizing lotteries to raise approximately one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) for such purpose creating a committee to conduct such lotteries conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers departments and agencies making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the old age assistance and prescribing the powers and duties of the board with reference thereto

Whereas It is the duty of the government for the protection of the public health safety morals and welfare to care and provide for the poor old age persons who because of enforced unemployment are not able to care for themselves and properly caring for them will remove them from industry and

Whereas The long continued period of unrest and unemployment has placed upon the tax-payers of Pennsylvania an extraordinary burden of caring for the unemployed and extra and additional taxation would be intolerable and burdensome and

Whereas The lack of revenue will soon render it difficult and impossible for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to further carry on its unemployment relief programme and it is imperative that its humanitarian service and relief shall be continued and

Whereas All the usual means of raising money for this purpose have been utilized to the limit and the gravity of the situation demands the employment of unusual and extraordinary means and the Legislature finds and deems it advisable to permit lotteries to be conducted to best accomplish the desired purpose and

Whereas The conducting of the lotteries contemplated herein will furnish employment to a number of unemployed persons and the sale of tickets will afford an opportunity for a great many more to earn a living by the sale of the extra tickets in each book and

Whereas Such lotteries would tend to place money in circulation and to promote spending not only in the purchase of tickets but in the purchase of commodities by the prize winners thus assisting in the restoration of trade among the inhabitants of this Commonwealth therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a special Old Age Assistance Relief Committee is hereby created to conduct a series of lotteries or drawings in the manner hereinafter provided until such Committee has raised approximately one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) for old age assistance

Section 2 Such Committees shall consist of eleven members to be selected under the supervision of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the manner hereinafter stated

Section 3 The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the State Treasurer the Auditor General and the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Senate and House of Representatives if in session otherwise the president pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall each nominate three honest and reliable citizens and residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania The names of each of the persons so nominated shall be written on a slip of paper all of which shall be the same size and kind of paper and folded in the same manner so that none of the names shall be visible All of such slips of paper shall be placed in a container The Governor shall select a child of not greater age than twelve years who shall in the presence of the Governor and such other witnesses as may be present at the request of the Governor and such members of the General Assembly as shall desire to be present as well as any accredited newspaper reporters withdraw from such container one at a time eleven of the slips of paper contained therein The persons whose names appear on said eleven slips of paper shall constitute the membership of the Committee hereby created

Section 4 Each member of the Committee shall receive a salary for services and expenses not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each drawing the amount to be fixed by the Governor

Section 5 The Committee may employ assistants the number and compensation of whom shall be fixed by the Committee with the advice and consent of the Governor

Section 6 All salaries and compensation and all other expenses in connection with the preparation and sale of tickets and the drawing shall be paid out of money realized from the sale of tickets Provided That the total of all such payments shall in no case exceed five per centum of the cash received by the Committee for tickets or any one drawing

Section 7 The Committee is hereby given power to adopt and put into effect such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this act or the laws of this Commonwealth as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 8 The Committee shall have printed by a printer in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a series of tickets numbered from 000,000,000 to 999,999,999 in books or packages of two hundred and twenty (220) each except the last book which shall be of one hundred (100) tickets All tickets shall be for sale at ten cents per ticket which price shall be printed on each ticket together with a notice that the tickets are sold as an old age assistance measure for the purpose of raising money for old age assistance during the present economic crisis

Section 9 It shall be stipulated in the contract for the printin of such tickets that payment therefor shall be made only out of the proceeds from the sale of tickets and shall await the sale of a sufficient number of tickets to meet the same

Section 10 The Committee shall sell at the City of Harrisburg only such books or packages of tickets by personal delivery only to distributors and shall charge and receive cash for each book or package the sum or twenty dollars ($20.00) except for the last book or package of one hundred (100) tickets for which it shall receive the sum of nine dollars ($9.00)

Section 11 The distributors may sell the tickets so purchased by them in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania only and by personal delivery of the tickets to the purchasers They shall not use the mails or express or messenger service in any wise in connection with the advertising sale of distribution of any such tickets

Section 12 The ownerships of all tickets may at any time be transferred by delivery of possession and the holder of any ticket shall be conclusively deemed to be the owner thereof and recognition and payment by the Committee of any prize to the holder of any such ticket shall be final and conclusive

Section 13 All moneys received by the Committee from the sale of books or packages of tickets shall be allocated and applied as follows

(a) Not more than five per centum (5%) thereof may be applied on the payment of the expenses of conducting each drawing

(b) Twenty per centum (20%) thereof shall be paid into the State Treasury from time to time as such moneys become available without waiting until any of the drawings hereinafter provided for have been completed and at the conclusion of the last drawing all unexpended balances of moneys withheld for the payment of the expenses of conducting the drawings shall also be paid into the State Treasury and be disposed of as hereinafter provided

(c) Seventy-five per centum (75%) thereof shall be distributed as prizes to the holders of the winning tickets as determined by the drawings hereinafter provided for

Section 14 (a) In the exercise of the police power for the protection of the public health safety morals and welfare threatened by existing conditions of unemployment and in the assumption by the Commonwealth of its duty to care for the poor old aged all of the moneys paid into the State Treasury under the provisions of this act are hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Welfare to provide old age assistance Such appropriation shall be paid over to said Department from time to time as the moneys become available in such amounts as the Department shall determine

(b) The amounts expended under the provisions of this section shall be audited by the Auditor General as provided by law

Section 15 No prize awarded hereunder except the last prize shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) in amount The moneys set aside for prizes shall be distributed as follows

10/75 thereof in $500 prizes
20/75 thereof in $250 prizes
20/75 thereof in $ 50 prizes
25/75 thereof in $ 25 prizes

any odd money left over after the foregoing distribution shall be awarded as the last prize

Section 16 The Committee shall at Harrisburg pay all prizes not less than twenty days after each drawing and then only upon personal presentation of the winning tickets The possession of each ticket shall be conclusive evidence of ownership for the purpose of payment and no one shall be permitted to dispute that the payment was not properly and lawfully made

Section 17 Not less than fifteen days after the Committee has sold the last book or package of tickets the Committee shall hold a drawing which may be continued from day to day to be conducted in the manner hereinafter provided

Section 18 The Committee shall provide a container of ten balls of equal and like weight on which shall be stamped the numbers 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 and 9 The container shall be such as will permit shaking and shall have a neck with a mechanical device to release the balls one at a time The balls shall be placed in the container and shall be released one at a time The number appearing on the first ball released shall be the first digit of the first winning number The balls shall then all be replaced in the container and the number appearing on the next ball released shall be the second digit of the first winning number and so on repeatedly until nine balls shall have been drawn The numbers thus appearing on the balls in the order in which they have been released shall be the digits of the winning number of the first prize The next fifty prizes shall be the fifty number nearest to the first prize number numbers greater than being given preference in order to numbers lower than the one drawn This shall be repeated for all the prizes The Committee shall conduct all the drawings in public at Harrisburg Pennsylvania and in the presence of not less than twelve newspaper reporters representing the newspapers of the largest circulation published in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who shall desire to be present

Section 19 New sets of tickets may be printed and sold and new drawings had thereon from time to time all in accordance with the provisions and requirements hereinbefore made Provided that no new tickets shall be sold nor new drawing held until at least five days shall have expired since the last drawing and the ascertainment of the winning prizes

Section 20 When the Committee has through successive drawings raised and paid over to the State Treasurer as hereinbefore provided a sum in the aggregate equalling one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) no further drawings shall be held except the one for which tickets have already been sold Upon the completion of such drawing and the payment of the prizes thereunder all the powers and duties of the Committee hereunder shall cease and the Committee shall cease to exist

Section 21 All drawings or lotteries authorized by this act shall be legal any Act of Assembly of this Commonwealth to the contrary notwithstanding No person shall be prosecuted for any violation of any criminal statute of this Commonwealth because of taking part in any of the activities authorized by this act except for embezzlement larceny or other dishonest conduct in handling moneys or tickets or contracts

Section 22 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent that they interfere with the operation of this act during the period this act is in force

Section 23 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, to be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

MR. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MR. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks whether that motion is made with the knowledge of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers?

MR. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, undoubtedly, because the committee agreed to bring this bill out for two readings, and then to recommit it.

MR. WITKINS. Mr. Speaker, thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 494, Printer's No. 864, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the practice of the healing profession of chiropractic and the licensure and registration of practitioners therein creating a Chiropractic Board of Examination and Licensure in the Department of Public Instruction and defining its powers and duties and providing penalties said bill having been recommitted to said committee on April 29th, 1935, and having been in the hands of said committee ten days and more.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, as you all know, has been a thorn in the side of many of us.

It was introduced in the House in February. Along about April it came out with a majority report. Immediately, as the result of action on the floor of the House by some of the members, it was recommitted. If it had been recommitted to the Committee on Education, there would have been no question about it. It would have been sent back for the purpose of amendment or some other reason, but the motion to recommit it to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, as I understand the motion, was made with no set idea with what they wanted to do.

It seems to me that this health measure is of great consequence. Thousands and thousands of letters that I have received and other members of this House have received claim that these chiropractors have been doing wonderful work. I feel that in justice to the bill and in justice to ourselves that this bill ought to be given a sporting chance to be debated on the floor of this House. Why should a committee that is composed of practically five or six doctors, that have set ideas, state that positively under no condition would they report this bill out?

We were given a kind of hearing, and I appeared at the hearing, but there was practically nothing done. In fairness to the sponsor of this motion and in fairness to this proposition, I think it would be the decent thing to do to discharge this committee and fight the battle on the floor —the good points and the bad points. If we are licked on the floor, I will say that it is all right, but I feel that it is an injustice to me and to any man who sponsors such a bill that has been reported out favorably by one committee to have another committee take hold of it for the purpose of destroying the good effect of the former committee. I beg of you to vote to discharge the committee and fight the battle on the floor.

Mr. HARTMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, I oppose the motion to discharge my committee from further consideration of House Bill No. 494.

After this bill was committed I called a meeting within two weeks and invited the sponsor to present his arguments for the bill, and he took about a half an hour. The committee after full and complete hearings and consideration voted overwhelmingly to keep the bill in committee.

I ask you to support my committee and to vote "no" on this motion.

As I stated, we had the sponsor of this bill in the committee and he gave us his views and the vote was something like fourteen to five not to report it out. I hope the members of the House will give this committee some consideration and we will try, if it is thought necessary, to bring the bill out next week again.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in support of this motion for three very important reasons: first, there is a large group of men and women in this state practicing the art of healing known as chiropractors, which is illegal because there is no established licensing Chiropractic board and, that is the purpose for which Bill No. 494 was drawn.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not confining his remarks to the motion to discharge.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion to discharge.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The second reason: being a member of the committee on education and knowing of the careful consideration given this bill in that committee and after giving a hearing to the proponents and opponents of Bill 494, the bill was favorably reported out and appeared on the calendar for two readings and then was recommitted to the Committee on Health and Sanitation. For what purpose? I need not answer that question. You all know the answer.

The action taken on the floor in recommitting this bill was not fair to the Committee on Education especially after this committee had spent so much time on this bill studying it and revising it to be less objectional to the opponents, then to have it recommitted is questioning the ability of the Committee on Education. Let us not kill this bill in committee.

Last but not least by any means is the popularity which this bill has received by the public in general. This House cannot afford to ignore the sincere appeal of those thousands asking that this bill be passed so that those practicing and those desiring to subscribe to this manner of healing need not be continuously harassed—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state his point of order?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. The gentleman is discussing the merits of the bill and not the motion to discharge.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion to discharge.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, all I am doing now is tracing the bill as it has proceeded on its course up to this time. I am not discussing the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. This House cannot afford to ignore the sincere appeal of those thousands asking that this bill be passed so that those practicing and those desiring to subscribe to this manner of healing need not be continuously harrassed by the fact that they are engaged in an illegitimate business and subject to arrest at any moment.

Let us be fair and bring this bill out of committee and give the rest of the members of this house an opportunity to vote on this bill thereby giving the bill a fair chance to become a law protecting many citizens of this Commonwealth. Let us not kill this bill in committee.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to say at the beginning of this discussion that I have the highest regard for the medical profession. I am not a client of the chiropractors but I do believe that out of the interest of constituents, in fact worthwhile constituents who have asked me not only to support this bill but have asked me to do something that would bring this bill before the House, that I must live up to my oath of office and my obligations to those constituents in trying to live up to the things that they are asking me to do.

One of the worth while constituents who has asked my wholehearted support of Bill No. 494 is Dr. Wilbert Norcross of the Department of Psychology of Dickinson College. Another one is Dr. Difenderfer, D. D., who for a number of years served a charge in Washington, D. C., and is now a retired minister living in Carlisle, and also quite a number of prominent business men in Carlisle. I, therefore, feel that I am perfectly justified and also as a member of the Committee on Education in defending the action of this committee, which by a preponderence of votes reported out this bill after certain adjustments and additions were made to the bill, for the purpose of raising the standards of the chiropractic profession, to meet certain demands of the medical profession.

I also feel that we are justified in asking the discharge of this committee because we have a number of professions that are licensed by codes of licensure all passed through the Committee on Education. A number of licensure bills have passed through the Committee on Education, which the likewise do the same thing. We have boards of Licensure. We have licenses for lawyers, for physicians, for real estate brokers, for plumbers, for insurance agents and brokers, for barbers, for beauticians, for osteopaths, for chiropodists, for optometrists, for architects, for civil engineers, mining engineers, electric engineers, and we have a bill under consideration for stationary engineers, and I would not be surprised that before the end of the session we would have under consideration a bill for those engineers who are not stationary.

We have bills of licensure for undertakers and licenses of licensure for undertakers who have had a high school education and who can furnish a five hundred dollar funeral and then we have the fellows who do not have a high school education and who can furnish a cheaper funeral.

Therefore, it seems to me that if we have bills to license passing through the Committee on Education for all of these other professions and vocations, including painters, that then it is the business of the Committee on Education to pass judgment upon this bill of licensure.

Therefore, I feel that having the judgment with such a preponderence of opinion, it is perfectly justifiable for the Committee on Education to be upheld in this matter.

We have also had a great deal of legislation this year. By comparison, we have been told that thirty-five states have more liberal legislation on workmen's compensation, that twenty-eight states have more liberal disability benefits, that thirty-two states have larger weekly benefits for disability, that thirty-nine states provide more liberal compensation for widows,——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that the question before the House now is on the motion to discharge and not merits of the bill. The gentleman is discussing the merits of the bill and not the motion to discharge. The bill is still in committee and not before the House.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a concluding statement, it appears to me that if licensure is granted to all of the groups that I have enumerated, then it is quite a mistake to continue o put chiropractors in jail.

MOTION TO TABLE

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker. I move that the motion to discharge the committee on Public Health and Sanitation be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the question?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FITCH and Mr. NAGEL.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The reason I make this request is because there are quite a number of members absent, and I don't see how this roll can be called when there are so many who do not answer to their names. I don't see how you can get a correct roll.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to state that we have a very capable Chief Clerk. The pity is that a lot of the members do not respect the responsibilities that rest upon him and vote as they should so that he can get an accurate roll with which duty he is charged.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr Speaker, I withdraw my request for a verification of the roll.

The roll was as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as one member of the Public Health and Sanitation Committee spoke on this motion, and as that member was on the side of the majority, I feel that it is only fair that I should have the privilege of speaking as a member of this committee representing the minority. I will not resort to any unethical practice or make any criticism whatever of this committee which I am a member, but I do think that in view of the fact that I have had hundreds of letters and I now have on my desk a petition sent from one party that has on it over two hundred names requesting that this bill be brought out on the floor—it seems to me that it would be very undemocratic to hide this bill away in committee when so many people of our State are demanding that it be brought out in the open. You have heard of men who called themselves sportsmen, yet they would shoot a rabbit sitting. Let us be sportsmen, let this out on the floor and shoot it running. I ask you to support this motion to discharge this bill from the committee.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, as another member of the Committee on Health and Sanitation, I would like to interrogate the gentlemen from Beaver, Mr. Nagel.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Nagel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NAGEL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, does the gentlemen from Beaver, Mr. Nagel, think that the bill was given careful consideration in the committee?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I think not, but as I said before—you asked me the question now and I will answer it in full—I did not want to reveal any of the transactions of our committee as I thought it was unethical practice.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that Mr. Fitch, the sponsor of this bill, deliberated and told of his bill for at least a half an hour in our meeting?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I did not time the man's talk or the interrogations that were carried on in this committee. I am aware of the fact that he was in there for some time and the consideration that they had of it was had during that time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FITCH and Mr. NAGEL and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker I vote "aye" and wish to file my reasons.

Only in extraordinary circumstances am I in favor of discharging a committee from further consideration of a bill. I find this to be an extraordinary condition, because House Bill No. 494 was reported favorably by one committee and on the motion to recommit to another committee it received about 90 favorable votes.

Therefore, the present committee, the Health and Sanitation Committee in not reporting on House Bill No. 494 has not heeded those members of this House who were in favor of said Legislation.

The circumstances justify the discharge of the committee at this time, so that the membership may have an opportunity to vote on the merit of the bill.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1991 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1991, Printer's No. 1169, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislature and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

on page 40 of today's calendar, bills on third reading be made a special order or business on third reading and final passage at 5:20 P. M.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The hour of 5:20 having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for that hour, House Bill No. 1991, Printer's No. 1169.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1991, entitled:

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE UNDER RESOLUTION NO. 137

The SPEAKER. In accordance with the provisions of Resolution No. 137, Printer's No. 66, the Chair appoints the following Committee to investigate the Board of City Trusts of the City of Philadelphia: Miss Brancato, Messrs Hagerty, Pfaff, Burke and Root.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to say to the members of this House and particularly to the Speaker of the House, that the appointment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Root, as a Republican minority representative on this committee is most satisfactory to the Republican minority of this House, and I feel that the delegate this morning was not in vain. I want to thank the Speaker for his fairness in putting a real Republican on that committee.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2487, entitled:

An Act amending sections eight, ten, sixteen and seventeen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property,, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township, or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated town with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injurying or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by providing for the abandonment of sections of State Highway Routes, providing for an effective date for the condemnation of casements for highway purposes and slopes; providing for the limitation of the responsibility of the Commonwealth in the elimination of grade crossings; extending the Commonwealth's obligation to additional bridges; providing for agreements by the Secretary of Highways and counties for the sharing of property damages and the removal of structures; requiring occupancy permits for additional types of structures.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "Amending" and inserting in lieu thereof: "To further amend"

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 4, by striking out the word "amended" and inserting in lieu thereof "last amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (P. L. 831) and the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (P. L. 1388)"

Amend Sec. 1, page 6, line 19, by inserting after the word "county" the following paragraph: "The Secretary of Highways shall have power, with the approval of the Governor, to change any plan of record by reducing the width of any State highway, or section thereof, established as hereinbefore provided, by causing a new description and plan thereof to be made, showing the center line of said highway and the new established width thereof, and shall attach thereto his acknowledgment. Thereupon such description, plan, and acknowledgment shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the proper county as hereinbefore provided, and a notation shall be made on the prior plan that the same has been replaced by a later plan."

Amend Sec. 2, page 7, line 14, by striking out the word "amended" and inserting in lieu thereof "last amended by the act approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1402)"

Amend Sec. 4, page 14, line 24, by striking out the word "amended" and inserting in lieu thereof "last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (P. L. 1388)"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Adams will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARTMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I have been instructed by the 1935 Memorial Day committee to state to the members of the House that the Governor of our Commonwealth will be the speaker at the Memorial Day exercises at Gettysburg in the National Cemetery.

The committee has also asked me to extend an invitation to all the members of the General Assembly to come to Gettysburg on May 30th. The address by His Excellency the Governor will be delivered about 2.30 P. M., but if the members can be there at about 2.00 o'clock, it will be better. The committee has promised to deliver to me by next Monday or Tuesday a number of tickets to be distributed among the members of the House who expect to attend the ceremonies. The necessary seating arrangements will be made. As I have stated, the Governor will be present together with some members of his cabinet and a detail of the National Guard will also be present.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1641

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 22, 1935.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1641, Printer's No. 1061, entitled, "An Act For the protection of producers of farm produce providing for the licensing bonding or holding collateral of and regulation of certain individuals and entities receiving selling or offering for sale on consignment or on a net return basis within this Commonwealth farm produce conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Agriculture and otherwise providing for the administration of this act providing for appeals and prescribing penalties."

This bill proposes to license commission merchants receiving consignments of farm products, and requires them to post a bond in the sum of at least one thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful accounting for and payment to the consignors of the proceeds of all farm products handled.

With the purpose of this bill I am in entire sympathy, and I reluctantly disapprove of it because the Attorney General advises me that it is unconstitutional in that it offends against Article III, Section 7 of the Constitution, which forbids the General Assembly passing any local or special law changing the methods of collecting debts.

In the case of SAX AND ABBOTT CONSTRUCTION COMPANY v. SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE CITY OF WILKES-BARRE, 237 Pa. 68 (1912), it was held that an act providing a method for securing moneys due subcontractors on municipal work or public improvements violates this provision of the Constitution. See also STERLING BRONZE COMPANY v. SYRIA IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, 226 Pa. 475 (1910); TREXLER v. KUNTZ, 36 Pa. Super. 352 (1908), where the same was held with regard to a portion of the Mechanics' Lien Act of 1901.

This bill is within the principle laid down in those decisions.

For the reason I have given, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 965 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 965, Printer's No. 147, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Department of Military Affairs, to sell and convey a certain portion of the lands acquired for a State Military Cemetery.

which was laid upon the table, be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 5 of the title, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "Cemetery" the following: "located at Boalsburg, Centre County, Pennsylvania"

Amend section 1, page 1, line 9, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "Cemetery" the following: "located at Boalsburg, Centre County, Pennsylvania"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 27, 1935 No. 67

SENATE

MONDAY, May 27, 1935.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock, P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Pro Tempore John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

As all the rivers of earth flow toward the sea and are at last lost in its vastness, so do all the streams of human existence flow toward Thee, O God, to be finally merged into the ocean of Thy being and Thy beneficence. Gravity draws the waters of the world downward unto the fathomless deep. Heart longing and divine love draw our souls upward toward God.

To drift upon the surface of life's stream is to be finally lost in the abysmal depths of failure and ultimate despair. To stem the current and sail upstream means to finally cast anchor in the harbor of achievement, along the shore of the crystal sea of blessedness, from which flow the refreshing waters of Providence to freshen and invigorate humanity.

Grant, O Lord, that the enactments made in this chamber by these Thy servants prove an upward pull drawing our great Commonwealth and all its people toward Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The President. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HUNSICKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PROTEST AGAINST PARDON OF GROVER C. BERGDOLL

He also presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1935.

Whereas, The public press again considers as news the latest campaign of our well-known ex-resident Grover C. Bergdoll to secure for himself certain funds sequestered by the Federal Government; and

Whereas, With his customary courage he seeks, from a safe haven in his adopted land behind a screen of women and children, to becloud the memory of our Nation with sickly sentimentality; and

Whereas, Even the thought of a reconsideration of his degrading case is a taunt to our honored dead, to the flag he betrayed, and to the country which heaped munificence upon him through no effort on his part; therfore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania believe the concensus of opinion of the citizens of this great Commonwealth whom he disgraced to be steadfastly and unalterably opposed to any amnesty or pardon being granted to Grover C. Bergdoll at this or any future time; and, be it further be served by publishing in the legal newspaper of the county and one newspaper of general circulation in the county a notice to the said respondent or respondents of the filing of said petition and of the time and place fixed for hearing thereon

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Attorney General of the United States.

Section 6 Return of the service of any petition shall set forth particularly the time place and manner of service and shall be filed at least five days before the time fixed for hearing No judgment shall be entered or hearing had until the Court shall be satisfied that service has been made upon all the respondents in one or the other of the three methods herein provided

Section 7 At such hearings any party in interest may introduce into evidence testimony of the fair value of the premises sold at the time of the sale or of any other matter in issue If the fair value of the said property at the time of the said sale shall be finally determined to be less than the total of the amounts of the judgment with interest and costs any prior mortgage or judgment liens not discharged by the sale the secured and unpaid taxes water rents and other state or municipal liens with interest and penalties thereon the Court shall enter a deficiency judgment in the said proceeding in the amount of the difference and thereupon the liability of all persons directly or indirectly liable for the payment of the said mortgage debt shall be limited to the amount of the said deficiency judgment Provided however that in no event shall the fair value be determined to be less than the price for which the property was sold at such Sheriff's sale

Section 8 After such Sheriff's sale no such plaintiff or use plaintiff shall take any proceedings to recover or collect the amount of the mortgage debt until and unless such deficiency judgment shall have been entered and if the plaintiff or use plaintiff shall fail to present such petition within six months after such sale the Prothonotary shall enter satisfaction of such judgment upon the written motion of the defendant or other party in interest provided however that such motion bears the written approval of a Judge of a Court in which the petition was filed Such satisfaction shall have the effect of terminating as well the liability of all persons directly or indirectly liable for the payment of said mortgage debt

Section 9 The defendant in the foreclosure proceedings or judgment or the real owner of the property sold or any other person or persons bound by any obligation securing the payment of the mortgage debt or other person in interest may at any time after the sale present a petition to the Court in like manner ot fix the fair value of the property sold In such case there shall be named as respondents the plaintiff and use plaintiffs as well as all other persons known to petitioner to be directly or indirectly liable to petitioner or any other person for the payment of the said mortgage debt and the case shall proceed in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for in the case of a petition by the plaintiff or use plaintiff

Section 10 Whenever at such Sheriff's sale the holder of a lien subsequent to that upon which the sale was had shall become the purchaser of the said property he shall not be entitled to take any proceedings to recover or collect the amount of the debt secured by the said lien or encumbrance until and unless a deficiency judgment shall be entered at the time and in the manner as hereinbefore provided for further proceedings to recover the amount of the debt under the mortgage upon which the Sheriff's sale was had and in such case all the provisions of this Act shall apply with the same force and effect as if the said sale had been held upon said subsequent lien or any obligation secured thereby

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 12 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 13 The provisions of this act shall become effective on July 1 1935

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

L. 286) entitled "An act to provide for the health safety and welfare of minors: By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations and under certain specified ages by restricting their hours of labor and regulating certain conditions of their employment by requiring employment certificates for certain minors and prescribing the kinds thereof and the rules of issuance reissuance filing return and recording of the same by providing that the Industrial Board shall under certain conditions determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act requiring that certain minors shall during the period of their employment attend certain schools to be established as therein provided and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and regulating the conditions of such attendance authorizing the State Board of Education in certain cases to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the attendance officers of school districts and police officers and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" by prohibiting employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age except in certain types of work which will not interfere with school attendance further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work and the hours of labor further regulating employment certificates and requiring minors under eighteen to procure such certificates and imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would respectfully ask that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, give his reasons for recommitting the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, my reason for asking that this bill be recommitted is that, in view of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States today invalidating all codes, this bill has been drawn to follow the codes of the National Recovery Act, and I think the bill ought to go back and be studied, to be sure it is in proper form, and if it needs amendment. I therefore ask that it be recommitted for the purpose of study and amendment.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, when this bill was on the calendar some months ago it was recommitted. It took at least two months for it to be brought out of committee, and I would like to know what the sponsor of this bill has to say about recommitting it.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I agree, as the sponsor of the bill, to have it recommitted; but certainly not for the purpose of killing it. There had been some amendments submitted to me prior to the decision of the United States Supreme Court, some amendments which our friends on the other side thought ought to be put in the bill, and. also, amendments to correct some printer's errors; and in view of the decision of the Supreme Court I think it ought to be recommitted and amended and brought out again. I am in favor of having it recommitted, although not for the purpose of killing it, but for amendment.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I am opposed to recommitting this bill at this time. The Senate has been in session for some considerable time, and this bill, as well as some others, has been batted around the floor of the Senate for two or three months. I see no reason why this bill should go back into committee. The decision of the United States Supreme Court will have no direct bearing on the validity of this statute. I think there is no bill before this Senate today that is of more importance than this very bill, and I think we should now vote on it and dispose of it. For that reason I would like to have he vote of the members of this Senate on the recommitment of this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 19 can in no way be affected by the decision of the Supreme Court today, relative to the N. R. A. Senate Bill No. 19 provides for hours of labor far in excess of the code hours. It deals with minors. It does need amendment, though, because it provides that no minor shall work more than eight hours a day nor more than six days a week, and then goes on to provide that no minor shall work more than fifty-one hours a week. Pure arithmetic indicates that that requires some change. No person can work fifty-one hours a week by working eight hours a day for a six day week.

I suggest that the maker of the motion withdraw his motion, and that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar for the purpose of amendment—in the only way, I think, the bill requires amendment, and that is to clarify the provision. There is nothing in the N. R. A. decision that affects the Senate Bill No. 19.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be glad to withdraw my motion to recommit this bill.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 19, the bill under discussion be postponed for the present.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 150 (House Bill No. 147), as follows:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new or revised Constitution by convention and its adoption or repection by the people providing for the nomination of delegates to the convention and for their election and for a vote of the electors on the question of calling such a convention with limited powers conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and making an appropriation by conventions called in each senatorial district which except in the senatorial districts located within cities of the first class shall be composed of the members of the county committees who represent the election districts or divisions within the particular senatorial district In the case of senatorial districts within cities of the first class such conventions shall be composed of the members of the ward committees of the election divisions within the particular senatorial district

Conventions for the nomination of delegates-at-large and district delegates shall be convened by the State chairmen of the respective State committees of the political parties at such times not later than October fifth one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and such places as shall be designated by the chairmen

The presiding officer and secretary of each nominating convention shall prepare certificates of nomination for the candidates nominated which shall be sworn to or affirmed by them before an officer authorized to administer oaths to be true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief More than one nomination may be included in one certificate of nomination Such certificates of nomination shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth within the time hereafter required in this act

Section 6 Any body of qualified electors not entitled to make nominations of candidates for public office at the primary election may make nominations for delegates-at-large and district delegates to the constitutional convention by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for State offices of for members of the Senate of Pennsylvania except that such papers or objections thereto shall be filed within the priods of time hereinafter provided in this act A qualified elector may sign nomination papers for not more than one candidate for district delegate and for not more than ten candidates for delegates-at-large

Section 7 All nomination certificates or nomination papers shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least twenty-seven days before the date of the municipal election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-five Blank forms for certificates of nomination and nomination papers shall be prescribed and furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and no forms other than the ones so prescribed shall be used for such purposes Objections to nomination papers may be made and shall be disposed of in the manner provided by law for objections to nomination papers except that objections to such papers must be filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and with the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least twenty-two days before the date of said municipal election

Section 8 Any person whose name has been presented as a candidate may cause his or her name to be withdrawn from nomination by request in writing signed by him or her and acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least twenty-two days previous to the day of said municipal election No name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballots

Section 9 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall at least fourteen days prior to the date of said municipal election transmit to the county commissioners and the sheriff in each county duplicate official lists stating the names and residences of and parties or policies represented by all candidates whose nomination certificates or nomination papers have been filed with him under the provisions of this act and have not been found or declared to be invalid and who are to be voted for at such election

Section 10 The names of the candidates for delegates-at-large to the constitutional convention shall be printed upon the official ballots or ballot labels used at the munimicpal election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-five in a separate column or row under or following the heading "Delegates-At-Large to Constitutional Convention" with the party affiliation of each candidate following the name of the candidate The names of candidates for district delegate to the constitutional convention shall be printed upon the official ballots or ballot labels in a separate column or row under or following the heading "District Delegate to Constitutional Convention" with the party affiliation of each candidate following his name A vote in the party column provided for at the left of the official ballot shall constitute a vote for each candidate of the party for delegate-at-large and for the candidate of the party for district delegate and where voting is done by voting machines a straight party vote shall have a like effect

Section 11 The votes cast at said municipal election for district delegate shall be counted canvassed returned and certified as is now provided by law in the case of elections of members of the Senate of Pennsylvania at general elections.

Section 12 The votes cast at the said municipal election for delegates-at-large shall be counted canvassed certified and returned as is now provided by law in the case of elections of United States Senators.

Section 13 The Secretary of the Commonwealth upon the completion of the computation of the election returns of the delegates-at-large and the receipt by him of the certificates of the proper election officials showing the district delegates elected in the several senatorial districts of the Commonwealth and in all events within fifteen days after said municipal election shall certify to the Governor the names of all district delegates and delegates-at-large to the constitutional convention elected at the municipal election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-five. The Governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation declaring the names of the persons chosen as delegates to the convention and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue a certificate of election to each delegate so chosen.

Section 14 The members of the constitutional convention shall each receive for the payment of their traveling and other expenses the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) payable in four equal installments.

Section 15 Any vacancy occurring in the nomination for the office of district delegate or delegate-at-large prior to the election may be filled by the party or group on whose ticket such vacancy occurs at any time before the ballots for such election are printed in such manner as the convention or rules of such party or group may prescribe. Any vacancy occurring in the office of district delegate or delegate-at-large after the election shall be filled by the vote of the delegates-at-large of the party or group of which the delegate whose place is to be filled was a representative.

Section 16 The delegates to the constitutional convention shall convene at twelve o'clock noon on the first Monday of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-five in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the City of Harrisburg Pennsylvania and shall immediately organize by electing a president and secretary and shall from time to time elect such other officers and assistants as may be deemed necessary for the transaction of the business of the convention. The convention shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure and to determine the qualification of delegates and to adjourn to such time or times and place in the City of Harrisburg as it shall determine.

Section 17 The convention shall have the power to fix the compensation of the secretary other officers and assistants and shall also have the right to call upon the Legislative Reference Bureau for such aid and assistance as it may require.

Section 18 It shall be the duty of the convention subject to the Constitution of the United States of America to draft prepare and propose a new or revised Canstitution for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The convention in the proposed constitution shall not authorize the future creation of indebtedness for any purposes other than those enumerated in article nine section four of the existing Constitution of the Commonwealth as originally adopted by the people on December sixteenth one thousand eight hundred seventy-three unless the General Assembly shall at the time the indebtedness is authorized be required to enact legislation estimated to produce sufficient revenue to pay the interest on such indebtedness and provide for the retirement thereof at maturity. The indebtedness authorized to be created for the purpose of supplying casual deficiencies in revenue shall never together with any existing indebtedness created for such purpose exceed in the aggregate at any one time fifty million dollars.

If the convention shall not observe the limitations imposed by this section any taxpayer may proceed by bill in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County to restrain the submission to the electors of the proposed Constitution and for this purpose jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. The convention may be a majority vote submit the proposed new or revised Constitution to the qualified voters of the Commonwealth for their adoption or rejection at the spring primary election in the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six or at the general election in the year one thosand nine hundred thirty-six as the convention may designate.

Section 19 Such Constitution as may be proposed by the constitutional convention shall be engrossed and signed by the President and Secretary of the convention and shall if possible be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the tenth day of March if it is to be submitted at the spring primary in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and not later than the fifteenth day of September if it is to be submitted at the general election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records of his office He shall cause the proposed Constitution to be published in three newspapers of general circulation as defined by the Newspaper Advertising Act of May sixteenth one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 784) in every county of the Commonwealth wherein such number of newspapers may be published three times before the date of the election at which the proposed Constitution is to be submitted to the electors The newspapers selected in each county shall be those having the largest bona fide circulation He shall also publish the same in convenient form for distribution and shall send a copy thereof to every elector of the Commonwealth making application therefor

Section 20 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall prepare the proposed Constitution on a special ballot to be designated as "Constitution Ballot" for submission to the voters of the Commonwealth in such form and with such instructions as will enable each voter to indicate by a "yes" or "no" vote his approval or rejection of the proposed Constitution as a whole Such ballots shall be bound into books of convenient numbers with stubs and the ballot and the stub shall bear the name of the county in which the ballot is to be used The stubs shall be numbered consecutively beginning with the number one in each county Each ballot shall have at the upper right-hand corner of the back of the ballot a diagonal perforated printed line and upon the corner of the ballot and included within such line shall be printed the same number as appears on the stub to which the ballot is attached Such number so printed on the ballot shall be removed by the voter in the manner provided by the election laws for removal of such numbers before the ballot is deposited in the ballot box

Section 21 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause to be printed a sufficient number of official "Constitution Ballots" for all the voters of this Commonwealth and at least ten days before the election at which such proposed Constitution is submitted shall distribute the same to the county commissioners of the several counties of the Commonwealth The county commissioners shall at the time distribution is made of the usual ballots for such election distribute the constitution ballots to each of the several voting precincts in their respective counties in sufficient quantities to provide such ballots for the voters of each respective county

Section 22 A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed Constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed Constitution if approved by a majority of electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed Constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six if voted on at the spring primary in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven if voted on at the general election in one thousand nine hundred thirty-six Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed Constitution shall be counted canvassed and returned by election officers and return boards as provided by law in the case of votes cast on proposed amendments to the Constitution and shall be certified by the prothonotary of each and every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from such certificate it shall appear that the proposed Constitution shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 23 The sum of Three Hundred Fifty-Thousand Dollars ($350,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the General Fund of the State Treasury for the payment of the expenses of members of the constitutional convention and the compensation of the officers and assistants of the convention and for the payment of postage telegraph telephone advertising printing and express charges and all incidental and miscellaneous expenses lawfully incurred by the convention or its officers or the Secretary of the Commonwealth in carrying out the provisions of this act All payments from this appropriation shall be made on the warrant of the Auditor General upon requisition of the President of the convention or of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, last January, I announced to the representatives of the press that I was unalterably opposed to Constitutional revision. My conviction remains unchanged.

I will not discuss the technique of the pending bill. Rather it is my purpose to reply to certain arguments which have been advanced in support of Constitutional revision by its two most conspicuous proponents, Governor Earle and Attorney General Margiotti.

It must be conceded that His Excellency, the Governor, has been most candid in his advocacy of Constitutional revision. He has not resorted to camouflage. Not only in his inaugural address but equally in every address thereafter he has consistently and persistently advanced two reasons for revision:

First, the existing limitation upon the power to tax.

Second, the existing limitation upon the power to borrow.

Undoubtedly, the Governor is sincere in his desire to confer upon the Legislature the privilege of imposing an ever-increasing tax burden upon Pennsylvania. Equally he desires an unlimited right to authorize bond issues whereby to tax our children and our children's children to the third and fourth generation. Governor Earle has demonstrated that he is a sincere governmental spendthrift; a true representative of the New Deal Democracy.

A few days ago, the Governor referred to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth as the "guardian and custodian of the Constitution." Heretofore, we had understood this official to be the legal adviser of the Governor and other executive departments and, as well, the law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth. Our study of government had convinced us that the Courts were intended to be the guardians and custodians of the Constitution.

I have a high regard for the distinguished Attorney General and I hesitate to dissent from his opinions. But I am forced to the conclusion that he is advocating constitutional revision, in part at least, for reasons which are not legally tenable.

On February 6th last, Attorney General Margiotti appeared before the Committee on Constitutional Changes. According to the record, Mr. Margiotti said:

> "I will begin with the first one. I believe that the tax provision of the Constitution should be changed. That is the provision that provides that all taxes shall be uniform on the same class of subjects. I believe under the law as it exists today, considering past decisions, that a graduated income tax with exemptions, would be declared unconstitutional."

He later added:

> "There is a definite decision by the Supreme Court declaring the graduated income tax unconstitutional."

Probably the Attorney General was referring to Cope's Estate, 191 Pa. 1, which we do not regard as controlling, as the tax there considered was a property tax. A graduated income tax has generally been held to be an excise tax.

In the very recent case of Commonwealth vs. Girard Life Insurance Company, 305 Pa., 558, Mr. Justice Schaffer said:

> "Our Constitution enjoins that 'All taxes be uniform upon the same class of subjects'; The Federal constitution directs 'Nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.' As applied to questions of taxation, the constructions of the two enactments run together. That which would violate one would generally controvene the other."

Let us now consider Federal decisions. In his able treatise entitled "The Law of the American Constitution," Professor Burdick of Cornell University says:

> "Income taxes are not new in American law but they have come into much wider use in the last few years. That there is nothing in the Federal Constitution to prevent a State's adopting such method of taxation is quite clear."

He then quotes from Shaffer vs. Carter, 252 U. S. 37, a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, that:

> "Income taxes are a recognized method of ristributing the burden of government, favored because requiring contributions from those who realize current pecuniary benefits under the protection of the government, and because the tax may be readily proportioned to their ability to pay."

Professor Burdick then adds:

> "The statute in question provided for a progressive income tax. No question was raised in the case with regard to this feature of the statute, but the language quoted above clearly shows approval of it. Such taxes have generally been upheld by state courts."

The above citations convince us that the Attorney General's conclusion that a graduated income tax would be declared unconstitutional is not in harmony with recent State and Federal Appellate court decisions. But granting for the sake of argument that the Attorney General is right, we do not need constitutional revision. The adoption by the people of the Woodward Constitutional Amendment, which has passed the Senate, or of the Simon Constitutional amendment, which passed the House of Representatives, and is now on our Second Reading calendar will make certain the constitutionality of a graduated income tax. Any attempt to change the uniformity clause beyond clarifying the right to impose excise taxes with proper classification, as the Woodward and Simon Constitutional Amendments do, would be dangerous in the extreme.

Attorney General Margiotti's second reason is:

> "Under our present Constitution you have in Article 5 a provision recognizing justices of the peace, aldermen and magistrates as constitutional officers. That takes away from the Legislature the authority it should have from time to time to reorganize the minor judiciary."

We do not need a Constitutional Convention to reorganize the minor judiciary of Pennsylvania. If such change is found to be desirable, the change can be effected by an amendment.

The third reason as it appears in the record is:

> "In Article XIV, Section 1 of the Constitution is fastened, also, upon the State, officers in every county, regardless of size and local conditions—sheriff, coroner, register of wills, recorder of deeds and clerk of the courts. There are many instances where officers provided for in the Constitution today could be eliminated or consolidated, and, there, of course, would be a great saving to the Commonwealth."

The Attorney General is wrong. There is no Constitutional restriction to consolidating the various county officers. In the eighth class counties in Pennsylvania one man now holds the office of Prothonotary, Register of Wills, Recorder of Deeds and Clerk of the Courts. Similar consolidation can be extended to all counties, if desired.

The fourth reason is:

> "Under the Constitution, in Section 7, Article 111, under "Special and Local Legislation Limited," you have this provision 'The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law authorizing the creation, extension or impairing of liens: Regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs or school districts.' "

This section of the Constitution should never be changed. In response to a great public need, it came into being in the Constitution of 1874. The desire to end the old system of political log rolling by special and local acts was its chief inspiration. To support my contention, I quote from "Old Time Notes of Pennsylvania" by Col. Alexander K. McClure, who, in describing the intolerable conditions which existed immediately preceding 1874, says:

> "During all the tidal wave of legislative venality there were men of the purest purpose and strictest integrity, who served in both branches, with full knowledge of the venal environment, but they knew if they attempted to assail it, they would simply be made powerless to serve their constituents or any important public or private interests they had at heart. This condition continued, varying only in degree, until the adoption of the New Constitution in 1874."

And now the distinguished Attorney General of the Commonwealth would strike down our chief bulwark against venality in legislation by weakening or removing from our organic law the salutary protection of Section 7 of Article III.

The fifth reason is:

> "The provision for the passage of laws in the Legislature requires that every bill shall be introduced in the Legislature and read at length three times and submitted to a Committee. I believe that ought to be changed so that in case of necessity you may get more speed. You may be required to act promptly."

Mr. President, experience has taught that wise legislation will be promoted more by a greater care in the preparation and consideration of bills than by more speed in their enactment. We suggest that in emergencies, greater speed in the office of the Attorney General in fully appreciating and preparing for the emergency and better administration bills is far more necessary and desirable than speed in the Legislature.

General Margiotti's sixth and last specific reason presented to the Committee on Constitutional Changes is as follows:

> "Of course, the next provision is the borrowing capacity of the State, with which you are all acquainted, limiting the borrowing capacity to one million dollars."

For my part, I do not favor any change in the borrowing clause of the Constitution. During its entire history and in great emergencies, Pennsylvania has proved that it can live within its budget, by providing extra revenue for extraordinary needs. We must not strike down our constitutional guarantee against waste, profligacy and future excessive taxation.

A few days ago the Attorney General added to his list of "most obnoxious" limitations the following: the amendatory procedure which prevents amendments more often than once every five years, and the lack of power to take care of needy citizens. Apparently our friends on the Democratic side of the Senate are not in entire sympathy with the Administration for it was only last Monday that seventeen Democratic votes were cast against Senate Bill No. 26 which amends the present Constitution as to speeding up amendments as the Attorney General now urges. And the decision of the Supreme Court in Commonwealth vs. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35, sustaining the constitutionality of the first Talbot Act, has clearly demonstrated that the "Charity Clause" of the Constitution will not prevent the state from taking care of its unemployed. when proper governmental agencies are employed.

Attorney General Margiotti has said:

> "A panic produced our Constitution in 1873 and the emergency with which we are now faced should and will produce a great constitution for Pennsylvania."

The Attorney General is wrong. The delegates to the Constitutional Convention were elected October 8, 1872, and the Convention had virtually completed its work when the panic broke upon the country during September, 1873.

Furthermore, the purpose back of the Constitutional revision of 1873 was the desire to remove venality, injustice and oppression in government. The old Constitution of 1838 was a serious obstacle to salutary legislation in the public interest. The present Constitution made liberty and equality the keynote of Pennsylvania government. It recognizes the inalienable rights of local communities to govern themselves. It stands as a barrier against a state or federal dictatorship. On the other hand, the purpose motivating those who promote constitutional revision today, is to remove the checks and balances by which constitutional liberty is secure. They demand the right to unlimited borrowing and discriminatory taxation. They would annul the charity clause of the Constitution, thereby permitting partisan raids upon the treasury, even for sectarian purposes. They would seek to perpetuate the aims of New Deal Democracy by hamstringing industry, crucifying labor and perpetuating the dole. They would destroy local government by building up executive bureaucracy in Pennsylvania, on the pattern of the dictatorship at Washington.

General Margiotti has his conclusions badly mixed when he says:

> "It required onerous taxes imposed by Great Britain to get us a Boston tea party and a Federal Constitution. But no one would dare say that the framers of our Federal Constitution were radicals or not worthy of such a trust."

It is true that onerous taxes imposed by Great Britain caused the "Boston Tea Party" of 1773. Likewise, it is certain that the insatiate greed of this Democratic Administration in imposing onerous taxes upon Pennsylvania, even by the desperate expedient of striking down the organic law to the end that taxes may be imposed without limit, will bring about a second "Boston Tea Party" in November, 1936, when militant, triumphant Republicanism will achieve Pennsylvania's recovery, by dumping overboard forever the governmental theories of New Deal Democracy, which have so seriously delayed and retarded recovery in Pennsylvania.

Under our Constitution, Pennsylvania has become a state which more perfectly than any other on earth represents every interest and employment of civilized man. Under it, ten million Pennsylvanians are secure against unjust discrimination and oppression. Although it has become hoary with age, it is not "a relic of the horse car, hoop skirt, horse and buggy age," as the Attorney General has asserted. Its provisions are so wise and so liberal, that through judicial construction, it is as responsive to the needs of the present hour as it was to the age in which it was written. To supersede the time honored phraseology of this document with one containing phrases which has never had judicial construction, will make for confusion and uncertainty in government. To supersede our organic law with a radical constitution, under present conditions, will threaten the continued advancement of Pennsylvania.

Forty-four years ago, a great Democratic Governor, Robert E. Pattison, took the oath of office. He had served four years as Controller of Philadelphia and four years as Governor. He had served the people of Pennsylvania so well, that in 1890 he was elected Governor for a second term. In his second inaugural address, Governor Robert E. Pattison said:

> "The present executive will zealously strive to maintain the constitution and the laws. Our constitution as approved by the people is in many respects a model of organic law. It breathes the essential spirit of popular government through all its members. By it the general welfare is sought to be promoted. In it there is no hostility to any interest, individual or corporate. It was drafted by a convention controlled by as noble and choice characters as ever adorned our state. Many of its important provisions are, however, uninforced. * * * Every power of the executive shall be exercised to enforce the constitution of the state in every article and section."

Governor Pattison was right. The Constitution of 1874 was and is a model of organic law. A few needed changes can be easily made by amendment. In view of the chaotic conditions now existing in the nation and in the state, no one can forecast into what dangers a Constitutional Convention may lead. Abraham Lincoln said that it was not wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. Certainly it is not wise to change constitutions in the midst of a nation wide depression.

The people of Pennsylvania will not overlook the fact that when Governor Earle took the oath of office, at his side and towering above him in stature and importance, stood James A. Farley. Pennsylvania's constitution must not be revised under the dictation of Tammany.

The ideal of Robert E. Pattison was the Jeffersonian ideal of the development of Pennsylvania agriculture, commerce and industry, through a "wise and frugal government." The ideal of "Tammanyized New Deal Democracy" is the enthronement of a federal dictator at Washington. The eyes of thousands of Pennsylvanians will be fixed upon this Senate tonight to see whether we will sanction the attempt to tear down Pennsylvania's Independence Hall in order to erect upon Pennsylvania soil an annex to Tammany Hall. Let us defeat constitutional revision now and thus be sure that "the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government" may continue to "be recognized and unalterably established in Pennsylvania." That is our guarantee as presently contained in Pennsylvania's great organic law.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in spite of the interest with which I have listened to the arguments of the distinguished Senator from Dauphin against Constitutional revision, I would just like to briefly, Mr. President, mention one or two of the very important matters which are continually before this State which calls for Constitutional revision. Not so long ago that we do not remember, that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania handed down a decision which definitely fixed the status of old age pension legislation in this State. While the gentleman who handed down the opinion of that Court on a pension in excess of nine hundred dollars a month, that same gentleman could write the opinion and say that the aged of Pennsylvania, on account of the provisions of the "Matt Quay" Constitution, could not receive anything in the nature of subsistence from the State.

We have at the present time in this State a very inadequate substitute for old age assistance. Old age assistance as we all have seen it worked out in this State in the past year, has seemed in its operation to put a premium on profligacy and to penalize the aged who have been frugal and careful in their existence in the earlier years, and I say that if for no other reason, the Constitution of Pennsylvania should be revised so that Pennsylvania could have once and for all a satisfactory old age pension system.

I think perhaps the Senator from Dauphin is going a little too far afield when he attacks Constitutional revision by attempting to confuse the voters by appealing to the age old sectarian prejudices. Somehow or other I cannot help but go back in my mind to some sort of indirect attack that we saw throughout the State when the triumphant Republicanism conquered at the pools in the Presidential election of 1928, and I say that this is entirely apart from a matter of that sort, from any question as to whether there should be a Constitutional revision in the State of Pennsylvania.

The question of the borrowing capacity of the State is and will always be a controversial question. I am not one of those who favor an absolutely unlimited borrowing capacity. We have demonstrated in the past few weeks that if we tap the source of taxation in this State which for generations have enjoyed privileged exemptions, that we do not need to go into debt for certain purposes which we feel are necessary under the present social conditions in the State of Pennsylvania, but we do need a modernized borrowing capacity to take advantage of many things which we have missed in the past two years, and which we will miss in the coming years, if we have not already missed, by our inaction in those things which are offered to us. Certainly no one will dispute the fact that the State of Pennsylvania should be entitled to go into debt for the furtherance of necessary and appropriate governmental functions. When I say that I mean that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today should be enabled to take advantage of many things which we cannot do. During the past two years our State and its municipal subdivisions have probably lost in the neighborhood of two hundred million dollars worth of substantial construction, construction which would have added to the enjoyment of public existence in this Commonwealth, and we stand to lose in the next two years unless we do something to modernize our jurisprudence, to lose an equal if not a larger amount of money.

Our insane asylums in many instances are no credit to the State of Pennsylvania. Our hospitals, many of them need enlargement, our State hospitals and our State institutions, we can go through the eleemosenary institutions of the Commonwealth and can pick out practically every one where the Commonwealth can legitimately and sanely spend money if we could take advantage of the program of public works, or something of that sort, which we cannot do under our inadequate policies as laid down by this Constitution, and when, as Senator Reed says, there are so many individual items that should be amended, that should be qualified, those items in which the Constitution is admittedly defective at the present time, coupled with so many of these items such as those just mentioned in brief, there is no question at all but that the Constitution of this State certainly should be brought up to the social necessities of the people of this Commonwealth today:

We talk a great deal about our predecessors in professional lines, particularly in the legal profession, and what they have written and as to the failure of our present organic government, its organization and its qualities, and how we should preserve it and all that sort of thing, but I think, Mr. President, the injunction that should govern this Senate, the lower House, and the people of the State of Pennsylvania, in passing on a problem of this kind, is not the injunction of men one hundred years ago, but I would have you all, Mr. President, go over to the Educational Building, erected some few years ago, and over the arch, as you enter the Law Library in that building, to my mind is written the motto which we should follow in approaching a problem such as we have before us now. Above the arch in that great building is a motto which I will never forget. It says: "The Public Welfare is the Highest Law", and that to my mind, Mr. President, is the injunction that should govern us in deciding a problem of this kind, that "The Public Welfare is the Highest Law", not only in the framing of our legislation in these bodies, but likewise in the revision or amendment to our arganic government.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I have heard with uncommon frequency my colleagues to the left of this chamber quote copiously from the words of Thomas Jefferson, whose disciples, or, rather, of whose school of philosophy they are disciples. For their information I would like to quote from "The Life and Writings of Thomas Jefferson" by S. E. Forman, Ph. D., of Johns Hopkins. I quote a letter to James Madison, from Paris, in the year 1789:

"No society can make a perpetual Constitution or even a perpetual law. The earth belongs always to the living generation. They may manage it then, and what proceeds from it, as they please during their usufruct. They are masters, too, of their own persons, and consequently may govern them as they please. But persons and property make the sum of the objects of government. The Constitution and laws of their predecessors extinguished them, in their natural course, with those whose will gave them being. This could preserve that being till it ceased to be itself, and no longer. Every Constitution, then, and every law, naturally expires at the end of nineteen years. If it be enforced longer, it is an act of force and not a right.

It may be said that the succeeding generations exercising in fact the power of repeal, this leaves them as free as if the Constitution or law had been expressly limited to nineteen years only. In the first place, this objection admits the right, in proposing an equivalent. It might be indeed if every form of government were so perfectly contrived that the will of the majority could always be obtained fairly and without impediment. But this is true of no form. The people cannot assemble themselves; their representation is unequal and vicious. Various checks are opposed to every legislative proposition. Factions get possession of the public councils. Bribery corrupts them. Personal interests lead them astray from the general interests of their constituents; and other impediments arise so as to prove to every practical man that a law of limited duration is much more manageable than one which needs a repeal.

In another letter, written to Samuel Kercheval, in 1816, I quote:

"Some men look at Constitutions with sanctimonious reverence, and deem them like the ark of the convenant, too sacred to be touched. They ascribe to the men of the preceding age a wisdom more than human, and suppose what they did to be beyond amendment. I knew that age well; I belonged to it, and labored with it. It deserved well of its country. It was very like the present; and forty years of experience in government is worth a century of book-reading; and this they would say themselves, were they to rise from the dead. I am certainly not an advocate for frequent and untried changes in laws and constitutions. I think moderate imperfections had better be borne with because, when once known, we accommodate ourselves to them, and find practical means of correcting their ill effects. But I know, also, that laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind. As that becomes more developed, more enlightened, as new discoveries are made, new truths disclosed, and manners and opinions change with the change of circumstances, institutions must advance also, and keep pace with the times. We might as well require a man to wear still the coat which fitted him when a boy, as civilized society to remain ever under the regimen of their barbarous ancestors. It is this preposterous idea which has lately deluged Europe in blood. Their monarchs, instead of wisely yielding to the gradual change of circumstances, of favoring progressive accommodation to progressive improvement, have clung to old abuses, entrenched themselves behind steady habits, and obliged their subjects to seek through blood and violence rash and ruinous innovations, which, had they been referred to the peaceful deliberations and collected wisdom of the nation, would have been put into acceptable and salutary form. Let us follow no such examples, nor weakly believe that one generation is not as capable as another of taking care of itself, and of ordering its own affairs. Let us, as our sister States have done, avail ourselves of our reason and experience, to correct the crude essays of our first and unexperienced, although wise, virtuous, and well-meaning councils. And lastly, let us provide in our Constitution for its revision at stated periods. What these periods should be, nature herself indicates. By the European tables of mortality, of the adults living at any one moment of time, a majority will be dead in about nineteen years. At the end of that period then a new majority is come into place; or, in other words, a new generation. Each generation is as independent of the one preceding, as that was of all which had gone before.

It has, then like them, a right to choose for itself the form of government it believes most promotive of is own happiness; consequently, to accommodate to the circumstances in which it finds itself, that received from its predecessors; and it is for the peace and good of mankind that a solemn opportunity of doing this every nineteen or twenty years, should be provided by the Constitution; so that it may be handed on, with periodical repairs, from generation, to generation, to generation, to the end of time, if anything human can endure so long. It is now forty years since the Constitution of Virginia was formed. The same tables inform us, that, within that period, two-thirds of the adults then living are now dead. Have then the remaining third, even if they had the wish, the right to hold in obedience to their will, and to laws heretofore made by them, the other two-thirds, who, with themselves, compose the present mass of adults? If they have not, who has? The dead? But the dead have no rights. They are nothing; and nothing cannot be something. Where there is no substance, there can be no accident. This corporeal globe, and everything upon it, belongs to its present corporeal inhabitants, during their generation. They alone have the right to direct what is the concern of themselves alone, and to declare the law of that direction; and this declaration can only be made by their majority. That majority, then, has a right to depute representatives to a convention, and to make the Constitution what they think will be the best for themselves.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have always had a great admiration for the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed; I have always admired his courage and his frankness; and I am glad that he has at last told us the attitude of the left wing of this Senate on the question of Constitutional Revision. In other words, he has let the cat out of the bag—they do not want any revision of the Constitution at all. I do, however, feel that it would have been much fairer to this body and to the people of Pennsylvania if that had been told to us three months ago, when this bill came over from the House. This bill came here three months ago, and was taken over by the Committee on Constitutional Changes, composed of half a dozen of the best lawyers in Pennsylvania, and I venture to say that any two of those lawyers from that committee could have sat down and in twenty-four hours drafted the machinery to submit this Constitution to the people of Pennsylvania; and that was their only duty. But instead of that they started to hold hearings here in this body, that is, in this chamber, and I listened to a number of them; and instead of seeking advice on how to form the machinery to revise the Constitution there was an invitation, or, at least ecouragement to prejudiced people, little people, narrow people, to come in here and vent their views on what might or might not be in the Constitution—something that was not before that body, something that should not have been considered. The only thing that committee had to consider was the machinery of submitting this question to the people; instead of that it was allowed to fan the fires that could be aroused in Pennsylvania. And to what purpose? For killing the Constitution.

Then, after three months of delay a bill is brought out here amended, limiting the borrowing power to $50,000,000.00. Now, to my mind that was just thrown in there as a scarecrow, because if any voter felt that we should be able to borrow more than $50,000,000.00, he would vote against it.

Then, too, there is a psychological method. When they go into the ballot box, the ordinary voter, if he sees $50,000,000.00 written out there, it scares him.

So this provision was very cleverly thrown into this as a proposed limitation on the Constitutional Convention; and, Mr. President, I feel that this body has no more right to limit what a Constitutional Convention shall do than a bunch of Hershey's cows out here in the pasture. We, here, are the creatures of the sovereign people of this State; and the sovereign people of this State are the only people who can rewrite a Constitution, and when we go about it they ought to have a free hand.

Mr. President, in the last campaign there was distributed in my district a paper called "The Black News." It was not published by the Democrats or by the Republicans; it was published by The Security League and a number of labor groups. That publication declared that this Senate was known as "The Slaughter House of all Humane Legislation;" and I feel, Mr. President, that there was some truth in this statement, because if there was ever a proposition slaughtered it has been slaughtered in this Senate by delaying this bill for three months and then bringing it out with the limitations it has before us tonight.

Whenever this discussion comes up we hear a lot of criticism of the "Dictatorship from Washington." I do not see how that has anything to do, particularly, with amending the Constitution here; but I do know that the people of Pennsylvania want an Old Age Pension, that they want the overlapping governments in this State abolished, that they want a graduated income tax, that they want to increase the borrowing power so that when a crisis arises we will be in shape to meet it; and if we had not had a friendly government at Washington in the crisis that we have passed through during the last four years I do not know where we would have been under our present Constitution. Four years from now we might not have such a friendly Adminisration at Washington, that would look after the poor and the downtrodden.

Therefore, I feel that, for these reasons, we should have a Constitutional Convention that will be free to give the people what they demand.

We have also heard here tonight considerable criticism about the New Deal and the "Dictatorship from Washington," and that this thing may be remedied in 1936; but, Mr. President, I am not fearful of what is going to happen in 1936. I feel that the people of this Commonwealth do not want to go back to 1920, or from 1920 to 1930, the periods of Harding and Coolidge and Hoover; because it was during that period that 10,000 banks closed their doors in this country, when just over the line, in Canada, where they had the same Anglo-Saxon race, the same continent —with nothing but a line drawn between us—not a bank failed. But in that country there was not a partnership between big business and government, such as existed in this country during those three Administrations.

So I feel, Mr. President, that in 1936 we do not need to fear what will happen in this country. I feel that we will never go back to that kind of government. And, Mr. President, I am constrained to vote for this bill because I feel that perhaps with the limitation in there the people of this State will be wise enough to have a Constitutional Convention in spite of the scarecrow that was thrown into it.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 891, on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the payment of unpaid expenses and bills incurred by the Senate Committee created to investigate the Public Service Commission be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 928 (House Bill No. 1082), on third reading, entitled·

An Act to amend section one and sections five six nine eleven and twelve as amended of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 21), entitled "An act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making certain exceptions and providing a Board of Optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts parts of acts inconsistent therewith" by further defining optometry prescribing the qualifications of schools and courses in optometry and further regulating the practice of optometry take another trip back to the Committee on Public Health, particularly since on page 11 I have not been able to find out whether these are brackets or rackets.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I oppose this motion to recommit this bill. This bill, Mr. President, has been on the calendar for about four weeks, and on one-half dozen occasions I did not object when a motion was made that the bill be passed in order; and only within the last ten days there was a motion made to recommit this bill to the Committee on Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment; but when that bill did reach the committee there was no amendment offered, consequently it was re-reported to the Senate and is now on the calendar for final passage.

This bill has been on the calendar now for about four weeks, and I believe that the Senate ought to vote for it now. I have read this bill several times and I find that it is a most inoffensive bill; in fact, it is very laudable. It only attempts to amend the Optometry Act of 1917 in two phases. First, it attempts to do away with bait advertising; and, No. 2, it advances the standard of education for those that study optometry.

Now, that is all the bill does. The objectors to this bill are the osteopaths, and I am definite in my statement that there is not a word in this bill that hurts or affects the osteopathic profession in this Commonwealth—not a scintella—not a word in this bill, I repeat most emphatically.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, the question before the Senate is on the motion to recommit this bill to committee. Any argument on the merits of the bill is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, is well taken; and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, will confine himself to the motion.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, in view of what I have already said, I will ask the Senate to vote down this motion, and let us argue the merits of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, nineteen Senators voted in the affirmative and twenty-five in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the negative.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 928 (House Bill No. 1082), as follows:

Section 12 The provisions of this act shall not apply to the physicians or surgeons practicing under authority of license issued under the laws of this Commonwealth for the practice of medicine or surgery

Section 5 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions are declared unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been enacted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will now proceed—well, is the bill before the Senate for a vote?

The PRESIDENT. The bill is now before the Senate.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will continue my remarks regarding this bill. Now, the only objections I find to this bill come from the osteopaths, and I have argued my lungs out with some of these osteopaths to prove to them that there is no attempt made by this bill to affect them in the slightest manner. Now, let me prove what I say:

After reading the bill I just want to call your attention to this one clause, on page 10, section 12: "The provisions in this Act shall not apply to the physicians or surgeons practicing under the authority of license issued under the laws of this Commonwealth for the practice of medicine or surgery."

Now, that is the exception. The optometric bill, after defining what optometry is—and there is absolutely no difference between the definition of optometry in this bill and the definition of optometry under the law of 1917,—the words might be different, the sentences might be different, but optometry, and the practice of it, remains absolutely the same, to wit, it is the right to prescribe glasses and nothing else.

Now, what is the objection; and how are the osteopaths affected? Now, under the old law of 1917, we say that the doctors or the surgeons who are authorized to practice medicine—not by the certificate issued by the medical board of this Commonwealth,—that could be aimed at the osteopaths—but I say that shall not apply to physicians or surgeons practicing under the authority of the Commonwealth; in other words, the osteopaths that practice under the diplomas issued by their own board—they admit that they are doctors, we admit it; they admit that they are surgeons, and we admit it; and therefore, by this exemption they are not affected in one iota; and therefore, I say that by this bill we aim to lift up the practice of optometry and nothing else; and I repeat we are not aiming a single stick at the osteopaths, we respect their profession, we respect them; but this bill is aimed to better the conditions of the optometrists, and I think that the Senate ought to pass this bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, if this bill does not exempt from its provisions physicians and surgeons.

Mr ARON. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, why, then, does not the bill include in that exemption the osteopaths?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, because they are physicians and surgeons.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, are they?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, they are. They say so themselves.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not so understand them.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, well, they do.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if they are, they should have the same exemptions as the physicians and surgeons have; and surely this bill is not fair in that respect. I understand the optometrists have two years requisite education, and in that two years they may examine the eyes, whereas, the osteopaths, with five years of technical education, may not examine the eyes; and therefore, I think that this is a very unfair bill and should be voted down in its present form. If they would include in the exemption the osteopaths, as well as physicians and surgeons, I would see no objection to the bill; but in its present form I feel it is unfair and unjust and should not be allowed to pass.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, if this bill is not a bill to ostracize the osteopaths, why they object to putting the osteopaths in with the physicians and surgeons. Why do you object to it if it is not especially set to ostracize the osteopaths about that line of business, although they are men and women who have five years education as against men who have only two years education?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, this bill rewrites the law as it is, and the osteopaths have the right to practice medicine; they are regarded as physicians and they are regarded as surgeons under the laws of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, further,

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, my interrogation to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, is that he has not yet answered my question: If it includes the osteopaths, what is the objection to putting the name "osteopaths" in with "physicians and surgeons" so that there can be no uncertainty as to what the terms of this bill are? Why are they not included?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, there is no uncertainty regarding the right of the osteopaths to practice their profession. They have always had the same right, and the optometrists wish to call this their bill. If the osteopaths want any amendments made to their bill, I will support any amendments they make.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I desire even further to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I still want to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, if he has any objection to including with the words "physicians and surgeons" the word "osteopaths," who are recognized medical authorities under the laws of Pennsylvania. I ask him if he has any objection to having inserted in this bill the word "osteopaths," in order that there may be no uncertainty in this bill. I want to ask him now if he would have any objection to including the word "osteopaths," in order that they may be no uncertainty, and in order that the members of this Senate may know exactly what they are voting on.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I have always objected to having the osteopaths retained in this Act, and I still object.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am sorry to be obliged to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, to rise again; but I, too, desire to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron be interrogated further?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, state whether or not it is the intent to exempt from the provisions of this bill persons selling spectacles and eye glasses who do not assume directly or indirectly to adapt them to the eye, nor to practice, nor to profess to practice optometry.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, that is a little too deep.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the Senator will look at page 11 of the bill, he might be able to answer my question.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, in answer to the question, we wish to do away with advertising by "gyps"; we wish to prohibit advertising unless the optometrist himself signs his name to the advertisements. That is the answer.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, is a professor of the obvious. It seems to me that this bill, which has been in the Committee and which was amended on third reading, has been in the hands of these optometrists who might be in the need of another pair of glasses themselves. On page 11 it reads: "(a) To physicians practicing medicine under the medical act of one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and its amendments, to osteopathic physicians and osteopathic surgeons practicing under the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws forty-six, its supplements and amendments," or

"(b) "to persons selling spectacles and eye-glasses but who do not assume directly or indirectly to adapt them to the eye nor neither practice or profess to practice optometry."

There is a bracket after the word "optometry," and I do not know whether it is intended—and no one else who reads this bill can tell—whether it is intended to include or exclude. The bill also provides or apparently attempted to exempt physicians under the Act of 1911 and its supplements; but I cannot tell from the way the brackets are located whether they are intended to be included or excluded. I think it is obvious to anyone here that a physician who has pursued his course of study, which is more extensive than that of the optometrist, would certainly be entitled to treat the eye, and that under the terms of this bill he may be excluded from that privilege. It is for that reason that I ask that this bill go back to the committee so that we might get some optometrist who would see it well enough to fix it up.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, a few weeks ago, on my motion, this bill was recommitted for purposes of amendment. I immediately prepared an amendment, which I still have in my desk, which not only took out these brackets which the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has referred to, and which, in its present form, make the bill meaningless, but I also prepared amendments which would protect the osteopaths. I was informed by the Chairman of the Committee that the bill would not be brought up during that week, and therefore I did not offer the amendments. Much to my surprise, however, the bill did come out of Committee, and has since been upon the calendar of the Senate.

I entirely disagree with the statement made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, that this bill does not affect osteopathy. It does, in this way: The bill provides for a new definition of optometry, reading on page three of the bill, it provides: "A person engages in the 'practice of optometry' within the meaning of this act who examines or attempts to examine the eyes of any person for the purpose of prescribing glasses" and so forth. That is a new definition. I am reliably informed that the osteopaths at the present time have the right and do have their treatment for the eye; but under this new definition any osteopath who attempts to examine the eye would, in my opinion, be liable for criminal prosecution.

This bill has had considerable juggling. Indeed, turning to page 11, we find that there is an amendment which did exempt osteopaths as well as physicians, but that amendment was stricken out. Now, I entirely disagree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, that this is not discriminatory under section 12, because that mentions and exempts from the act physicians or surgeons licensed for the practice of medicine or surgery. By no possible definition could an osteopath come within that definition.

I have tried to amend this bill in order to protect this great class of physicians—the osteopaths, who are licensed to practice and have the right to practice at the present time. As I stated before, I have no objection to optometry. I believe in it, but this bill, as it stands, is nothing at all but an attempt to tear down osteopathy in order to build up optometry. Because it is unfair, because it is discriminatory, because it takes away from osteopaths the rights which they now enjoy, I hope this bill will be voted down.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, under the Act of 1917, creating the Board of Optometry, is not the exemption the same as in this act?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, no, sir: the provision I read, from page three is new.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I am talking about the exemptions

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Oh, the exemptions are the same, yes.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, now, do not the osteopaths treat the eye, under that exemption, at the present time?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, yes, they do treat the eye; but in my opinion they will not be able to treat the eye under this bill.

Mr. SORDINI. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill in its present form.—exactly for the reason that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron said a few moments ago: There are cases in Pennsylvania where osteopaths have been arrested, under the provisions of the act of 1917, and it has taken a court decision to prove that they were entitled to practice on the eye. Now, if the matter is as confusing as it is at the present time, why not clarify it by including in the law that one particular little point, namely, osteopathy. There is no reason on earth why an osteopath who goes to school for a matter of five years, should be excluded from practicing under this or any other act, I think, Mr. President; and I hope the members of this Senate will vote this bill down until such time as it is amended to include the osteopaths, because they are entitled to the recognition.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment:

The PRESIDENT. The amendment will be read for the information of the Senate.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend section 1, page 3, line 9 by striking out the bracket before the word "or", amend section 1, page 3, line 12, by striking out the brackets before the word "or" and after the word "a"; amend section 1, page 3, line 14, by striking out the bracket after the words "in charge"; amend section 4, page 11, line 3, by striking out the bracket before the letter "a"; amend section 4, page 11, line 4, by striking out the bracket before the word "to"; amend section 4, page 11, line 8, by striking out the bracket after the word "or"; amend section 4, page 11, line 12, by striking out the bracket after the word "optometry".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I object to these amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I object to this motion. I do not know what those amendments are, I do not know whether they affect the bill materially, or whether they take out brackets or put in words. I only know this, that there are some brackets in the wrong place. Now this bill is going back to the House to concur in the amendments which we make here—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, is discussing a motion which is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I just wish to announce that when this bill goes back to the House for concurrence we are going to correct these brackets.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to inform the Senator from Philadelphia, if he is not already aware of the fact, that this is a House Bill and if it passes the Senate tonight it will go back to the House and they will either concur or non-concur in the amendment. They have no right to amend the bill in the House. The only way, if it passes the Senate, would be in conference committee. Therefore the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, that the bill can be amended in the House do not mean anything.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, then we can amend the bill in Conference Committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading?

A division being called for, twenty-three Senators voted in the affirmative and twenty in the negative.

Whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1216 (House Bill No. 2242), entitled:

An Act empowering the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory to grant to the borough of Huntingdon a right of way or easement to lay a water line across lands of the Pennsylvania Industrial School.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1278 (House Bill No. 2393), entitled:

An Act to amend section one as amended sections two and three sections four and five as amended and sections six eight nine eleven and twelve of and to add section fourteen A to the act approved the sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 541) entitled "An act providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the weighing testing buying and selling of milk and cream providing for the examination and appointment of certified testers and the issuing of licenses and making of tests and providing penalties" further regulating the issuing of permits prohibiting the taking of unfair and inaccurate samples requiring licensed testers to keep certain records prescribing fees for examinations providing for tests for official inspections and records further regulating the weighing and testing of milk and cream providing for notices to parties affected by tests providing for sales by butter-fat test and empowering the Secretary of Agriculture to adopt rules and regulations.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 4, page 5, line 10 by striking out after the word "proper" and before the word "record" the words: "[and permanent]"; amend section 4, page 5, line 11 by inserting after the word "kept" and before the word "by" the following: "for a period of two years"; amend section 5 page 8, line 10 by striking out after the word "stir" and before the word "mix" the word "[and]" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "or"; amend section 5, page 8, line 11 by inserting at the beginning of the line before the word "each" the words: "the contents of"; amend section 8, page 10, line 2 by inserting after the word "approved" and before the word "weight" the words: "method of ascertaining"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Pytko.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Pytko, explain the purpose of these amendments?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, the amendments were sent to me by the spokesman of the Administration. As I understand it the amendments do not change materially any provisions of the Act, they simply clarify certain provisions. One provision there with regard to the maintenance of records, is changed from permanent to a period of two years.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Pytko, what department handed in these amendments?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Pytko, mean to say that he does not know what the amendments do, other than that they intend to clarify the bill?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I looked at the bill before I introduced the amendments. If the Senator from Tioga desires, I will get a copy of the amendments and find the original bill and then I will be able to explain.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the consideration of the amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1278 (House Bill No. 2393), on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that the amendments are withdrawn?

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, yes.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1346 as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L.) entitled "An act providing for the abatement under certain circumstances of tax penalties and interest on certain city taxes in cities of the first class and on certain school taxes in school districts of the first class' by changing the date on which the installment payments provided therein shall commence

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. HUNSICKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 609

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor Office, Harrisburg, May 22, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor, Senate Bill No. 609, Printer's No. 276, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

The PRESIDENT. The bill will lie on the table.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 66, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred nineteen) entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" as amended by prescribing a cash deposit as a condition precedent to the validity and effectiveness of a nomination paper prescribing the amount of such deposit and the officer with whom it is to be made in each case providing that it shall either be returned to the political body making the same or shall be allocated among the retained by the counties interested depending upon the number of votes polled by the nominee or the most successful nominee presented by such political body imposing duties upon the State Treasurer the Secretary of the Commonwealth county treasurers and county return judges and return boards fixing the date when the act shall become effective and repealing inconsistent legislation

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred nineteen) entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" as last amended by the act approved the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-five) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 (a) Nominations of candidates for any public office may also be made by nomination papers signed by qualified electors of the State or of the electoral district or division thereof for which the nomination is made and filed in the proper office as provided in section five of this act Blank forms for making such nomination shall be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and no other form than the ones so prescribed shall be used for such purpose Where the nomination is for any office to be filled by the voters of the State at large the number of qualified electors of the State signing such nomination paper shall be at least one-half of one per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State at the last preceding election at which a State officer was voted for In the case of all other nominations the number of qualified electors of the electoral district or division signing such nomination paper shall be at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for any officer elected at the last preceding election in the said electoral district or division for which said nomination papers are designed to be made Each elector singing a nomination paper shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation and no person may subscribe to more than one nomination for each office to be filled The signatures to each nomination paper and the qualification of the signers shall be vouched for by the affidavit of at least five of the signers thereof which affidavit shall accompany the nomination paper Provided That if five of the electors composing any political body making a nomination by nomination papers shall file with the prothonotary of the county in which the nomination paper or papers are to be filed an affidavit setting forth that they have adopted a certain political appellation to designate their policy subject to the limitations of this act regarding the selection of names that thereafter such political body shall have the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the election for which such nomination or nominations are made provided that a certificate from the prothonotary setting forth such a compliance with the act be filed with the nomination papers filed by such political body And provided further That if five electors composing any political body as hereinbefore provided shall file an affidavit as aforesaid setting forth that they have adopted a certain political name or appellation to designate their policy for the purpose of making nominations for ward officers or Officers to be elected in any ward such affidavit shall give to such body of electors the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the nomination of any candidates for any precinct or other subdivision of such ward for the election for which such nominations are made

(b) No such nomination paper shall be valid or effective unless there shall be filed therewith a certificate of the State Treasurer or the county treasurer of the proper county as the case may be certifying that the political body presenting such nomination paper has deposited with him as herein below provided a sum of money equal in dollars to one-half the number of qualified electors required to sign such nomination paper but not in any case less than five hundred dollars as follows where the nomination paper is for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of the State at large the deposit shall be made with the State Treasurer where the nomination papr is for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of any electoral district or division composed of two or more counties or parts of two or more counties the deposit shall be made with the State Treasurer where the nomination paper is for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of an electoral district or division consisting of coextensive with or included wholly within one county the deposit shall be made with the county treasurer of said county The State Treasurer or county treasurer as the case may be shall issue and deliver as many such certificates covering the same deposit as a majority in number of the persons making such deposit may in writing order but shall issue or deliver no such certificate except upon the written order of a majority in number of the persons making such deposit One such deposit in proper amount properly certified shall validate and make effective as many nomination papers for as many candidates and offices as the political body making such deposit may be entitled to file No such deposit made by one political body shall validate or make effective any nomination paper filed by any other political body regardless of identity of party name and the only admissible evidence of the identity of the political body which made the deposit with the political body presenting any nomination paper or papers shall be the written certificate of a majority in number of the persons who made the deposit attesting such identity and attesting the applicability of such deposit to such nomination paper or papers

(c) The deposit hereby prescribed shall in each case be upon condition that if the nominee or one of the nominees of the political body making such deposit shall in the election for which such nomination or nominations are made by reason of such nomination alone poll enough votes to entitle such political body to standing and recognition as a political party entitled thereafter to nominate its candidates to public office and to elect its party officers at primaries to be held in accordance with laws now existing or hereafter to be passed then such deposit shall forthwith be returned by the officer with whom the same was made to the political body which made the same if none of the nominees of the political body which made such deposit shall in such election by reason of such nomination alone poll enough votes as aforesaid then such deposit shal lbe allocated by the State Treasurer to and among the several counties interested or retained by the county treasurer as the case may be according to the following rules If the deposit was made with the State Treasurer in connection with a nomination paper or papers for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of the State at large the State Treasurer being informed in the premises by the certificate of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall allocate and forthwith pay such deposit to and among the several counties of the Commonwealth in the proportion which the vote polled in each county by such nominee or the most successful of such nominees bears to the total number of votes polled by such nominee or the most successful of such nominees in the State as a whole and in case such political body presented the names of more than one nominee that nominee shall for the purposes of this act be considered the most successful who of such nominees by reason of such nomination alone polled the highest number of votes in the State as a whole if the deposit was made with the State Treasurer in connection with a nomination paper or papers for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of an electoral district or division composed of two or more counties or parts of two or more counties the State Treasurer being informed in the premises by the certificate of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall allocate and forthwith pay such deposit to and among the counties which or parts of which constitute such electoral district or division in the proportion which the vote polled in each such county by such nominee or the most successful of such nominees bears to the vote polled by such nominee or the most successful of such nominees in such electoral district or division as a whole and in case such political body presented the names of more than on nominee that nominee shall for the purposes of this act be considered the most successful who of such nominees by reason of such nomination alone polled the highest number of votes in such electoral district or division as a whole if such deposit was made to a county treasurer in connection with a nomination paper or papers for an office or offices to be filled by the voters of an electoral district or division consisting of coextensive with or included wholly within such county the county treasurer being informed in the premises by the certificate of the county return judges or return board shall retain such deposit In any case where under the provisions of this act all or any part of any such deposit shall be paid to a county or retained by a county treasurer such funds shall forthwith be deposited to the credit and become part of the general fund of such county to reimburse such county for the direct and indirect expenses imposed on said county by such nomination paper or papers and the candidacies thereby presented and shall be subject to disbursement in the same manner and for the same purposes as other county funds are by law disbursable

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 1, page 2, line 22 by striking out the word "purpose" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "purposes".

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the tenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 419), entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers, requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties, and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections," as amended; by prescribing a cash deposit as a condition precedent to the validity and effectiveness of a nomination paper; prescribing the amount of such deposit and the officer with whom it is to be made in each case; providing that it shall either be returned to the political body making the same, or shall be allocated among and retained by the counties interested, depending upon the number of votes polled by the nominee or the most successful nominee presented by such political body; imposing duties upon the State Treasurer, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, county treasurers, and county return judges, and return boards; fixing the date when the act shall become effective; and repealing inconsistent legislation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 458, entitled:

An Act relating to the playing of the game of polo on Sunday prohibiting such games on Sunday before certain hours and also after certain hours unless the electors of a municipality or township are in favor of the same providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the word "municipality" as used in this act shall be construed to include every city borough town and township of this Commonwealth

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to stage or engage in the playing of the game of polo regardless whether a charge or admission thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct or stage the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday before the hour of two o'clock post meridian and after the hour of seven o'clock post meridian

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 684 (House Bill No. 1246), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and four of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as amended further regulating the establishment and maintenance of certain branch offices or agencies be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware. Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, state his reasons for recommitting this bill?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, there is another bill facing the House which will be in the Senate in a day or two, a bill which is approved by the Administration, and which takes in the provisions of this bill as well as other provisions.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, aware that all this bill does is merely to give the right to banks to establish title insurance branches in the same county in which they do business, without the right to take deposits in those branches? Is the Senator from Delaware aware that that is the only effect of this bill?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have not read this bill. I am requested by the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Turner, to recommit it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 884, as follows:

An Act authorizing and regulating the reorganization of banks and bank and trust companies

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any plan for the reorganization of a bank or a bank and trust company which the Department of Banking shall deem equitable and to the best interests of all depositors other creditors and shareholders may be adopted subject to any terms or conditions prescribed by the Department of Banking in the manner hereinafter provided in this act

An Act limiting the time within which suits for malicious prosecution or false arrest must be brought

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my reasons for making that motion are that we have just passed tonight the amendment to Senate Bill 616, which takes care of the abatement of taxes, and which is the bill agreed upon by all parties interested. The present bill offered by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rankin, relates to penalties or abatement of taxes for all prior years and upsets the system of taxation, particularly in cities of the first class. In view of the fact that we have already taken care of abatement of taxes I make this motion to recommit.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I have no objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 960, on second reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the abatement and exoneration of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes in certain cases be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 987 (House Bill No. 1613) on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses six and nine of section one and section three of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" authorizing persons employed by the Senate and House of Representatives to become members of said retirement system and opening the system further for original members.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 988 (House Bill No. 1615), as follows:

An Act to amend section four hundred and twelve of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-three) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" by providing for the assessment of seated lands divided by the boundary line between two townships

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in Geenral Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section four hundred and twelve of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-three) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 412 Assessment of Seated Lands Divided by Township Lines Where seated lands are divided by the boundary line between [two townships or between] a township and a city borough or town and the mansion house is situate in a township the whole of such lands shall be assessed only in the township where the mansion house is situate Where the mansion house is situated in a city borough or town and the balance of such seated lands are located in one or more townships the land located in such township or townships shall be assessed therein and the land located in the city borough or town shall be assessed therein

Where seated lands are divided by the boundary line between two townships the land located in each township shall be assessed therein notwithstanding the situs of the residence or mansion house

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment but nothing herein contained shall authorize a change in any existing assessment previous to the next triennial assessment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1024, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one hundred seventy-two and one hundred seventy-three of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" providing for the issuing of permits to take fish from licensed propagating ponds be recommitted to the Committee in Game and Fisheries.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be glad to.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, what is the purpose of recommitting this bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am asking that this bill be recommitted for further study, I am told that under the terms of this bill the non-residents can come into the State and fish without taking out a fishing license. I think it would be very detrimental to the interests of the fishermen of this State and I think the bill ought to go back to committee for further study.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would be perfectly willing to have the bill go back but would prefer to have it go over in its order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit has been withdrawn.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1024, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1042 (House Bill No. 153), on second reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

be recommitted to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1042, what seems to be going on in this Session of the Legislature? On May 20, 1935, the Senate passed Senate Bill No. 106, which is an amendment to Section 1, Article 9, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It permits the exemptions in income taxes. On May 21st, the day after this bill went to the House, the House resurrected a bill which had been lying in Committee since April, House Bill No. 153, which is an amendment to Section 1, Article 9, of the Constitution, covering the same subject matter. In my opinion there is no necessity in passing Senate Bill No. 143, and I, therefore, move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I think the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is making a mistake by presenting the motion which he has just presented here. This will be a safeguard, the passage of this particular bill. If Senator Woodward's bill does not go through the House, if it is in a Committee in the House which is hostile, that would mean the end if we adjourned, unless we as a Senate pass this bill. We have been annoyed, we have been criticized since 1923, that I know of, by not having an amendment to the Constitution which would permit exactly what this bill is asking to do, and I think as a precautionary measure, the proper thing to do is for the Senate to pass this bill. If the House wants to play fair, they in turn ought to pass Senator Woodward's bill, but if we stand here and wait because a bill is passed in the Senate and the House for some reason has not taken any action on it when the Senate by practically a unanimous vote passed the Woodward bill, we would be placing this desired legislation in jeojardy, and I respectfully request—under ordinary circumstances I would agree with the Senator from Philadelphia that it is not proper for the House to discriminate legislation that happens to go over from the Senate, and then resurrect some legislation of their own and send it over here—but this is of such a vital nature in its character, that there is not a man in this Senate who can afford to turn his back upon it, and under the extraordinary, I might say extenuating circumstances surrounding this particular bill, I request the Senator from Philadelphia to withdraw his motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I take the position that if there is any politics in this situation that this is the time to bring it out. I have listened to a great deal of talk about politics interfering with the proper conduct of business. I have the courage of my convictions and I say that when the House of Representatives has put itself on record to pass a bill which is similar on terms to a bill which is already in its committee, that the criticism, if any, must go to them, I think, if they refuse to pass that bill which has already been prepared by the Senate. I point out again that we passed a similar amendment to the Constitution, that on May 20th it arrived in the House, and on May 20th the House of Representatives passed a similar amendment to the same section and article of the Constitution. It, in effect, is the same as ours and I say if the members of this Senate have any fear that the House will refuse to bring that bill out and pass it, then they ought to let the criticism fall upon them. It is high time that we know where we stand on this kind of legislation. We talk about economy and every time anything is done by the members on this side of the Senate we are criticised because we are wasting money and extravagant and everybody on the other side is interested in the poor and saving money. Here is a bill that will be printed now for three days upon this calendar. There are two bills of the same effect. We started a bill that is in the House now and can be passed in three days time. We had the same bill sent over here from the House.

I say to the members of the Republican organization and the members of this Senate that I have courage enough to send it back to committee and let it stay there and see what the House is going to do with the bill which we passed last week. We can bring it out, if necessary.

ORDER OF THE DAY CALLED FOR

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President I call for the order of the day.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I insist upon my motion, and I will not withdraw it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I must insist on the order of the day. It is precisely twelve o'clock and under the rules when the order of the day is called for the business ceases.

The PRESIDENT. A call for the order of the day cannot interrupt the taking of a vote.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for three Senators voted in the affirmative and nineteen in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the negative.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1383, as follows:

An Act to classify certain surface lands as auxiliary forest reserves to prescribe the terms and conditions of their continuance in such classification or removal therefrom defining the duties of the Secretary of Forests and Waters of the county commissioners and of the county treasurer of the respective counties in connection therewith providing for the appointment of viewers and appraisers providing for appeals to the respective courts of common pleas and to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court from reports of said viewers and appraisers and from the action of the Secretary of Forests and Waters providing for a tax upon the stumpage value of trees removed from such lands and the method of ascertainment and collection thereof providing for the asecrtainment and collection of taxes upon such lands when they have been removed from such classification before the cutting of trees therefrom permitting the removal of certain trees from lands so classified by the owners thereof providing that lands so classified may be sold only subject thereto prescribing the method of assessment of such lands during their continuance in such classification making it a misdemeanor to cut fell and remove trees from lands so classified and defining the punishment therefor validating contracts between the Department of Forests and Waters and the State Forestry Reservation Commission and owners of such auxiliary forest reserve lands under prior acts of Assembly and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatitves of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it having been the experience of the people of this Commonwealth that the denuding of vast areas of the Commonwealth of their natural forest growths has resulted in loss of water supply recurring floods and soil erosion as well as the undue exhaustion of the lumber supply of the Commonwealth that the former forest lands if left to unaided natural reproduction cannot again supply adequate forests and that the growing of forests on such lands of the Commonwealth as are suitable for that purpose will result not only in furnishing needed forest products but will as well constitute a protection to water supply and an aid to flood control and the prevention of soil erosion it is hereby declared to be the policy of this Commonwealth to encourage its people in the growing of such trees as will at the proper age be suitable for merchantable forest products whether they are now existing or shall hereafter be planted out sown by seed or reproducted naturally to the end that the people may have an adequate supply of timber products that the water supply may be protected and that aid may be given to flood control and the prevention of soil erosion

Section 2 To effectuate the policy of this act all surface land which would be suitable for the growing of merchantable forest products whether they are now growing or shall hereafter be planted out sown by seed or reproduced naturally and would thereby contribute to an adequate lumber supply for the people protect the water supply and give aid to flood control and to the prevention of soil erosion may be set apart accordingly to the provisions of this act and exclusively used for growing trees for production of such merchantable products and is hereby constituted a separate and distinct class of land to be known as forest reserves auxiliary to the State owned forest reserves

When any owner of surface land desires to have such land placed in such class such owner shall notify the Secretary of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of his desire in manner and form to be prescribed by said secretary. Said notice shall contain a description of the lan dits location boundaries area and character and shall state as far as practicable the species character and condition of the trees growing thereon and whether they are of natural reproduction or are from seed sown for the purpose or have been set out on said land or all combined and such other information as the secretary may require. Upon receipt of such notice the secretary shall cause said land to be examined by some properly qualified person and a report made thereon and if upon receipt and consideration of such report the secretary decides that such land is suitable for the growing of trees so as to contribute to an adequate lumber supply for the people protect the water supply and give aid to flood control and to the prevention of soil erosion and should be placed in such class he shall so notify the county commissioners of the county in which said land is situate the board of school directors o fthe school district the supervisors of the township the directors of the poor district in which such land may be situate and such other political subdivision as may have an interest in taxes derived therefrom. Such notices shall be in writing and shall be sent by registered mail directed to the official post office addresses of the several official boards above enumerated

At any time within thirty days after the date of mailing such notices an appeal from the action of said secretary may be taken by the county or any of the districts or political subdivisions above referred to to the court of common pleas of the county in which such land is situate. For the purpose of such appeal a copy of the notice together with the usual affidavit of appeal shall be filed. Notice of such appeal shall be given to the secretary and the land owner. No papers in the nature of pleadings need be filed by any party interested and the matter shall be proceeded in by hearing before the court or a judge thereof at a time to be fixed by the court upon application of any interested party. Appeals to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court as in other cases shall be allowed.

Should the secretary decide that such land should not be placed in such class he shall notify the owner in writing by rigistered letter to his address as shown by the notice of desire hereinabove provided for. Should such owner be dissatified with such action of the secretary he may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas aforesaid by appeal in the manner as hereinabove prescribed for the county and other political subdivisions and he shall give notice thereof to the secretary the county and the other political subdivisions interested and the practice upon such appeal shall be as hereinabove provided for. Appeals shall lie to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court from the determination of the court of common pleas therein

Should the secretary decide that such land should be placed in the class established by section two of this act and should no appeal therefrom be taken as above provided or should such appeal confirm the action of the secretary then and in such case the secretary shall so declare and certify to the commissioners of the county in which said land is located. And said secretary shall certify in like manner when his action is reversed upon appeal by the owner

Section 3 Upon receipt by the county commissioners of such certificate of the secretary it shall be their duty at once to place said surface land in the class established by section two of this act and keep the same therein until the trees growing thereon shall in the judgement of the secretary become sufficiently large and suitable for merchantable forest products or the lnad be devoted to other purposes. Provided however That the certificate of the secretary shall not become operative to place said surface land in said class until the owner of said surface land has agreed in writing with the secretary to care for the trees then or thereafter growing thereon according to the instructions and directions fo the secretary up to such time as such trees become suitable for merchantable forest productions and if any such owner at any time fails to care for the trees growing on said land os agreed with the secretary and due proof thereof is made the secretary may remove said surface land from the class established by section two of this act. Such action by the secretary shall be subject to appeal by the owner as provided in section two of this act. In case of such removal either through failure of the owner to care for the trees or on his expressed desire for removal before the trees shall have been cut at maturity and tax paid thereon the county commissioners shall on notice from the secretary proceed to recover from said owner for the use of the county and ther political subdivisions where said land is situate the difference in the amount of tax which would have been paid by the said owner at the rates of valuation established for the years in which said land has been classified as provided in section two of this act and the amount of taxes actually paid on said lands during said years. The amount of said tax shall be entered as liens against said land in the books kept in the county treasurer's office for the purpose of showing returned taxes and the same shall continue a lien against said land until paid and shall carry the same penalties and interest as are carried by like taxes when returned by the collectors and the non-payment of such taxes shall authorize sales of such land by the county treasurer in accordance with existing laws.

Section 4 Whenever trees growing on said surface land have become suitable for merchantable forest products the secretary shall at the request of the owner or on his own motion make an examination of said land and designate for the owner the trees to be cut if in the judgement of the secretary there be any and the cutting and removal of said trees so designate shall be in accordance with the instructions of the secretary. Should any dispute arise between the secretary and the owner as to the desirability of the cutting and removal of said trees so designated by the secretary or any of them either the secretary or the owner may apply to the court of common pleas of the county wheer said land is situate for the appointment of viewers to view the premises and determine whether such trees so designated by the secretary or any of them should be cut and removed at such time said viewers to report to the court as in the case of viewers appointed in road cases and such report of the viewers shall be subject to appeal to such court of common pleas by either party dissatisfied with the action of such viewers. Appeals to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court shall be as in other cases

Section 5 If the owner of said surface land faithfully carries out the instructions of the secretary with regard to the removal and maketing of such mature or other trees as may be designated in the instructions of said secretary or otherwise determined as provided in the fourth section of this act and shall immediately replant other trees of valuable species or so protect the young growth that the said land may promptly become covered with young forest growth and does so with the approval of the secretary then such surface land shall remain in the said class established by section two of this act. Otherwise the secretary shall notify the county commissioners that said land is not being maintained in accordance with the written agreement of the owner and the instructions of the secretary in which event the county commissioners after thirty days' notice in writing to the owner by registered letter mailed to hsi last known address shall remove said land from the class established by section two of this act

Should the owner be dissatisfied with such removal of said land from the class established by section two of this act he shall have the right within said thirty day period to appeal said matter to the court of common pleas of the county in which said land is situate the papers to be filed on such appeal to consist of the usual appeal affidavit and a copy of the notice from the county commissioners to said owner and no papers in the nature of pleadings in such proceeding need be filed. Notice of such appeal shall be given by the owner to the secretary the county commissioners and the other political subdivisions above mentioned. The matter shall thereafter be heard before the court or a judge thereof whose determination therein shall be subject to appeal to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court as in other cases.

Secton 6 The owner of said auxiliary forest reserves shall at all times have the right to remove therefrom trees or portions of trees which may be killed by fire thrown or broken by the wind or injured by other natural causes and shall under the direction of the secretary be privileged to make necessary thinnings or removal of undesirable species of trees in oredr to improve the condition of th eremaining trees and under the same direction may be privileged to remove therefrom such timber from time to time as may be necessary and essential for use upon the neighboring cleared lands of said owner for general farm purposes

Section 7 Any tract of land while remaining in the class of auxiliary forest reserves as above provided may nevertheless be sold or encumbered by or through the owner thereof but no sale or encumbrance whether voluntary by the owner or involuntary under any statutory or judicial proceeding whatsoever either of this State or of the United States shall effect a discharge of any obligation imposed under this act and said land shall be removed from said class only in accordance with the provisions hereof

Section 8 All surface land which may hereafter be classified and set apart as auxiliary forest reserves in the manner provided by thsi act shall be rated in value for the purpose of taxation not in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per acre and shall continue to be so rated so long as the said land remains within the class established by section two of this act. Provided however That if the said surface land be underlaid with coal iron ore oil gas or other valuable minerals said minerals may be separately assessed. Where said minerals are not separately assessed their value shall be added to hte value of the surface hereinabove provided for in making up the total value of the land for purposes of taxation. The assessors in the several districts in which such lands are situate shall assess such lands in the manner now or hereafter provided for the assessment of real estate for purposes of taxation as if they had not been set aside as auxiliary forest reserves and shall make their returns to the county commissioners in like manner as is now or hereafter may be provided by law subject to exception appeal and final adjustment

Section 9 Upon receipt of assessment rates from the various assessors the county commissioners shall reduce on their records to a sum not in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per acre the assessment on the surface of all those lands which shall have been placed in the class established by section two of this act in accordance with certificates filed with them by the Secretary of Forests and Waters but the original assessment rates made by said assessors shall be preserved

Section 10 Whenever timber on land which is included in the class of land estalished by section two of this act is about to be harvested the then owner of the timber on said land shall give a bond to the county treasurer in twenty per centum of the amount of the estimated stumpage value o fthe timber to be harvested and to be approved by the court of common pleas of the county conditioned to pay to the county treasurer within ninety days after harvesting ten per centum of the stumpage value of the trees immediately at and before the time of harvesting which said amount shall be ascertained by in triplicate one to the county commissioners one to the statement and return under oath or affirmation furnished county treasurer and one to the secretary immediately after harvesting by the then owner of the land setting fort hsaid value. The sum which shall be paid as above provided shall be divided and distributed by the county treasurer of such county to the county poor district the township and the school district of the township or other political subdivision in which the land aforesaid is situate pro rata based upon the last assessed millage of taxation for county poor district road and school purposes within said taxing district

Such sum of money when ascertained to be due as a tax by the filing of the foregoing statement and return under oath and as hereinbefore provided directed to be paid to the county treasurer by the owner of an auxiliary forest reserve shall from the time of such filing be and remain a lien upon said land of the owner until payment thereof shall have been made

Section 11 Should the county commissioners be dissatisfied with the return made as hereinbefore provided in section ten hereof the court of common pleas of the proper county on petition of the commissioners shall appoint a board of three appraisers who shall be duly sworn or affirmed before entering upon their work and who shall go upon the land in question estimate the quantity and value of the trees immediately at and before the time of harvesting and make a return thereof to the court which said return shall then be made the basis upon which such owner shall make payment to the county treasurer unless changed upon appeal

Either party if dissatisfied with the report of the appraisers shall have the right of appeal to the court of common pleas of the county within thirty days after such report shall be filed and notice thereof given to the owner. The said appraisers shall be allowed their expenses and a compensation to be fixed by the court both to be paid by the county commissioners. In the event of an appeal from the action of the appraisers and determination thereof by the court of common pleas the same shall be subject to appeal to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 12 In case of the removal of said lands from the class established by section two of this act prior to the maturity of the timber and prior to payment of the tax of ten per centum of the value thereof as provided by section ten of this act the county commissioners shall on notice from the secretary ascertain the amount of the the original assessment or on such assessment as changed taxes which would have been paid by the said owner on from time to time by the triennial assessment had the reduction provided for in section nine of this act not been made adding legal interest from the date when each tax payment would have become delinquent. The said commissioners shal llikewise ascertain the amount of the taxes which have actually been paid upon the land in question adding legal interest upon all such payments between the two amounts with costs. Such difference so from the date when paid and certify the result thereof to the county treasurer who shall then proceed in the manner provided for the collection of county taxes under general laws to recover from such owner the difference ascertained to be due as tax as aforesaid shall be and remain a lien upon the land of such owner until payment shall have been made. For the purpose of giving notice of the existence and amount of such lien an entry thereof shall be made in the delinquent tax record kept by the county treasurer weherin are entered the records of taxes returned by the collectors as unpaid and delinquent and a note shall be made in the margin of such record showing that such lien arises under the provisions of this act

If such land shall be so removed from said class immediately after the cutting of a matured crop and the payment of tax thereon the owner shall in that case not be liable for such past assessment but the land shall thereafter be liable to assessment and tax as all other land not classed as auxiliary forest reserves

Section 13 Should the owner of any land included within the class established by section two of this act or any other person enter thereon and cut and fell or cut fell and carry away any timber and trees therefrom while said lands are so classified except in accordance with the provisions of the previous sections of this act the person or persons so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine equal to but not exceeding double the stumpage value of the trees so cut and felled or cut felled and carried away such value to be ascertained by the pudge imposing sentence by such means of information as he in his discretion shall determine and imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three years or until such fine shall have been paid. All such fines shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county where such lands lie and by him divided and distributed to the county the poor district the township and the school dstrict where the lands lie ratably in accordance with the last millage for taxation purposes therein

Section 14 All contracts which have heretofore been entered into between the owner of lands and the State Forestry Reservation Commission or the Department of Forests and Waters under the provisions of section three of the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty-six) or under any other act of Assembly for the purpose of placing lands in the class of lands known as auxiliary forest reserves which in the opinion of the Secretary of Forests and Waters comply with the provisions of this act are hereby validated Notice of the decision of the Secretary of Forests and Waters with respect to each of said contracts shall be given within ninety days of the approval of this act to the several parties to said contracts and to the several political subdivisions interested in the same manner as is hereinabove provided in section two of this act for giving notce of decsions of the Secretary of Forests and Waters upon applications for classification of lands as forest auxiliary reserves Any part to any such contract or any county township school district poor district or other political subdivision interested dissatisfied wth the decision of the secretary may appeal to the court of common pleas of the proper county at any tme within thirty days of the notice from the Secretary of Forests and Waters that such contract or contracts have been validated or rejected as the case may be and with the further right of appeal by any interested party from the action of said court to the Superior Court and the Supreme Court

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 p. m. until Tuesday, May 28, 1935, at 11 o'clock a. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 27, 1935

The House met at 9:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Reed O. Steely, pastor Evangelical Church of Lemoyne, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Jehovah, God, Thou Who art from everlasting to everlasting, the author and completer of our faith; Thou Who art the same yesterday, today and forever, in Whom there is no variableness, neither shadow nor turning, Thou Who art in my presence everywhere, Thou Who art omnipotent and all loving; Thou art our Heavenly Father.

We come to invoke Thy blessing upon that which shall be transacted in this House.

We thank Thee, our Heavenly Father, for this legislative body composed of individuals gathered from the various parts of this fair Keystone state of ours. We pray Thee, our Father, that Thy blessing may rest upon their individual efforts and initiative as they shall endeavor to think through and act finally upon such legislation as shall be for the best advantage of the citizens of this great Commonwealth.

We thank Thee, Dear Father, for the priceless boon of liberty, and we thank Thee too for the victories and the achievements of the past, for the goodly heritage that comes to us from the hands of our forefathers, coming no doubt many times as it does, foot-sore and worn on paths that made individuals tired in other days but that are blessing those of us who are in this present day.

We thank Thee for the opportunity we may have in making this world better, a fit place in which to live, helping individuals to become fit to live with. We are thinking of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man and in name of the one Who was the Great Brother to everyone, we ask these blessings. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Stevens, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, being from the third largest county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I was very much embarassed this evening that one of my worthy colleagues from the County of Philadelphia came into this House and asked me to get him a seat. I was necessitated in stealing one of the chairs from the rostrum, from the good Speaker, and when I was stopped from taking that Chair, I was notified that the Speaker's wife was going to be with us tonight, for which we are very happy to have her as our distinguished guest, and I have made the statement, and I wish to fulfill that statement, if the lady is in the audience or will come to this Assembly tonight, I shall bring a chair from the rear of the House so that she is properly seated. I am also happy to know that my friend, Mr. Jaffee, one of the former members of this House from Philadelphia, is present with us tonight.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under the question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Cannon asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BURKE on account of death in the family.

Mr. Hoopes asked and obtained leave of absence for Mrs. WISON for the week on account of illness.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WICKERSHAM from the Committee on Cities reported as committed, House Bill No. 1687, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one thousand four hundred and two, two thousand five hundred and fifty-two, two thousand five hundred and fifty-four; section two thousand five hundred and fifty-six as amended; sections two thousand five hundred and fifty-seven, two thousand five hundred and fifty-eight; sections two thousand five hundred and fifty-nine, two thousand five hundred and sixty-seven as amended; and section two thousand five hundred and sixty-eight; and to repeal section two thousand five hundred and fifty-three of the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto;" providing for the collection of city, county, school and poor taxes in cities of the third class by the city treasurer as tax collector; providing for his compensation to be fixed and paid jointly by the city, county and school district; requiring the city treasurer to give one bond as treasurer and collector of all of said taxes, the premiums thereof to be paid jointly by the county, city and school district; and generally revising and clarifying the powers and duties of said tax collector.

Mr. LOVETT from the Committee on Military Affairs reported as amended, House Bill No. 272, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the eleventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine (P. L. 148), entitled "An act to require all magistrates and other officials in cities of the first, second and third class, authorized to take acknowledgments and administer oaths, to perform such service free of charge for soldiers and widows of soldiers, when making affidavit to papers for the purpose of drawing pensions," as amended, providing for notice of the provisions of this act to be furnished newly qualified magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace and others and providing penalties for violations thereof.

RESOLUTION

SYMPAHTY EXTENDED ON DEATH OF HON. J. ROSS HORNE

Mr. ALLEN offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 27, 1935.

Whereas, On May nineteenth, God, in his infinite wisdom, removed from our midst, the Honorable J. Ross Horne, a member of this House from Cambria County during the sessions of 1919-1921-1923-1925; and

Whereas, This body, which he long honored by his membership, by his counsel and wisdom desires to express its high regard for his character and its sorrow for his loss, and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that we should take official note of his passing and inscribe in our records a tribute to his memory; therefore be it

Resolved, That the people of the community in which he last resided and the people of the County of Bedford—his birthplace and residence for twenty-five years—have lost a modest and kindly man—one who was respected and admired by all who knew him and whose record among them will always stand as one above reproach and well worth emulation, and be it further

Resolved, That while we feel the ineffectiveness of any act or expression on our part to in any way reduce the grief and sense of loss to his family who sorrowfully survive and mourn his death, we extend to them our deepest and most profound sympathy; trusting that in their knowledge of our love and admiration for him, and of our grief at his passing, they may perhaps find a fuller measure of joy in the life that was; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the family of the late Honorable J. Ross Horne.

Mr. ANDREWS in the Chair.

RESOLUTION

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the reading of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The Resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

RESOLUTION NO. 147

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 147, Printer's No. 114.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 13, 1935.

Whereas The Switch Back Railway running between the Boroughs of Mauch Chunk and Summit Hill in Carbon County a distance of nine miles in the oldest railway in the United States having originally been constructed to carry coal from the Panther Valley Coal District to the Lehigh Canal and

Whereas With the construction of railroads said gravity railway was abandoned as a coal carrying road and was converted into a scenic railway and thus operated for a great many years through the mountainous region known as the 'Switzerland of America" and

Whereas Said railway was finally sold by the operating railroad company to private citizens who have endeavored to continue to operate the same as a scenic railway and

Whereas This historic property has fallen into disrepair and unless aided financially must shortly be abandoned entirely therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania joining with municipal bodies societies organizations and citizens respectfully urge the Federal Public Works Administration and the Pennsylvania Public Works Administrator to include within its work relief projects in this State the rehabilitation of the Switch Back Railway in Carbon County in order to preserve this historic property

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Federal Public Works Administration and Pennsylvania Public Works Administrator by the Chief Clerk of the House

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 141.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 141, Printer's No. 1044.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1935.

Whereas, The policy of the administrators of unemployment relief is to refuse work relief to persons except such as are beneficiaries of direct relief; and

Whereas, Many conscientious citizens refuse to become beneficiaries of direct relief, and even though in want, are thus denied work to which they are entitled; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That each city, borough, town and township is hereby urged to form a committee or committees which shall sit for the purpose of hearing applications of persons who are in need of employment and who are not receiving direct relief, and also of persons who are receiving direct relief, and who are able to secure part-time employment in industry, which if amplified with work relief would provide sufficient income to enable such persons to forego direct relief;

Resolved, That such committees shall be constituted as follows:

In each city the mayor of the city shall appoint two members of council, and the president of the board of school directors shall appoint two members of the school board, who together with the mayor of the city, shall constitute a committee of five. In any city the committee so constituted may appoint sub-committees composed of one member of the committee of five, and other persons by them selected who, in the public interest, will agree to serve without compensation in order to carry out the spirit and intent of this resolution.

In each borough and town the burgess shall appoint two members of the council and the president of the board of school directors shall appoint two members of the school board, who together with the burgess, shall constitute a committee of five.

In each township of the first class the president of the board of township commissioners shall appoint two township commissioners, and the president of the board of school directors shall appoint two members of the school board, who together with the president of the board of township commissioners, shall constitute a committee of five.

In townships of the second class, the president of the board of school directors shall appoint two members of the school board, who together with the chairman of the board of township supervisors shall constitute a committee of three.

Resolved, That the committees constituted in accordance with this resolution be urged and requested to sit at least one day or one evening each week, to hear applications of persons desiring work relief and who come within the terms of this resolution, and shall have power to issue to persons who are deemed worthy, certificates, furnished by the State Emergency Relief Board, evidencing the belief that the holder thereof is entitled to employment, full time or part time, on any work relief project. No such certificate shall be denied to any person for the reason that he or she is not presently receiving direct relief, and no such certificate shall be issued to any person who in the opinion of any such committee is not entitled to work relief;

Resolved, That the State Emergency Relief Board and its agencies and those entrusted with the employment of persons on work relief projects be directed to cooperate with the committees constituted by this resolution and provide work to the fullest extent for the holders of certificates issued by such committees, and where work is available no such holder of a certificate shall be denied work for the reason that he is not a beneficiary of direct relief, or that he may be employed part time in industry;

Resolved, That no such committee shall hear applications of persons receiving direct relief unless the applicant is able to secure part time employment in industry, and is in need of additional income in order to forego direct relief;

Resolved, That the State Emergency Relief Board shall send such information as may be deemed advisable to each city, borough, town and township in this Commonwealth in order to bring into being the committees contemplated by this act;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION AMENDED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend resolution, page 1, lines 1, 2, 3 and 4, by striking out the words "each city, borough, town and township is hereby urged to form a committee or committees which shall sit for the purpose of hearing applications" and insert in lieu thereof "the President of the United States and the Federal Emergency Relif Administrator be respectfully memoralized to permit the employment on Federal Emergency Relief Projects"

Amend resolution, page 1, lines 10 and 11, by striking out the words "such committees shall be constituted as follows" and insert in lieu thereof "the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator be requested to constitute in each political subdivision of this Commonwealth a committee of five persons to pass upon applications of persons mentioned in the preceeding resolution who are in need of work relief"

Amend resolution, page 2, lines 1 to 26, by striking out all of said lines, both inclusive

Amend resolution, page 3, lines 27 and 28, by striking out both of said lines

Amend resolution, page 4, lines 1, 2 and 3, by striking out all of said lines

Amend resolution, page 4, line 5, by inserting before the word "State" the following: "President of the United States, the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator and to the"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, seventy-one members having voted in the affirmative and sixty-four in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over for printing.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:00 o'clock having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this hour being House Bill No. 2675.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2675, entitled:

An Act to amend article two section one (f) and article five section four of an act approved the tweny-sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 1374) entitled "An act defining public service companies and providing for their regulation by prescribing and defining their duties and liabilities prescribing and limiting their powers and regulating their incorporation and to a limited extent regulating municipal corporations engaged or about to engage in the business of public service companies creating and establishing a Public Service Commission for the regulation aforesaid prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such Commission and its officers including the exclusive power to regulate the construction alteration relocation or abolition of the crossings of railroad corporations street railway corporaions or other public service companies and of public highways by the tracks or other facilities of said companies providing for the ascertainment by the Commission of the expense and damages resulting from such construction alteration relocation or abolition and for the payment of such expense and damages severally or proportionately by the public service companies interested the State or municipal corporation concerned and giving persons whose property is thereby taken injured or destroyed authority to sue the Commonwealth for damages in such cases providing for the terms salaries and compensations of the members of the commission its officers counsel and employes prescribing and regulating the practice and procedure before such commission and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders and determinations by the courts of common pleas and giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals in certain cases and of all injunctions mandamus or other appropriate procedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the commission and to restrain such orders subjec to an appeal to the Supreme Court prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the violation of the orders of said commissinn making it the duty of the Public Service Commission to enforce the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes on railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains' by amending section nine thereof repealing the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven which provided for he appointment of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission and sections one and two of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three entitled 'An act to enforce the provisions of the seventeenth article of the Constitution relative to railroads and canals' and an act entitled 'To provide the maximum car service corporations or associations may charge and collect on each car loading and not unloaded within the free time for unloading cars and fixing the free time that shall be allowed for unloading cars approved twenty-fourth day of May Anno Domino one thousand nine hundred and seven and the proviso of clause three and the provisos of clause seven of section thirty-four of the act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved he twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and all other legislation inconsistent with or supplied by this act by requiring the approval of the commission to proposed increases in rates placing the burden of proof in certain cases on the public servicce company and empowering the Public Service Commission to decree reparations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, House Bill No. 2675 amends the Public Service law by requiring the approval of the Public Service Commission to proposed increases of rates. It also places the burden of proof upon public service companies to justify their increases in rates, and empowers the Public Service Commission to decree reparations under certain circumstances. This bill will prevent public service companies from changing their rates at will, and will eliminate the annoying practice in certain companies in giving refund slips pending the approval of changes and rates by the Commission.

The matter of increases in rates by operating companies upon the mere filing of the proposed schedule of rates with the Public Service Commission has evoked much criticism in recent years. It is a matter to which attention was directed on numerous occasions, and on which many bills have been introduced in the House. Under the present law a utility may increase rates upon filing the schedule with the Commission, unless the latter acts to prevent the increase from becoming effective.

Rates are supposedly based upon the fair value of the property of a utility used and useful in rendering value to the public. Actually, (I suspect), they are fixed at that point where the untility feels that the least public complaint will be made. True it is that the Commission is authorized to ascertain the value of the properties and to fix rates accordingly but Chairman King testified before the Rail Committee that valuations of property as a general rule have not been made. I doubt whether the Commisison has evaluated even ten per cent of the utility properties in this Commonwealth. If that be true, and it stands as a fact that no final valuation of so important a property as that of P. R. T. in Philadelphia has been valued by the Commission, then how can it be said that rates are based on the fair value of the properties? The argument of the utilities refutes itself, until the Commission does in fact fix the value of utility properties.

As a matter of fact, the utilities in recent years have not welcomed valuations by the Commission, because under the law one of the measures of the value of their properties is the reproduction costs thereof. Since reproduction costs have been lower than original costs, due to the period of low prices through which we have been passing, the utilities have shunned valuations and have been willing to make slight reductions in rates in order to escape Commission evaluations of their properties. Once the price level starts upward and the costs of labor, materials, etc. increase the utilities will be filing schedules increasing rates. In order to make certain that any such proposed increases are reasonable, it is my suggestion that they should not be put into effect unless and until they have been approved by the Commission and that the burden of demonstrating the reasonableness of the proposed increase be, by law, imposed upon the utilities.

Of course, the argument of many utility men at the present time is that no such legislation is necessary because the utilities are not now asking for increases in rates. At the hearings before the Kansas Commission at Topeka on April 2, 1935, Dr. Elgin E. Croseclose, formerly financial editor of Fortune magazine, analyst for the Guaranty Trust Company, expert for the United States Department of Commerce, and author of numerous books and magazine articles, testified that an increase in utility rates is in the offing due to the moves now being taken in Washington to increase prices. If this be true, and I regard it as such, then it strikes me as better to place the law on the statute books and keep increases under control, rather than wait until they come and then attempt to correct the evil.

I therefore ask every member of this House to vote "aye" on this Bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I listened with a great deal of interest to the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia in support of this bill.

I first want to comment on his statement as to rate increases, wherein he said that while a utility is entitled to a fair return upon the valuation of its property, used and useful, that with rising prices we are likely to have an increase in rates. Throughout the last fifteen years in Pennsylvania the history of the utilities has been that there have been decreases in rates and not increases in rates, although during that period we had times when prices had reached a peak which we cannot hope to reach again, if commodities prices are restores, because, as I understand it, in the index that the Federal Government is using they are attempting to establish prices on a basis of 1913 to 1914, and from 1920 on we have had prices that have exceeded that many times over.

As to the valuation of the utilities of Pennsylvania, the gentleman from Philadelphia is correct when he says that it is extremely difficult. He mentioned the P. R. T. If you will turn to the General Appropriations Bill which you passed this last week, you will find that this House voted to give the Public Service Commission the sum of $250,000.00 for a valuation of the P. R. T. The P. R. T. had a valuation proceeding in 1920 to 1923 that cost a million dollars, and it is expected at this time that the Public Service Commission in nine months time and for the sum of $250,000 will be able to bring that valuation down to date.

If the Public Commission of Pennsylvania were to be called upon to re-value all of the utility properties in Pennsylvania, you wiuld find that the cost would be so great that is would be impossible for this Legislature to appropriate the sums of money that would be neccssary. In addition you would have the milions of dollars that would be spent by the utility Companies themselves, and after all, these valuation expenses would come back upon the cost of the business of the utility and would be added to the rates which the rate payers would have to pay.

My objection to this bill is not so much from that standpoint, although it has always been considered in my recollection of times past in this House when the question has been before us, and it has been very many times—it has always been considered almost impossible for the Public Service Commission to pass upon all of the rates that have been presented to them during a year. Perhaps the gentleman from Philadelphia is thinking of electric rates, or thinking of water rates, or thinking of gas rates. He forgets that there are railroad companies that are continually filing schedules of rates before the Public Service Commission, and that those schedules of rates in many instances are up and down. Those rates would likewise have to be passed upon. There are something like 19,000 schedules, I think, filed during the year, which the Commission would be requested to pass upon during any one year. That would make it an almost impossible task for the Public Service Commission, and you would have to appropriate many times the money that you are now appropriating to the Public Service Commission for them to go ahead and accomplish that task. But the thing I object to in this bill is this: We have had before us all kinds of utility bills. I have been informed today that there are about three hundred bills in the Legislature that affect the operations of the Public Service Commission, and therefore in some respect affect the public service companies of Pennsylvania.

This House passed some time ago House Bill No. 950, introduced by the gentleman from York, Mr. Moul. That bill provided for increases in rates and also provided for reparations, two of the things that are provided for in this bill. But in the bill of Mr. Moul it provided that no rate could go into effect in case of an increase or change or discontinuance, unless the Commission approved of it within 90 days.

House Bill No. 2675, which is now before us, says that no rate shall go into effect until the Commission has passed upon them. Therefore, we are putting up two diametrically opposite propositions. There ought to be some time limit within which the Commission is compelled to act. Under the bill before you there will be no limit of time that the Commission might delay their decision upon an increase in rates, which, of course, is unfair to the utility companies.

As to reparations, the Moul bill provides for reparations, and therefore it seems to me in this bill we are taking up a subject that we have already passed upon. In one instance we have passed upon it in a diametrically opposite way from the provision in this bill. We have made a hotch potch of this legislation. Some of the utility company bills provide there shall be no discount, ni minimum charge, no increase. Some of them provide that the Commission shall approve of it within thirty days or ninety days. Therefore, if this legislation keeps on you will have the public service company law in Pennsylvania in such a mess that no one will be able to determine what it really is.

The House having spoken upon this question and the and the bill now being in the Senate, there is no reason to pass this bill now before the House.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, from a practical standpoint, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, believe that in a comparatively prosperous period and fairly high prices where an extension is made into a community or a city requring an expenditure of some hundreds of thousands of dollars, that if a consequent depression and falling period ensues, that the rate should be reduced, and that the valuation be set up immediately when these prices have fallen and we believe the value of the property has decreased? I think it not practical. I do not think that the gentleman would attempt that in his bill. Do you think that would be practical?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether that is a statement or an interrogation, but if I understand the gentleman correctly, I believe the question was put as to whether I would approve of a decrease in time of prosperity, is that correct?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, in times of depression and falling prices.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I might state for the information of the gentleman from Delaware and the members of this House that this bill only takes in the question of increases in rates. In other words, this bill provides that the Public Service Commission must be apprised of an increase in rates before it goes into effect and that the increase in rates must be justified by the service company seeking the increase. It does not have anything to do with the decrease in rates because the question of the decrease in rates will be the same as it is today.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, with the large number of companies that we have in Pennsylvania, and the period of time necessary, the consequent cost to the taxpayer would be almost prohibitive, would it not, if several companies filed an increase?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I cannot see where the expenses would be increased on the part of the Commonwealth of the Public Service Commission. This bill provides that the public service companies must justify the increase in rates. In other words they must show that there is a certain valuation back of the increase in rates. It seems to me that little or nothing at all will be added to the expenditure to the Public Service Commission or the Commonwealth.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia has just stated that if the burden is placed on the utility of showing that it is justified in its increase in rates, that that will put no burden upon the Public Service Commission?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, no, I didn't quite say that. I said the burden will be lightened upon the Public Service Commission, because the case will have to be proven by the public service company, and the Commission will, if it deems it proper, investigate whether the valuuation is proper or not.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the question of determining the value of the property of the utility is mainly an engineering question, it is not?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, it may or it may not be, depending upon what the valuation will consist of.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Philadelphia conceive of any utility that would be valued without engineers going over the property and estimating the cost?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, there might be in certain smaller instances, yes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the value of the utility is based upon the property used and useful, does it not require engineering skill in determining the value of that property?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, yes, it might.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, whether it is a small property or a large property?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the Commission is going to determine that question, will it not have to have its engineers and its accountants set up figures in order to determine whether the figures presented to it are proper or not?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, not in all cases. In cases where the Commission feels that the public service company has presented a proper valuation, that will not be necessary.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, how could the Public Service Commission determine that without the figures of its own employes?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, by past experience perhaps or by comparison with other companies or other states.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to take much more time on this question because it seems to me that it must be apparent to anyone that the gentleman from Philadelphia is begging the question when he says it will not cast a burden upon the Commission.

It is impossible for any public utility company to properly determine whether the valuation set up is a proper valuation without engineering skill to give it figures and without accountants to compute it. Therefore, in every instance that will be necessary, as the Public Service Commission is now constituted.

We have granted in this House two hundred fifty thousand dollars to revalue the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, on which there has been a past valuation. You can see from that what will be necessary in other instances if this bill would be carried out.

This bill, the gentleman passed over very blithely, when my colleague from Delaware interrogated him, when he said that this bill would apply only to increases. That is the thing contained in the Moul bill. It pertained to increases. It provided that no increase could be made except and unless the Commission approved of the same within ninety days. That is an extension of the present law. Under the present law, it provides that no increase can go into effect until thirty days.

This is a question that is not only important from the standpoint of utility companies in Pennsylvania, in which there is a tremendous investment, and in which thousands of people have invested their money, but it is a matter of importance to the government of the State, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, because in this you are adding, distinctly adding, and I have never talked to any Public Service Commissioner in all the time I have been here, who did not say that any such bill would add a great burden to the Public Service Commission, and when you talk about valuation, you are adding a tremendous cost because such a proceeding is very expensive to both sides both from the standpoint of the utility and from the standpoint of the Commission.

Under the present law it provides that no rate can go into effect until thirty days, and the Commission could then suspend the rate, it could suspend it for a period of sixty days, and then if they determine that they want to go further into it, they an still have a further period of time—I think thirty days—to determine whether they want to suspend that rate or not.

We have had no complaints in Pennsylvania. It was worked very well during the last several years. In 1933 amendments were made to the Public Service Company Law, and those amendments were the result of the investigation made in 1931 were the result of experience of those two years, the result of conferences with the members of the Public Service Commission and other people in Pennsylvania to determine a fair proposition as far as this question was concerned. Therefore, I can see no reason for this change in the law.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, just a few remarks in answer the gentleman from Philadelphia.

In the first place, we are living in a rapidly progressive time, and even though we have a law, probably fully comprehensive at that time, conditions may have changed since, which would require changes in the law. In the second place, I am well aware that this House passed House Bill No. 950, which provided for the withholding of increases in rates of electric, gas and water companies. But this Bill, No. 950, even if it was a good bill was not good enough because it did not go far enough, it did not include all public utility companies. As a matter of fact, there was some mention made that there were no increases in rates for the past fifteen or twenty years. I can recall in the city of Philadelphia when we had a five cent car fare, when we had three fares for a quarter, and now we have two for fifteen cents. The Public Service Commission did nothing about stopping the increases in the rates.

I consider this measure of the utmost importance because the burden of proof for the justification of the increase in rates will be shifted from the Public Service Commission or from some private complainant to the public service companies. I think that is a very important item that we ought to have in the law at this time, and we ought to have it so that the taxpayers of Pennsylvania may get full value for their money.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:15 P. M. having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order of business for this hour, being House Bill No. 2685.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2685, entitled:

An Act providing for the regulation supervision and control of public service company holding companies and affiliated interests requiring approval of contracts between such holding companies or affiliated interests and public service companies subjecting such contracts to continuing supervision and control providing for the disallow-ance of compensation paid thereunder by public service companies in certain contingencies conferring powers and imposing duties on the public service commission conferrng jurisdiction on the courts of common pleas and concurrent jurisdiction throughout the Commonwealth on the court of common pleas of Dauphin County imposing penalties and repealing certain provisions of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 1374) as amended commonly known as the "Public Service Company Law"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House House Bill No. 2685 extends the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission over persons, firms, and corporations influencing the activities of public service companies either by stock ownership, interlocking management or otherwise. A comprehensive definition is contained in the bill describing what are interests affiliated to public service companies. Five per cent ownership of the voting capital stock of any public service company is prima facia presumed to constitute a controlling or influencing interest. The bill is an extension of the provisions of the so-called McClure Amendments of 1933 to the Public Service Company Law and makes more definite, and to some extent extends, the provisions of existing law.

The Commission is given power to approve any contract made between affiliated companies and public service companies and to control all financial transactions between such companies.

An appeal is provided from the fines of the Commission to the Superior Court in the same manner as is provided in the Public Service Company Law. Appropriate penalties for the violation of the bill or any ruling or order of the Commission made thereunder are provided.

The bill repeals that portion of the Public Service Company Law which was added by the 1933 Amendments and which is reenacted and contained in the bill.

The bill will become effective on the first day of July, 1935.

I therefore ask the members of this House to vote "aye" on this Bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

STATEMENT BY MR. SHUGARTS

Mr. SHUGARTS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last week there appeared in all of our local and also the state daily papers a statement by the Emergency Relief Administrator, Mr. Robert L. Johnson, charging the Legislature with being more interested in securing appointments or patronage than they were in relief, and stating that he had mailed personally two hundred and fifty-eight letters to the members of this House some three months ago, and that he had only received in reply twenty-nine requests for information.

I have here a copy of the letter that I wrote to Mr. Johnson three months ago, and I quote now from that letter.

"Your letter, together with your report on relief received, and I wish to state that as I am intensely interested in the relief situation in Clearfield County, I will be glad to receive your reports from time to time as they are available."

I would like to state here and now that the first and only report I received from Mr. Johnson was three months ago and since that time I have had no reports whatever.

Furthermore, about ten weeks ago, my colleague and I were called into Mr. Johnson's office to go over the relief situation in Clearfield and Center Counties. Mr. Johnson promised us then he would, as soon as this board was appointed, give us a list of the appointees of the Emergency Relief Board in that area. To this date, we do not know yet whom he has appointed to the board.

As far as patronage in the Emergency Relief Board is concerned, our local daily paper last Thursday gave me the credit for being the boss patronage dispenser in our county. I defy any man connected with the Emergency Relief Board or connected with the Department in Harrisburg to state that I have ever tried to put anyone on the State Emergency Relief Board. I have never asked but for one removal in that Board and that request was made for the benefit of the people in our community.

Because Mr. Johnson likes to make statements, I want to make a statement here now. I believe that if Robert L. Johnson wouldn't try so much to get on the front page of the newspapers and would pay more attention to the relief situation in Pennsylvania and give the members of this House information that they should have, probably the relief situation would not be in the muddle it is now.

STATEMENT BY MR. HINDMAN.

Mr. HINDMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House.

It is my belief that the relief problem is the most important and the most serious problem with which the Pennsylvania Legislature has to deal during this Session.

I believe we are all in accord that the needy, the destitute and the hungry should be adequately cared for. With this in mind, there are certain basic principles which call for most conscientious, grave, serious consideration, and action. First of all, it is the duty and obligation of this Legislature, and I use this term in its broadest meaning,—obviously the "House and the Senate" to devise ways and means to raise the enormous amount of money needed to finance this meritorious and gigantic problem. Seriously, we have expended time energy and serious thought in our earnest endeavor to work out this most perplexing problem. This I submit establishes the fact of our responsibility in raising this money does it not? It naturally follows that we should have some responsibility and consideration in the expenditure of this money. An ancient and time honored axiom reads "A penny saved is a penny made." Certainly this should hold good when thousands and millions of dollars are involved. Especially should this be considered when we realize the terrifying load of taxation under which the tax-payers of this great Commonwealth are groaning. I refer simple in this connection to the great mass of the common people, who have struggled long and hard to secure for themselves a home, where they could spend their declining years in independence and contentment, with a realization of the reward of a frugal, judicial, and sacrificial life. How many the tragedies of the past three years, in which many of these people who may be fittingly called "The salt of the Earth" have seen their homes, or are about to see them sold for taxes. Is it unfair to claim our rights in this responsibility of spending, under these deplorable, but actual conditions? Ladies and Gentlemen of this House, some consideration must be given the tax-payers, not only of this Commonwealth, but I might say of the nation, as well.

If I have established our responsibility for spending as well as raising this money, should we be obliged to apologize to Mr. Robert L. Johnson, Director of Relief, late of the State of Connecticut, but for the past five and a half months director of relief of the State of Pennsylvania, for living, or for endeavoring to be true to the oath which we so solemnly took, when we entered these Halls. I should like to request this Gentleman of many interviews, this mental giant from the State of Connecticut to consult the manual, and for his own edification determine the duties of legislators in the State of Pennsylvania. What right has this man and appointee, and not even a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania, to question the sincerity and the motives of this Body? What right has he to hurl insults at this Legislature, as he has been doing for the past few months? Calling the Legislators small politicians, crack-pots, etc.

I heartily agree with the Gentleman that politics should be kept out of relief. I submit however, that he either failed to comprehend, or is unwilling to admit,—I am inclined to the former belief that relief in Pennsylvania is infested with politics of the rottenest sort. Mr. Johnson has been ruled, guided, and advised by the same old Pinchot relief set-up, which was so adroitly built up by Mr. Pinchot, and which attained such notorious fame. He wishes the world to know that this is not politics, but the minute the members of this Legislature endeavor to assist in cutting down the expenditures, he cries "Stop thief, stop. It's politics, it's politics."

These are not idle words, nor am I trying to be funny. I have however, given this matter very serious consideration, and much study, I am merely stating facts.

About two weeks ago when the last monetary transfer to relief was voted on, it was stated that there was not ten cents remaining in the relief treasury. Many of us felt that this was why the relief director had not seen fit to increase the salaries of his employees, as he had done three weeks previously, at the very time when the members of this House were veritably sweating blood in their endeavor to raise money with which to cope with the relief situation. He was however, even at that time, and still is, increasing the number of employees, of an already top-heavy organization.

I would suggest that in the next newspaper interview that the Director explain to the tax-payers of this State, how much his recent salary increase amounted to, also it would be fitting to state how much relief money is being spent for publicity purposes. It might further be interesting for them to know if it was to keep relief out of politics, that Mr. Evans and Mr. Guyler were taken back on his force a few days after they had been discharged. Another interesting bit of news to many might be an explanation of how it happened that so many discharged State employees have been given positions by his organization.

It would be interesting to know if the Director of Relief is really interested in working out details for the best interest of his Department, why he should send a private investigator to Washington and Greene Counties some three or four weeks after a Committee from this House had been diligently making an investigation.—Surely an unusual procedure. Would it not appear to have been just common sense and ordinary courtesy to have taken the matter up with this Committee and had his private investigator work in unison with us. Incidentally, this investigator, who is receiving a good salary and expenses, is still investigating conditions in these Counties.

It appears unusual that the Director had not thought of this before our investigation began. The Director, in his recent interview and tirade against the members of this House, stated that only twenty-nine of our members had requested his weekly report; hence, his deduction that we were not interested in relief. I wish to refute that statement as being far from the facts. The members of this House are vitally interested in relief. They are, however, interested in practical relief. Our Director believes it can only be worked out by high sounding theories and statements. If relief is to be administered in this manner, would it not be well to place it under the direction of one of the well known mail order houses?

Mr. Speaker and members of this House, it is high time that we were demanding a show down in this relief situation. If the members of this House are to be treated as puppets and incompetents, we might just as well quit, go home and turn the work of this legislature over to his excellency, Robert L. Johnson, the crusading relief Director of Connecticut.

The SPEAKER. The Chair had in mind attempting to skin that particular cat, but I am afraid there isnt any fur left by this time.

REQUEST TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Beaver to make a statement? Are there objections? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, in the interest of fair play I would like to make some statements to the effect that Mr. Johnson, who has been so seriously accused here this evening, is not the type of man that he has been painted by the two preceding speakers.

If you will cooperate with Mr. Johnson,—and I realize this is an unpopular statement,—but nevertheless it is true,—Mr. Johnson will cooperate with you. If you want to fight, you can get a fight. You can go and talk business to him and he will talk business with you, and I want to say too,—and I defy successful contradiction, that when you are talking about Mr. Johnson, you are talking about Governor Earle, and President Roosevelt, because they brought him here.

It would appear to me that it is very much the manner in which you approach the gentleman as to whether or not you are going to get a proper hearing. If you go there with a chip on your shoulder, he will meet you. If you go there to talk business in a businesslike way, he will likewise meet you, so therefore I just don't like to have these things said about a man when he is not here to defend himself, and I am taking the side of the fellow that is not here, in the interests of fair play.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

SHORT TITLE

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law"

DECLARATION OF PUBLIC POLICY OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Section 2 As a guide to the interpretation and application of this Act the public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is declared to be as follows Economic insecurity due to unemployment is a serious menace to the health morals and welfare of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Involuntary unemployment is therefore a subject of general interest and concern which requires appropriate action by the Legislature to prevent its spread and to lighten its burden which now so often falls with crushing force upon the unemployed worker and his family Social security requires protection against this greatest hazard of our economic life This can be provided only by application of the insurance principle of sharing the risks and by the systematic accumulation of funds during periods of employment to provide benefits for periods of unemployment thus limiting the serious social consequences of poor relief assistance The Legislature therefore declares that in its considered judgment the public good and the general welfare of the employes in th Commonwealth of Pennsylvania require the enactment of this measure for the compulsory payment of contributions as unemployment reserve to be used for the benefit of persons unemployed through no fault of their own

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 28, 1935 No. 68

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 28, 1935

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Pro Tempore, John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Teach us, O God, certain great varities concerning Thee. May we know that Thou art. Although we cannot see Thee without natural eyes, yet Thou are more real than any human personality. May we know that Thou art near. Our fellow men can come no closer than bodily contact will permit, but Thou dost touch us soul to soul. May we know that Thou art mighty by coming in touch with the powers of nature which Thou hast made and dost control. May we realize Thy beauty as we behold the hills and valleys of earth clad in varied colored robes with the successive seasons. May we recognize Thy love as we daily receive Thy mercy and Thy forgiveness.

Assured of these cardinal truths, help us, our Father, to have unwavering faith in Thee. May our hearts ever sing Thy praises and may we render Thee constant and willing service.

Lead this Senate by Thy Spirit so that its acts and enactments may be well pleasing unto Thee, the God of all earth. Amen.

L. 1374), as amended, commonly known as the "Public Service Company Law."

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Utilities.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, I rise to a question of personal privilege in order to discuss and answer some of the remarks made in this Chamber last week by the Governor of this Commonwealth.

I do so because I believe that gross errors of statement and extravagant misrepresentations of fact, when made to this body, should not be permitted to go unchallenged or uncorrected by it. And I think that this obligation rests upon us, whether such misstatements arise out of a profound lack of knowledge of easily ascertained facts, or are made with an intent to mislead the public and thereby put this body in an entirely false light before the people of this State.

I believe, further, that a publicity stunt should be called by that name, and in discussing the one that was staged here last week I shall have occasion to refer to others of like character, in which the Governor of Pennsylvania has played the same role of false prophet and disseminator of flagrant misinformation.

In my opinion the time has arrived when the Republican majority in this Chamber should no longer, in a silence which might be interpreted as acquiescence, permit itself to be made the sounding-board for a ballyhoo of economic ignorance and misrepresentation, which has been decked out in the disguise of friend to labor, in order to achieve political objectives which would be to the lasting detriment of the wage-earners of Pennsylvania.

I believe, too, that the time has arrived to call the turn on all those whose chief purpose seems to be to foment discord between employers and employees; whose whole thesis seems to be that Industry is a crook and that the man who has risked his savings in order to produce commodities and pay wages and taxes is a pariah to be hounded to destruction—it not being explained, however, how the employer is to be destroyed without at the same time destroying the employee.

Mr. President, I make no qualification of this statement which I wish could reach the eye and the ear, and penetrate the inner consciousness and the natural intelligence of every worker, every professional man and woman, every merchant in this Commonwealth, that the real pariahs in this State—and I put the brand upon them—are those who never turned a hand to make Pennsylvania the industrial empire into which it has been welded by employers and employees engaged in a common enterprise—an industrial empire, Mr. President, which has been, and is today, the envy of those States which are overlooking no inducement in their efforts to entice our industries to remove from Pennsylvania and locate within their own borders.

I give ground to no man in my sincere desire to maintain the American standards of living, to spread them to all groups, and to raise those standards as rapidly as may be possible without destroying the very foundations on which they rest. But I am profoundly serious when I express the conviction that the worst blight upon this country today—the most prolific cause of social unrest and the most dangerous deterent of business recovery—is that too-abundant crop of greatest living experts on every conceivable legislative or economic problem; men and women who have never rubbed elbows with the hard practicalities of life, but who attempt to speak with authority on those subjects of which they know least; and who, if you will only take their word for it, have a sort of inspired mission and are Gods greatest gift to the American wage-earner.

Mr. President, we all recognize that no man can be right all the time and wholly free of mistakes and errors. But I submit that it is a serious situation when one who attempts to formulate important and far-reaching policies can be wrong a very great deal of the time, and in respect of matters on which this Legislature and the people at large are entitled to accurate facts and not misleading misinformation. And I challenge the instance of a single case, of the many in which the Governor has been proved to be very far wrong, in which he has publicly admitted the inaccuracy of his facts and figures, and thus attempted to correct the general misapprehension which his erroneous statement created.

On April 23rd, in a most revealing address dealing not only with industrial and economic conditions in this Commonwealth, but also with national policies which obviously and undeniably are undermining the productive enterprises of this State and of the nation, Senator Reed, of Dauphin County, set forth a gross misrepresentation which the Governor had repeated and reiterated, time and again, in efforts to bolster his demands for new taxes amounting to more than $200,000,000 a biennium—a program which the people and the press of this State almost unanimously condemned and repudiated.

In statements prepared for the newspapers, in speeches delivered at various places throughout the State, and in so-called fire-side chats over a Statewide radio hook-up, the Governor had informed this body and the people of Pennsylvania that there were two million persons on the relief rolls of this State. He also asserted, time and again, that if his $203,000,000 tax program were not enacted, those people would starve. Neither statement was true.

Senator Reed pointed out that for the entire period of which the Governor was speaking, the average number of persons on relief was not 2,000,000, but only 1,690,000, or 310,000 less than stated by the Governor. No denial of that statement could be made, and since that time the State Relief Administration has brought its figures down to approximately those given by Senator Reed. But from the Governor there has not been one word, either to this body or to the public, in explanation or retraction of his artificial figures, padded to the extent of 20%.

Senator Reed revealed something even more significant, however, when he set forth that relief costs, per person, under the first three months of the Earle Administration, were 70% higher than the average for the whole year of 1934, and 120% higher than for the corresponding first three months of 1934. There has been no denial of that statement, either by the Governor or his Relief Administrator, and I agree with the suggestion of Senator Reed that the probable explanation of the padded figures as to the number on relief was that they were used to confuse this body and mislead the public, and thereby distract attention from the scandalously increased costs of relief under this Administration.

Mr. President, it was clear to most of us in this Chamber—and I believe it is now clear to a majority of the people of Pennsylvania—that the exorbitant tax program demanded by the Governor was not in fact based upon a budget which established such revenue requirements, but that the budget itself was patterned to fit, and presumably to justify, the unwarranted total of new revenue which the Governor and his political advisors wanted.

Nevertheless, in behalf of that program, and in an effort to jam it through this body, the Governor told us, and he told the people of Pennsylvania, that the Federal Relief Administration demanded that this Legislature make provision for $5,000,000 a month for relief, for a full two years, and hence if the Earle tax program was not enacted, all Federal relief money to Pennsylvania would be shut off and 2,000,000 persons—again that 2,000,000—would face starvation. In comparison with that statement, what are the facts?

In the face of the most violent, vituperative and irresponsible abuse ever aimed at any group in either branch of the Legislature of Pennsylvania—in the face of open efforts by the Governor of this Commonwealth to create public disorder or worse—in the face of deliberate attempts made by the Administration to induce supposedly aroused citizens to march upon the capitol, in an effort to intimidate members of this body—I am proud to say that the exhorbitant tax program was defeated; that the requirements of relief and the demands of the Federal Relief Administrator were met; and that the people of this Commonwealth were saved some 90 millions of new taxes which the Governor was determined to load upon them.

Now, Mr. President, the Governor appeared in this Chamber last Monday night to urge the passage by the Senate of certain other legislation which he is urging in the guise of friend of labor. This legislation embraces ten proposed laws, and I call your attention to the fact that at the time these bills were introduced in the House, the Governor appeared there to give them his blessing. And again on that important occasion his publicity was largely made up of inexcusably misleading misinformation.

He told the House, and by that means the general public, that he advocated these bills because other nearby and comparable industrial States have them; and he made the assertion that inasmuch as such laws had not injured either the industries or the wage-earners of those States, they would not injure the industries or the wage-earners of this State.

He specifically mentioned Massachusetts as a State whose industries and wage-earners had not been injured by such legislation, and such increased costs of production, and such kinds of taxation, as he has demanded.

Mr. President, there has been available for months a careful compilation of official facts and figures showing just what has happened to Massachusetts—its industries, its workers, its taxpayers and its communities—as a direct result of just such legislation and taxation, all of which, by the way, was enacted under this same guise of being the friend of the worker.

That study has been widely commented upon by the press of this and other States. I understand that a copy of it was sent to every member of this Legislature and every member of the Legislature of Massachusetts. I am informed that is has been requested by probably half the colleges, universities and libraries of the country, and by such informed groups as national trade and labor organizations, and various governmental agencies such as the United States Department of Labor. But I also am informed, Mr. President, that despite this wide publication, reading and review, there has not been a single question or denial of a single fact, figure or conclusion in that study, by any social worker, labor leader or other person in this or any other State, so far as is known here.

And what are the facts, as established by the authoritative figures there given? I can summarize only briefly but remember, please, that these statements are from the records, and have not been denied, even by the labor leaders who were most active in promoting the legislation.

More than 2,500 industrial plants have either gone out of business or have removed to other States.

Approximately 200,000 wage-earners who otherwise might have retained work, even during the depression, were thus thrown out of employment.

During the last five months, 5,000 more have been added to the number of unemployed.

The prevailing average annual wage in industry—and I wish every wage-earner and every merchant in Pennsylvania would compare this established fact with the statements made by Governor Earle—the prevailing average annual wage in industry dropped to 18% below that in Pennsylvania.

Abandoned mills and factories not only do not pay wages, but they do not pay taxes, so that with the disappearance of many large taxpayers, the remaining taxables are paying rates that have increased by as much as 40% as the collapse of industry has continued.

Such previously prosperous communities as Fall River and New Bedford—essentially manufacturing centers—went completely bankrupt and their financial administration had to be taken over by the State.

Yet the Governor of Pennsylvania would try to force the industries and the wage-earners of this State down that path of disaster and destruction, giving this Senate and the people of this State his personal assurance that it's all perfectly O.K. and that nothing injurious or adverse can happen.

In the same speech in the House, to which I have referred, he specifically mentioned New Jersey as having all of these laws and thus affording conspicuous evidence that they could not be harmful, either to the industries themselves or the workers employed.

Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, an inquiry of the head of the Department of Labor in that State developed the fact that New Jersey has exactly one of those laws, that one being the requirement that wages be paid at intervals of not more than two weeks. Another instance of utterly misleading information—wrong to the trifling extent of 90%.

Speaking in this Chamber, Monday night of last week, the Governor specifically mentioned New Jersey as having a Minimum Wage Law, after which this State might well pattern its legislation.

Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, the State of New Jersey has no Minimum Wage Law, and I am moved to wonder when, if ever, the Governor of Pennsylvania knows what he is talking about when he attempts to disseminate so-called facts and information to this Senate and to the people of this State.

I call your attention now to the Workmen's Compensaion Bills in the Committee on Labor and Industry of the Senate, and especially to that known as House Bill 1199 (Senate Bill 1159), generally referred to as the Administration's Workmen's Compensation Bill. I shall not go into that subject in any great detail now, because the proponents' side of the case has been widely publicized for weeks, and every argument of the oppoinents, as presented during the public hearing by the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry, last Tuesday night, is now in the posession of each Senator in printed form.

However, I do wish to emphasize this highly important and very significant fact. The statistician for the proponents of this bill, and their most highly valued witness, was Mr. Gregory C. Kelly, Manager of the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau.

Mr. Kelly, in his testimony before the House Committee several weeks ago, gave what he now admits were wholly incorrect and misleading figures as to the added costs which this proposed measure would saddle upon the employers of Pennsylvania. On the basis of those erroneous and misleading figures, Democratic newspapers carried scathing editorials in denunciation of the employers' estimates of costs under the present and proposed Acts.

But when Mr. Kelly appeared before the Senate Committee, last Tuesday night, with a prepared statement on the subject, his opening remark was to admit that his original figures were decidely wrong and that this proposed Act would considerably more than double the present cost of workmen's compensation to the employers of Pennsylvania.

He conceded that a present cost of 26½ millions a year to the employers would be increased by at least 30 millions or 112%.

Mr. President, I am as anxious as any member of this Legislature to widen the scope of our Compensation Law and to increase its benefits to the injured, up to the point where the burden on our productive enterprises will not be destructive of jobs and wages; but I agree with that witness before the Senate Committee who said:

> "Of what benefit would it be to the employes of Pennsylvania to receive the empty promise of advanced compensation, when, as a matter of fact, the positions which would yield that to them shall have been taken away from them by the shift of industry?"

And what is the position of our industry in this Commonwealth? Our production falls into three major classes—manufacturing, mining, and agriculture. This bill would hit all three.

I think we will all agree that agriculture in this State already is carrying the maximum financial load that can be put upon it—a substantial part of that load resulting from the Federal Processing Taxes out of which our farmers get only a pain in the neck, while helping to pay the subsidy that is handed to their western competitors for not planting crops.

Yet, for the first time in Pennsylvania, the farmers would be brought under the requirements of the Workmen's Compensation Law and would be compelled to insure their liability, even to their own children, or be fined "not less than $100 nor more than $300 for each offense, and every day a separate offense."

The story of anthracite is the story of an industrial greatness which is fast disappearing; the story of an industry in which wage, compensation and other production costs have been pushed up to a point where the product is steadily losing its markets in competition with oil, gas, electricity, etc.

It is the story of an industry whose output has shrunk from 90,000,000 tons to 50,000,000 tons, a decrease of 44%, within a period of 10 years; whose working capital has dwindled from $120,000,000 to only $10,000,000, being only 8% now of what it was 10 years ago—an industry in which thousand already have lost their jobs.

And yet, Mr. President, under this bill which is being pushed by the so-called friends of labor, the compensation costs in that industry would be more than doubled—and the only suggestion that can be offered by those promoting these job-destroying proposals is that this increased cost be added as a further boost to prices which are steadily cutting down the comsumption of anthracite and thereby constantly decreasing the number of jobs in that industry.

In the bituminous industry of Pennsylvania we find almost the same sort of situation. The soft coal mines of this State employ now about 128,000 wage-earners, with an annual payroll of approximately $117,000,000. But call your attention to these facts:

West Virginia is the nearest, and at the same time th most aggressive, competitor to the bituminous industry this State. In 1918 Pennsylvania mined 180,000,000 to and West Virginia 90,000,000 tons, which was a Pennsy vania advantage of 100% over West Virginia.

But in 1934 West Virginia mined 97,000,000 tons, an Pennsylvania only 90,000,000, which was a change from Pennsylvania advantage of 100% to a Pennsylvania dis advantage of 7%.

Compensation costs the bituminous operators of We Virginia 24% less than the cost per ton now imposed upo the bituminous operators of Pennsylvania by the prese Act. The purchase of millions of tons is now shifting fro one section to another on a price difference of less than cents a ton. But this proposed law, advanced as a sup posed benefit to workers, would more than double th present compensation cost borne by the bituminous indus try, the best estimate being that the actual increase woul be 7¾c a ton. With Pennsylvania's production figures al ready so radically changed as they are, in respect of We Virginia, can anyone argue that the effect of this measur further increasing the Pennsylvania price by more tha 50% of the present differential on which millions of to are shifting, could be other than a tremendous increase unemployment in the bituminous regions of Pennsylvania

Our utilities, Mr. President, are the subject of a de structive and many-sided attack by the Federal Govern ment, which, for its viciousness and insidiousness alik is probably unparalleled in American history. Neverthe less, they are assuming a heavy share of additional Stat taxation under the compromise agreement by which th people of Pennsylvania were saved some $90,000,000 i taxes which would have been imposed under the pro posals so insistently demanded by Governor Earle.

In the Administration-controlled lower House, two rail road bills, one to increase the number constituting a crew the other to limit the length of trains, would have im posed upon the railroads operating in this State an adde annual burden of something like $50,000,000 a year.

What of our manufacturing industries, which are th bed-rock of our whole economic system?

I cannot help but call attention to the spectacle whic we witnessed in this Senate two weeks ago. The need of the present emergency necessitated large increased taxe on our manufacturing interests an utilities. When amend ments were offered to these revenue-raising bills limitin their incidence to the emergency what happened? Th Democratic minority in this Senate to a man, with th leaders of their party watching the vote from the side lines gave notice that as far as they were concerned thes additional burdensome taxes were not temporary but i they had their way they would become permanent. I is difficult to understand the argument which has bee so frequently advanced by the Administration that the are not interested in cuting down taxes unless it can b shown that our taxes are greater than those of othe States. Mr. President I feel that Pennsylvanians shoul be proud that good housekeeping in this State under Republican Administration has resulted in our taxes bein lower than those of our neighboring States. Lets kee them that way rather than try to embrace the New Dea theory that the virtue of a Government is determined by the size of its taxes.

"Mr. President, I present here a balance sheet accounting of Pennsylvania's manufacturing industries, in official figures, in each instance indicating the source from which they were obtained.

For the following items the manufacturing industries of this State now pay yearly:

Raw materials, fuel, containers, purchased electrical energy, etc (U. S. Census of Manufacturers)	2,000	Millions of Dollars
Wages (U. S. Dept. of Labor)	815	Millions of Dollars
Salaries (U. S. Census of Mfgrs.)	150	Millions of Dollars
State and Local Taxes (Penna. Dept. of Revenue)	25½	Millions of Dollars
Federal Taxes (Penna. Dept. of Revenue	12½	Millions of Dollars
Rents (Penna. Dept. of Revenue)	11½	Millions of Dollars
New State Taxes, Unemployed Relief	22½	Millions of Dollars
Freight, insurance, interest, depreciation, advertising, and Processing Taxes which cannot be passed on, grouped at low estimate of 6% of total gross value of production ..	180	Millions of Dollars
Total	3,217	Millions of Dollars

As against this, United States Government figures show that the present annual value of the products of Pennsylvania manufacturing industries is 3,000 millions of dollars.

The loss is 217 millions a year, or more than 7% of Total Gross Income.

The adoption of the Federal Security Bills now pending will add 10 millions more to the cost column of Pennsylvania manufacturing industries for 1936; and if this Administration Compensation Bill should be passed in anything like its present form, it would add another 25 millions a year to that branch of productive enterprise.

The loss, Mr. President, would be more than 250 millions of dollars per year, or approximately 8½% of Total Gross Income.

The suggestion is impossible, and it cannot be made to accord with logic or common sense or an honest and decent regard for the welfare of the wage-earners of Pennsylvania.

The feeble proposal offered by the proponents of these so-called Social Bills is that the increased costs resulting from them be added into prices. Mr. President, I think I have shown how ridiculous that suggestion is, in the case of both the anthracite and the bituminous industries; and I am sure that it must be equally apparent that it cannot be done by our manufacturing industries, competing with similar industries in other States which operate under no such handicaps.

Senator Reed, in the speech to which I have referred, gave figures of the U. S. Department of Labor to show that as between January 1933 and January 1935 the manufacturing industries of this State had increased their number of workers by 31%; the per capita weekly wages of those workers by 25%; and total payrolls by 62%; so that by March of this year those enterprises were employing 75% of the number employed in the boom year of 1929, to whom they were paying an average wage having a purchasing power equal to the industrial workers' purchasing power in the peak year of 1929.

They have done that while operating, in the aggregate, at a substantial loss. Their burdens have been greatly increased by the new taxes for unemployment relief—a Capital Stock Tax and a 6% Tax on Net Incomes. They cannot do more, and anything further that may be attempted in that respect would be a direct blow at jobs and at the wage-earners of this Commonwealth.

It is true that our mines cannot move. But as I have shown in figures which cannot be dodged or denied, when production costs are forced beyond those prevailing in competing States, the business goes elsewhere, production declines, and jobs are destroyed. The injury does not stop with the industry itself, or with those who are thus thrown out of work, but extends to all who previously were the direct or indirect beneficiaries of the purchasing power created by that industry.

Manufacturing enterprises, however, can and do move, as has been conclusively shown by the disastrous consequences of the enactment by Massachusetts of just such restrictive and burdensome legislation and taxes as have been demanded by this Administration. And the bids are being made for our enterprises right now, with inducements that stand in marked contrast to the policies which we have been asked to approve.

In that connection, as I reach my conclusion, permit me to read you a letter just received by one of the large manufacturing corporations of this State. It is from a concern which acts as agent or middle-man between States which are seeking additional industries, and such industries as might be prevailed upon to remove to such States. It reads:

> "Are you interested in a change of location—a location that will undoubtedly lower your production costs, eliminate troublesome labor complexes, as well as burdensome taxation?
> "We wish to call your attention to a timely proposition which a community has authorized us to submit to a substantial industry:
> "1. They will construct a suitable building, one-story, sprinklered, on track, site subject to selection.
> "2. Industry to have free rent until they have paid out $1,000,000 in wages. At that time they get title to the property, free and clear.
> "3. Industry to be exempted from city and county taxes.
> "4. Community will, at own expense, conduct a training school under direction of industry's own instructors (whose salaries community will pay) to bring labor to a fairly high state of proficiency."

Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, our industries, our workers and our communities are confronting a mighty serious situation, and none of us should attempt longer to dodge that fact. Not only are other States making the most attractive bids for our Pennsylvania industries, but conditions and impending taxes are such in this country that it is going to be a paying proposition for our manufacturers to abandon their American mills and factories, build plants abroad, employ foreign labor, and ship their goods into this country at a lower price but a higher profit than is possible under the conditions that our Federal and State Governments are creating.

I say that the time has come to look facts in the face, to husband our industries and protect our workers, and to call the turn on this dishonest and misleading ballyhoo which attempts to say that these pleasant-sounding but destructive proposals are or could be for the advantage of our wage-earners at this time or under these conditions.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1295 as follows:

An Act to ratify confirm and validate as debts of the municipality improvement bonds or obligations by any other name issued by cities of the third class for the payment of the cost of public improvements for the purpose of paving or macadamizing or otherwise improving the roadway of any highway street or alley or part thereof in any such city of the third class or for the payment of the cost of construction of any sewer or sewers which improvement bonds or obligations were to rest alone for their security and payment upon assessments upon property for such cost and to authorize the city of the third class to fund such debts by the isuance of bonds and to provide for their payment

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever heretofore any city of the third class has issued improvements bonds or obligations by any other name for the payment of the cost of a public improvement for the purpose of paving or macadamizing or otherwise improving the roadway of any highway street or alley or part thereof in any such city which bonds or obligations were to rest alone for their security and payment upon assessments upon the abutting real estate according to the front foot rule or according to benefits such bonds and obligations are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid and binding obligations and debts of the city That whenever heretofore any city of the third class has issued improvement bonds or obligations by any other name for the payment of the cost of a public improvement for the purpose of constructing a sewer or sewers in any such city which bonds or obligations were to rest alone for their security and payment upon assessments upon the abutting property according to the front foot or the assessed valuation of such property for city purposes or according to benefits such bonds and obligations are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid and binding obligations and debts of the city

Section 2 Whenever any such improvement bonds or obligations have matured but remain unpaid and uncancelled or are about to mature and become payable or whenever any such city of the third class shall have the option to redeem or pay any such bonds or obligations or whenever holders of any such bonds or obligations which may not have matured or become redeemable are willing to surrender the whole or any part of any issue of such bonds or obligations it shall be lawful for the city to issue either registered or coupon bonds with or without coupons attached to be designated "refunding improvement bonds" bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum and payable at any time or times not exceeding twenty years from the date thereof for the purpose of funding and extending the time of payment of the debts represented by such outstanding bonds or obligations and the interest thereon which said refunding improvement bonds may be sold for cash at public sale or exchanged for the outstanding bonds or obligations and the coupons evidencing the accrued interest thereon but no such refunding improvement bonds shall be isued and sold or exchanged except to pay redeem or to exchange for a like amount in par value of such outstanding bonds or obligations and the accrued interest thereon and such outstanding bonds or obligations and the interest coupons when paid redeemed or received in exchange shall be immediately cancelled Such refunding improvement bonds shall be exempt from taxation except for state purposes

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall impair the right and duty of any city of the third class to collect from the owners of the real estate abutting on any highway street or alley or part thereof in such city any and all assessments levied for the payment of the cost of paving macadamizing or otherwise improving the same or to enforce the lien of such assessments but the right and duty to collect such assessments and to enforce such lien shall remain and continue unimmpaired as now provided by law Nothing in this act contained shall impair the right and duty of the city to collect from the owners of the property abutting upon any such sewer improvement any and all assessments levied for the payment of constructing any such sewer or sewers or to enforce the lien of such assessments but the right and duty to collect such assessments and to enforce such liens shall remain and continue unimpaired as now provided by law

Section 4 While any of such refunding improvement bonds remain outstanding and unpaid there shall be annually levied assessed and collected by ad valorem tax upon all the taxable property within such city of the third class an amount sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of the issuance of said bonds

Section 5 Before or at the time of issuing any refunding improvement bonds authorized by this act the city of the third class issuing the same shall create a sinking-fund for the payment of the interest on said bonds and the principal thereof as and when the same respectively become due and payable which said sinking-fund is hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the debt thereby incurred It shall be the duty of the city to pay into such sinking fund all ad valorem taxes authorized by this act as and when collected It shall be the further duty of the city to pay into such sinking-fund all assessments applicable to the payment of the bonds or obligations authorized by this act to be funded less the cost of collection as and when such assessments shall be collected and received by the city and the amount to be raised by the taxes provided for in section four of this act shall be reduced accordingly

Section 6 In the event that under the provisions of this act the debt of any city of the third class incurred without the assent of the electors thereof would be increased to an amount exceeding two per centum upon the assessed valuation of the taxable property within such city the question of the increase of such indebtedness beyond the two per centum debt permissible without the assent of the electors shall be submitted to the electors thereof at a public election in the manner provided by law and if at such election the electors shall consent to such increase of indebtedness then refunding improvement bonds may be issued as provided in this act

Section 7 This act shall be full and complete authority for the issuance of bonds as herein authorized without reference to any other law

Section 8 If any part of this act shall be declared unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction the remainder of this act shall remain in full force and effect

Section 9 This act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor

Agreeably to order,

The Senate preceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 00, entitled:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 458, as follows:

An Act relating to the playing of the game of polo on Sunday prohibiting such games on Sunday before certain hours and also after certain hours where the electors of a municipality or township vote against the same providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the word "municipality" as used in this act shall be construed to include every city borough town and township of this Commonwealth

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to stage or engage in the playing of the game of polo regardless whether a charge or admission thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct or stage the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday before the hour of two o'clock post meridian and after the hour of seven o'clock post meridian

It shall not be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to stage or engage in playing the game of polo regardless whether a charge or an admission thereto or incidental thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct or stage the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday after the hour of two o'clock post meridian and before the hour of seven o'clock post meridian unless the voters in the municipality have first voted against the playing of polo on Sunday during such hours in any municipality wherein the voters have voted against the playing of polo on Sunday it shall be unlawful thereafter to stage or engage in the playing of said game on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and seven o'clock post meridian

Any person copartnership association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and in default of the payment of such fine and costs of prosecution such person or any member or agent of any copartnership or association or any officer or agent of any corporation responsible for such violation shall be imprisoned for a period of not more than ten days

The third section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 3 At any general or municipal election there may be submitted in the manner hereinafter provided a question to determine the will of the electors of any municipality in this Commonwealth with respect to the playing of polo on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and seven o'clock post meridian Whenever electors equal in number to at least five per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in the municipality at the last preceding general or municipal election shall in writing petition the corporate authorities of any municipality to cause a question to be submitted to the electors of such municipality at any general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days after the filing of such petition the corporate authorities shall if the petition is sufficiently signed certify the same to the county commissioners who shall cause such question to be submitted to the electors of said municipality at said general or municipal election Such question shall be in the following form

Do you oppose the playing of polo on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and seven o'clock post meridian	Yes
	No

The said question shall be printed on separate official ballots in bound form by the county commissioners of each county and sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of the county so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purposes

Section 4 The votes cast on such question shall be counted by the election officers and returns thereof made by them and by election officers where voting machines are used to the prothonotary of the county who shall lay the same before the return board for computation at the same time and in the same manner as other returns The return board shall compute the said returns and certify the results of the vote cast on the question to the corporate authorities of the municipality

Any such election shall be governed by the election laws of the Commonwealth and all penalties provided by said laws shall apply to such elections

Section 5 In any municipality the will of the electors with respect to the playing of the game of polo on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and seven o'clock post meridian may after a prior referendum but not oftener than once in three years be ascertained at a general or municipal election and the question as provided in this act shall be submitted to the electors of any municipality upon demand in writing of petitioners in the manner provided in section three hereof After any such vote the playing of the game of polo on Sunday after the hour of two o'clock post meridian and before the hour of seven o'clock post meridian shall be lawful or unlawful under section two of this act in accordance with the findings as expressed by the voters at such election

Section 6 Section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (three Smith Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation" be and the same is hereby repealed insofar as it prohibits the playing of the game of polo on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and seven o'clock post meridian

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1042 (House Bill No. 153), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have tried at all times to be impartial in matters, and especially to steer myself clear of partisanship. The bill that is now before the Senate for consideration is an amendment to the Constitution, and it is a bill similar to one already passed by this Senate sometime ago, on which I voted 'no', and I intend to vote 'no' on this resolution also, for I am unalterably opposed to piece-meal building up of a constitution which ought to be revised entirely. I intend to be consistent in that idea, and I think many of my colleagues feel the same way on this resolution as merely a piece-meal building up of a Constitution which ought to be revised entirely, and I think for that reason this resolution ought to be defeated.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the enlightenment of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I just like to call the Senate's attention to the fact that since 1921, when the last Constitutional Convention was held and a new Constitution drafted, there have been thirty amendments to the present Constitution, and it is very interesting to know, in the light of what the Senator says, to the effect that we ought to have a new Constitution, that only seven of the thirty different items covered by the amendments were taken care of by the Constitution that was drawn in 1921. In other words, in 1921, when those men, recognied leaders of thought in this State, drafted a new Constitution, there were only seven of the thirty different matters which they were able to foresee as necessary. It seems to me that that pretty effectually answers the argument that if we had a new Constitution you would find amendments coming in every year on matters that were not thought of or dreamed of in the Convention assembled.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in the absence of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, who was sponsor in this Senate a few weeks ago of a similar resolution to the one now under consideration, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.
